Happy New Year

To the "Babe" - - - - -

By George Sharpe Extension soil conservationist, West Virginia University, Morgantown

The fire was burning low, but for some reason I just couldn't go to bed. And then, out of the misty, cold darkness, I saw a figure. He was dressed in black, and you would not have noticed that bent Old Man if it hadn't been for his great white beard and the strange tools he was carrying. The tools were odd: one was an old scythe with a broken and badly nicked blade, and the other was an hourglass with only a few grains of sand left in it. He looked neither to the right nor left, but kept going. . .a tired, bent, but unforgettable figure.

And just as he was disappearing into the night, a great light suddenly appeared. And there in the center of that light was a new-born "Babe," dressed in three-cornered pants.

As the Old Man passed the Babe, I got the impression that he paused for only a fraction of a second as if to pass some warning to this newcomer, but instead he moved on out of sight.

This Babe in three-cornered pants seemed to grow and as he approached I could see that he, too, had an hourglass, but his was full of sand. I had the feeling that this youngster should be warned of the rough, crooked path he was starting on. But one look at that beautiful face with those shining eyes, which shown even brighter than the light around him, told me that my advice was not needed. There was no danger or fear in those eyes, only courage and love and faith.

So it is that we watch the birth of a new year.

And we can't help but wonder what the year of 1959 will bring to mankind. Will man reach the moon? Yes? that question seems so important . . but is it more important than learning to live on this earth of ours, using our God-given resources wisely, and learning to get along with our fellow men?

If this Babe in the three-cornered pants could bring an answer to the angels of some 2,000 years ago when they sang of "Peace on Earth and Good Will to Men," then 1959 would, indeed, be the greatest year of all!

Payroll Tax Will Increase in 1959

The new year will bring a payroll tax boost of about $2 a month for most of the 75 million working Americans covered by Social Security

For the 12 million persons now on the retired rolls, 1959 will bring a 7 percent increase in old age pension checks.

The new requirements in the law are the work of the last Congress.

Maximum pension for a retired man and his wife, both past 65, will rise from $162.80 to $174 a month. Couples retiring in the future will be able to draw up to $190 a month.

The cost of increased benefits will be borne by active workers and employers who are required to match their employees' tax contribution.

Forms Are Mailed

Cattle Raisers To Meet January 6th

The results of a study of the outbreak of tetany in beef cattle will be outlined at a public meeting for beef cattle raisers on Tuesday, January 6, it was announced by James A. McHenry, county agent.

During the outbreak a research team from the University of Maryland compromised of representatives of the various departments and the Maryland Livestock Sanitary service, visited Garrett county to collect data. Findings were compiled and Dr. I. C. Hunt, director of the Agricultural Experiment station at College Park, has arranged for Dr. Leffel, Dr. Plumer and Prof. Ellington to present their findings at an open meeting. The meeting will be held at the vocational agriculture classroom of Southern High school at 7:30 p. m. on January 6.

McHenry urged all beef producers to attend since there would be a discussion about what is going to be done from now on regarding the disease.

In this year of the 49th State, everyone wants to know more about Alaska. An outstanding new book is "Moonlight at Midday", in which Sally Carrighar describes Alaska as few outsiders ever see it: its animals, ghosts and people, Eskimos and white settlers, its wildlife and villages and cities.

"Mid-century Alaska" by the U. S. Department of the Interior, and "Alaska - the 49th State - in Pictures" are brief, up-to-date summaries of information about Alaska.

Life in the more remote regions of Alaska is vividly pictured in "O Rugged Land of Gold" and "Home on the Bears Domain" by Martha Martin, and in "We Live in Alaska" and "Flight of the Arctic Tern" by Constance Helmericks.

Many attractive books on Alaska for young people have recently been published. These include, among others, "Picture Story of Alaska" by O'Neill, "Alaska: the Land and the People" by Butler, "Leo of Alaska" by Agnew, "Reindeer Rescue" by Rajaport, "Call of the White Fox" by Lindquist, and "Year of Enchantment" by Pinkerton.

The Library will be open all day Wednesday Dec 31, but will be closed at 5:00, and remain closed all day on Thursday, New Year's day.

Christmas Business Is "Fair To Good"

While Christmas business among the stores of Oakland was not on a par with that of last year, merchants generally conceded that it had been "good to fair," with a few store owners saying that the volume was above that of 1957.

One business man estimated that his sales had dropped from three to ten percent during the Christmas period. Others indicated a three or four percent increase.

One merchant said that the week before Christmas he thought business would hit bottom, but that it suddenly picked up. "If I had had two or three more days we would have gone over the top," he exclaimed.

Grocery stores were in the main good or slightly better than last year, in gross sales, although one owner indicated that his business had decreased slightly.

Merchants generally conceded that practical items were much more in demand than the luxurious items or heavy equipment items. Clothing in general sold well. All in all, people ate just as well as in former years but were a little more careful where they spent their money. People received the usual number of gifts generally, but they were just a little less costly.

Merchants and business men of the area appeared to be fairly well satisfied with the outcome.

Some business men said that the entire year's picture might show a decrease due to the unusually cool and wet early summer which kept the summer visitors at a minimum.

Leaders In W. Md. Rifle League Win

Leaders in the Western Maryland Rifle League scored victories in their recent matches held at Cumberland and Oakland ranges.

The smallbore competitors were reshuffled this year, the highest men on the teams being named captains of four new teams and their season's records were scanned in making the placings this year.

The league set up four teams, the Sentries, Apaches, Pioneers and Scouts. The Sentries and Pioneers downed the Apaches and Scouts in the recent matches. They lead the league with five victories against one defeat. The Scouts have won two and lost four while the Apaches have lost all six matches.

The Sentries defeated the Apaches 1,114 to 1,075. Carroll Miller had high score for the victor with 281. Pioneers won 1,116 to 1,110 with Norm White leading the Pioneers with 285. Heading the Scouts was George Porter's 285. He was high man in all four teams.

The scores of the Oakland shooters in the sitting, kneeling and standing positions were: C. E. Miller, 100, 91, 90, total 281. Also firing for the Sentries as extras was C. Calhoun Apaches Merle McClintock fired as an extra Pioneers: N. O. White, 97, 97, 91, 285; C. L. Miller, Jr., 99, 87, 97, 273. Scouts: G. L. Porter, 98, 98, 90, 286; E. E. Michael, 95, 97, 84, 276. G. Helbig also fired as extra on the Scouts.

Prior to the reorganization meeting early this fall Mt. Top, consisting of Oakland gunners was one of the winning teams of the league. Other teams were Hercules, Fort Hill and LaVale.

Pet Deer Adopted By Hugh Ream Family

Not everyone has a deer for a pet—but occasionally one becomes tame enough to domesticate.

Such a one is "Buckie," a white tail that came some months ago to the old Bray farm near Swallow Falls, and who subsequently was adopted by Hugh Ream, who resides there

During deer season, dead deer are usually the big attraction, but not here. Many hunters came from miles around to see Buckie, the domestic deer, who would eat out of your hand—as long as it had something in it to eat. Feeding deer isn't much of a problem after they reach the button buck stage, for they will eat most anything you give them, from steak to forage. Buckie's idea of a delicacy is drinking milk, or eating cigars or cigarettes.

Buckie runs free to do as he pleases, with his companion, a small brown pup who grew up with him. The pair perform a number of mischevious antics and at one time ran through a glass door while pursuing each other around the house.

The deer also plays with the Ream children who think having a real live Rudolph of their own is like reading fairy tales which have come true—even though his nose isn't red.

Legal Question Will Be Argued

A legal question in the trial of W. Ewald Ruehl, former Deep Creek Lake cottage owner, charged with receiving stolen goods, will be argued before Associate Judge Ned C. Fraley in the Circuit court at Oakland, starting at 11 o'clock Wednesday.

The question is whether a statement or confession can be admitted as evidence in Maryland without any corroborative testimony. That point was raised at Ruehl's trail December 22. At that time Judge Fraley requested the opposing attorneys to submit written memorandums on the question before the end of December.

These memorandums will be submitted by both sides and Judge Fraley will then hear the oral argumenis. S. R. Pagenhardt, the retiring states attorney, will present the state's argument. The defense attorneys are Dwight Stover, Oakland, who soon will succeed Mr. Pagenhardt as state's attorney, and William A. Gunter, Cumberland

Ruehl made three statements in the presence of Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police at LaVale. Sgt. Baker read the statements at the trial on December 22.

Arvlauches of Snow and Democrats Highlight 1958

News of the year 1958 in Garrett county was featured by two avalanches—one of snow early in the year, and one of Democratic votes late in the year.

In between times, things proceeded much as in any one of the past dozen or more twelve-month periods. But there were a few important or unusual events, listed chronologically. How many of them stir memories?

January

Winter sports, especially at Marsh Mountain, dominated the month. Early in January, the local slope had the only snow in the east, later in the month, it was announced that the State Ski championships would be held here.

But more serious business was taking place. The County Commissioners set the tax rate at $2.00, the same as before, and reported expenditures of $952,608 in 1957.

February

February was a month leading up to an icy climax. Early in the month, the county experienced what was described as "the worst blizzard in years," which closed schools and generally tied things up tight. But a week later the county was almost stopped cold when another storm, worse than before, hit with stubborn fury and hung around to dump a total of 66 inches of snow on the area in a period of two weeks or so

The snow, however, was soon to melt under the heat of political activity which began about this time as primary election candidates began to file.

March

Primary filing was complete—49 Republicans and 21 Democrats seeking state and county offices. Later, however, six of the candidates decided to vote in favor of withdrawing their candidacies.

Russell Smith was re-elected Mayor of Oakland this month. Death claimed Trial Magistrate Earl Friend. The March Grand Jury returned 10 indictments.

April

The school board announced plans for a band room at Southern High school.

Willis Shaffer was elected president of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce and Fike's Dairy announced it would reopen the former Imperial plant in Oakland.

Earl Franklin was sentenced to 12 years for the burglary of the F. G. Fox and Son store in Friendsville.

May

Gas production was up again for the second time this year. The two Oakland banks were completing large scale modernization programs with the Garrett National holding open house. The tax rate for Oakland remained at 90 cents.

But the big news in May was the primary election, where voting machines were used for the first time and where Clifford Friend captured the Republican nomination for State Senator.

County high schools proposed to graduate 190 seniors, 98 at Northern and 92 at Southern

June

Willard Hawkins was reappointed superintendent of schools and announced the appointment of 178 teachers for the next year. Rev. Charles Godwin was named pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church. Summer activities were in full Legislators Asked To Support Research Lab in Western Md.

Garrett county's legislators were asked last Tuesday night to support proposals for locating a branch of the Department of Research and Education in Western Maryland.

The plan already has been endorsed by the Allegany county delegation and the Board of Natural Resources has approved the preliminary report and endorsed further investigation of its possibilities.

Don A Emerson, instructor in conservation and natural resources at Frostburg State Teachers college, outlined the proposal at a meeting in Accident school before State Senator-elect Bernard I. Conder, Sr., and the Garrett County delegation composed of Leslie E. Savage, chairman, and Elbert Buckel and Elza E. Bray.

The Western Maryland branch of the State Department of Research and Education would help increase the productivity of natural resources, including game, fish, water, forests and recreation land according to Dr. L. Eugene Cronin, director.

It would serve as a place for both formal and informal conservation education and as a research facility to help solve natural resources problems in this area.

Representing the state department at the meeting were Dr. Vaughn Flyger, state biologist, and Byron L. Ashbaugh, education assistant.

Urging support for the area branch were William H. Johnson, district forester; Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden; and Frank T. Powers, chief of the Bureau of Mines. Officials of the Western Maryland Wildlife Federation explained how such a facility would help area sportsmen.

No legislation is needed to establish the branch research and education facility, but funds would have to be included in the supplementary budget.

Winter Has Lull

Garrett county is enjoying a lull in the winter season, after having experienced a white Christmas and a fifteen below zero temperature during the past week

The 15 below mark occurred last Friday morning, plus a zero reading on Saturday morning. Several inches of snow fell last Wednesday to give Garrett county a white Christmas. It was one of the few areas throughout the nation with snow on that day.

The fifteen below mark also was the lowest in the state for that day and also for the entire winter

November Welfare Expenses $24,970.83

Public welfare expenditures for November showed an increase over the previous month by over $900. Six hundred sixty two persons received $24,970.83 through the Garrett County Welfare board. The figures were released by Dr. Alvin Thalheimer, chairman of the state department of public welfare. The total does not include cost of local administration.

The report showed the total number receiving assistance was twenty more than the previous month and the total amount spent was $905.60 more than for October.

Largest percentage of the total expenditure for November was for Old Age Assistance but was only slightly less than for aid to dependent children. In the first category 249 persons received $9,510.95, an average of $45.29 each. There were four new cases with three being added and two cancelled.

Three hundred twenty-two children in 109 families received $9,353.59, an average of $85.81 per family. There were eight new cases listed with six being added and one cancelled.

Five blind persons received $324.75. Eighty-five persons listed as permanently and totally disabled received $3,997.71, an average of $47.03. There was one new case listed with one being added and two cancelled.

Eighteen persons listed under general public assistance received $669.33, an average of $37.19. In this category there were two new cases with one being added and two cancelled. Twenty-two persons were listed under foster home care and they received $1,114.50, an average of $50.66. There were no additional children placed during the month and two persons went out of care.

Twenty-five persons were listed as eligible for free hospital care after investigations. One was considered ineligible.

Throughout the state the welfare program cost $2,094,445 compared to $2,070,041 for the previous month and $1,875,192 for November a year ago.

Church Women Meet

The United Lutheran Church Women of Zion church, Jennings, met December 11 in the home of Mrs. Susie Yommer. Thirteen members and two visitors studied the topic, "Christmas in Bethlehem." The lesson was written by Dr. Gustav K. Wiencke, who in 1955-56, spent a half year at the American School for Oriental Research in Jerusalem and traveled extensively in Turkey, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan and Egypt. The topic, introduced by Mrs. Stanley Stanton, familiarized the group with Christian life in Bethlehem and conditions as they exist in that country today and created a concern for a witness to the Christian gospel to the Moslem world.

The program was presented by nine individuals, each with an item which symbolized a part of the picture of Christmas in Bethlehem, explaining each contribution at the proper time. Carol singing and brief devotions related to the Christmas story were also included in the program.

Mrs. Donald Herrick and Miss Dottie Herrick presented a dialogue, "The Christian Way" which illustrated the Christian preparation of celebrating Christ's birth. Mrs. Ernest Handwerk gave a book report concerning experiences of Christians in Haiti in connection with the home mission study.

Mrs. Joe Resh presided at the business session.

A card of appreciation was received from the Rocky Boy Indian mission, Box Elder, Montana, for the package of gifts and a quilt sent them for Christmas distribution by the ULCW. The group also included a home project in their Christmas planning—boxes of food were packed and given to the older and shut-in members of the congregation. Carol singing and short devotions were held in the home of one shut-in. All members were encouraged to save the cancelled stamps from their holiday mail for the National Lutheran Home, Washington, D. C. These may be given to Mrs. Stewart Stahl.

An exchange of gifts followed the business session. Refreshments, displaying the Christmas motif, were furnished by Mrs. Howard Herrick, Mrs. Clyde Smith and the hostess. The home was also decorated for the holiday season.

The theme for the January meeting is, "From A to U—Argentina to Uruguay" and Mrs. Ernest Handwerk will be leader. Mrs. Ray Billmeyer and Mrs. Audra Durst will continue the mission study.

Contrary to some belief, the New Year doesn't explode around the world in unison with the shouts of the merry throng in Times Square.

Actually, by the time the United States rings its bells and chimes to greet 1959, the year will be many hours old in other parts of the world.

The New Year begins at the starting point of time—the Admiralty's date line, near the Chatham Islands in New Zealand. From this point the line curves east and west of the 180th meridian in such a way that it lies always in the ocean.

At 12:01, January 1, in the islands, it is still December 31 in New York and London. Yet, once it leaves the islands, the New Year moves like a jet—to Australia, Asia, Africa, Europe and most of South America before reaching American shores at Maine. It takes three more hours to get to California. Alaska, the 49th State to enter the Union is also the last to welcome in the New Year, some two hours later than California.

For most Americans watching their TV sets this season, the New Year will begin with the roar of the crowds along Times Square. It will make little difference that the year is eight hours old in Moscow or two hours old in Buenos Aires.

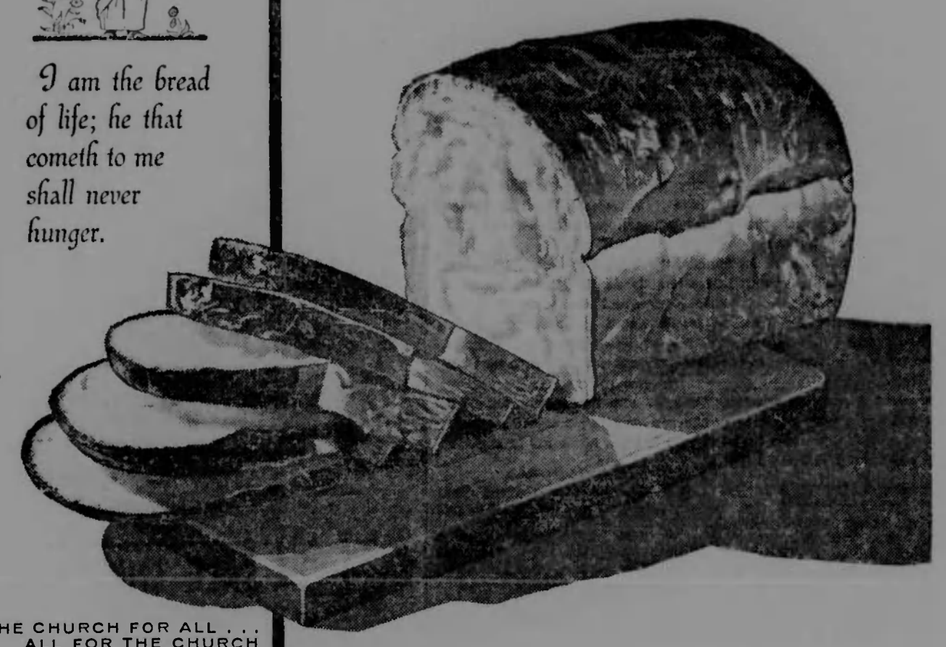
The Staff of Life

I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me shall never hunger.



Have you tried to satisfy your appetite with a bit of candy or a hurried snack? The keen edge of hunger may leave—but only temporarily.

There is another hunger innate in each of us. It is a spiritual hunger, our desire to have protection and help from God. Sometimes we do not really recognize this need. We feel only a restlessness, a longing for something better, an unexplained loneliness.

We often try to satisfy this mysterious hunger with the sweets of pleasure, to cover it up with the hurry of many activities. But it can never be really satisfied until we know God as our Heavenly Father, His Son as our Saviour.

Jesus Christ said, "I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me shall never hunger."

In the Church we find this Christ who offers us the true bread from heaven, the bread which alone satisfies our spiritual hunger.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Call for Faith

Lesson for January 4, 1959

THE TOP and the bottom of a mountain often have quite different climates. In one case known to us, this difference in climate was not a matter of weather alone. You might say it reversed the weather. The particular mountain where these events are believed to have taken place, is so high that it bears snow even in the height of summer. But on the particular occasion of our story, the summer was at the top, the winter at the bottom. At the summit was a scene of glory and of peace; at the bottom was a scene of hustle, bustle, struggle . . . anything but glory. At the top was everything to encourage faith; at the bottom everything to discourage it.

Dr. Foreman

Three Questions

Nevertheless it was at the bottom of the mountain that faith was most needed. The reader is invited to picture the story for himself. A crowd of bystanders . . . most of the incidents recorded in Jesus' life had this background of the gawking crowd. The disciples, red-faced, hot and flustered, trying to do a miracle and falling flat. The boy and man who were the center of the crowd; the boy an epileptic perhaps even then in a convulsion, and his distracted father, begging for help but getting none.

Epilepsy is a disease of the nervous system which is always embarassing and sometimes dangerous. In those days (and in these too, without special medical help) attacks would come on without warning. The patient falls unconscious; if near water, he may drown, or if by a fireside, he may burn to death without help. Epileptics are not crazy, indeed they are often brighter than "normal" people. But they cannot often hold well-paid jobs, and in superstitious communities no one will give them jobs at all.

Can Faith Cure Everything?

Aside from all other questions of what faith can do, take this one: Can faith cure everything? We know now (that is, doctors know) that faith goes a long way in the healing process of any disease, and may be a major force in some cures. It has been reliably estimated that more than half the patients in American hospitals at any given time would be discharged at once, if their attitude were changed; in other words more people are hospitalized for basically psychological reasons than for physical reasons. The physical trouble is there, but it's the mental slant that causes the physical spill. But can faith cure everything? Can faith ward off everything? If a smallpox epidemic were threatened, should a Christian refuse vaccination and rely only on his faith? Most Christians would say No; all health departments would say No. And all Christians agree that some troubles are not curable by faith. You cannot pray a broken, torn-off arm back into existence. Destroyed brain cells never grow again, for saint or for sinner. The very church that believes most in miracles is the one most famous for its hospitals.

Can Your Faith Help Me?

Another question: Can one man's faith help another man? In this story it was the father's faith that helped his boy. Is this always the case? Again we have to say sometimes yes, sometimes no. Jesus himself performed more than one cure, on the faith, not of the sick persons but of their families or friends. Christians should of course pray for their sick loved ones, pray for doctors and nurses and druggists too, without inquiring, "How much faith can this patient himself have?" Yet there are limits to this. Saving faith, the faith that is a turning from darkness to light, from evil to God, always has to be one's own.

What is Faith's Power

The third question can be answered in very few words. What is the secret of faith's power? It is right in the story. The disciples were powerless, for their trust was in themselves. They had forgotten to pray. Jesus connects faith with prayer. Faith alone is nothing; it works, only if and because it lays hold on the power of the mighty God.

New Year's Day Was Not Always On January 1

New Year's was not always celebrated on January 1. In fact, even today New Years comes on different dates for some peoples.

Prior to September 14, 1752, England and her colonies regarded January 1 with indifference because New Year's day was observed on March 25.

Today, many people who continue to use the Gregorian calendar still solemnize traditional feasts, including New Year, on different days. The Gregorian calendar was not presented to the world until 1582 by Pope Gregory XIII.

The Jews observe a 10-day New Year season at the time of the autumn equinox, beginning on Rosh Hashana and ends on Yom Kippur.

The Moslem calendar (dating from 626, A. D.) has 12 months of the year that begin with the approximate new moon without any intercalation to keep them geared to the seasonal equinoxes. As a result New Years and months retrograde through the entire year in about 33½ years.

It 's time once again to observe the holiday of the New Year dawning, to joyfully celebrate the fact that we have come to another turning point in the recording of man's time on earth.

According to custom, gaiety is the keynote of the New Year observance. This is the time of year when we don't mind letting our hair down—or covering it up with a gaily-colored party hat. For some peculiar reason—as if we in some way personally contributed to the fact that another year has been successfully concluded—we enjoy a feeling of accomplishment. Yet, New Year's Day, like the greater holiday of Christmas which it so closely follows, brings to us much more than another chance to be gay and happy with ourselves.

The New Year rightfully should be a time for reflection—not in the nostalgic vein—but with a careful eye of appraisal. While it is well enough to "never look down" from the heights, the wise man-in-a-hurry must look back over his shoulder from time to time if he is to accurately estimate his progress and achievement.

We are mostly happy with the arrival of a New Year because it is our nature to plan and to dream of better things in the future. We like the chance to start again with "a clean slate" which provides plenty of room for the recording of new ambitions, new aims and new achievements. But, we sometimes forget that January 1 brings only a change in the calendar and the postmark on our letters. We are still the person that we were on December 31.

If we are then to profit from the New Year 1959, we must determine that our experiences during 1958—the accomplishments, failures and the things left undone—give some indication of our chances for success during the year ahead. We can look to the future; but we must build on the past.

We sincerely hope that 1959 will be a year of achievement, peace and prosperity for us all.

Selection Of Dairy Cattle

To develop a profitable dairy herd every dairyman must practice some selection of the cows, as well as the sires, that make up his herd. Selection may be based upon the individual, family or pedigree, offspring, health or a combination of all these bases. Regardless of the standard set forth by the dairyman, it is essential to maintain the same ideals in selecting his herd, says Bob Schabinger, University of Maryland Extension dairyman.

Individual selection has been most commonly used to date and most of the progress which has been made in shaping the nation's dairy population into more efficient and desirable types may be attributed to this basis. However, individual selection cannot be used in selecting dairy sires since they do not express the primary characteristic in which you are interested, milk production.

Selection based on the family includes both direct ancestors (pedigree information) and relatives such as brothers and sisters. Under some circumstances, information on the productivity of close relatives can supplement that which is available on the animal itself, and be a distinct aid in selection. Care must be used to obtain complete and accurate information of ancestors involved. A few high production records may give a biased evaluation of past performance.

Individuality tells what the animal appears to be, the pedigree tells what it should be, but the performance as a breeding animal tells what is. Thus testing of offspring is particularly useful in dairy cattle selection, however, in dairy cattle this takes a long time.

Maintenance of a disease free herd dictates the selection which must take place as far as health is concerned. Only those animals that continue to produce efficiently, breed regularly, and are free of disease will be allowed to stay in the herd.

The SPELLING BEE

By Dorothy Kilian

IT WAS about eight o'clock on New Year's Eve when Jane Walters turned to stare out the kitchen window into the wintry darkness. She didn't want Don to see the tears in her eyes, but she hadn't been quick enough.

"It's a raw deal all right, honey," he said from the chair where he sat with one leg, in a cast, propped up on a stool. I take you away from all your city friends and bring you back to Brantville to live, and then what do I do? Break my stupid leg during our first holidays together and leave you high and dry without an escort for the New Year's Eve party."

"You couldn't help it, Don."

She tried to sound bright, but the truth was it did matter. She had found herself more homesick than ever with the coming of the holidays. This little town to which Don had come back as operator of the grain elevator was like a foreign country to her. And, with the furnace acting up, here they were sitting in the kitchen of all places on New Year's Eve.

Jane sighed and turned slowly away from the window. "What kind of a party will Grandma Jenner be having?"

Don chuckled. "Oh, it'll be corny, all right—no blaring trumpets. And yet, Jane," Don leaned forward and went on earnestly, "I really think you'd enjoy these people if you'd, well, kind of let yourself go."

"Maybe so, Don. But I just have the feeling that they consider me an outsider. I—did you hear that scuffling noise? Sounds like somebody's in our back yard."

"It's a raw deal all right, honey," he said.

"Lots of somebodys, I'd say."

Don replied.

There was a resounding thump on the back door. Jane opened it and stepped back, bewildered.

"Surprise, surprise!" a chorus of voices shouted, as a couple of dozen people trooped in, Grandma Jenner in the lead, swinging a huge granite coffee pot.

"You do look floored, my dear," she said, planting a peck briskly on Jane's cheek. "But it's an old custom around here—when you can't come to a party, the party comes to you. Look at Don there, he doesn't seem too surprised."

Don grinned. "I was kind of hoping this would happen," he said. "But Jane hasn't gotten too well acquainted yet."

"I know," Grandma said quickly. "And it's mostly our fault. To tell you the truth, honey."—she turned to Jane—"We were kind of afraid of you, you seemed sort of distant. But when you phoned that you and Don couldn't make the party, I heard the tremble in your voice, I suddenly realized that you're just as human as the rest of us. So here we are. Now let's get on with the fun."

It seemed no time at all before Grandma called out, "We've just time for a spelling bee before midnight and refreshments. Get yourselves lined up folks while I put the coffee on to boil."

The crowd laughingly divided into two lines on either side of the big kitchen. As Jane hesitated, someone pulled her into position.

"Speer the words, Mac," Grandma said to the school principal. "You're used to this kind of thing."

Mr. MacRay began giving out words. Amid shouts of praise for the successful spellers and hoots of derision for those who stumbled over a word, the game progressed until only Jane and Mr. Nichols were left.

The caller cleared his throat and, turning towards Jane, pronounced the word, 'hospitable'.

Jane hesitated and looked slowly around the room. She saw Grandma Jenner hovering over the coffee pot at the stove, Mr. Appleton gently adjusting the cushion under Don's outstretched leg, and Mrs. Ames just coming in from the pantry with a tray of apple pies.

"Yes, I can spell 'hospitable'," she said. "H-O-S-P-I-T-A-B-L-E."

There was a moment of silence. "Bravo!" several voices called out, and just then the kitchen clock began to strike twelve.

"Happy New Year!" Jane echoed with the rest as she looked around at her new friends and finally met the eyes of her beaming husband. It was indeed going to be a good year.

swing at the lake, with the summer theatre group preparing for action.

JULY

Construction on state parks at Deep Creek and New Germany was being rushed. The first fatality of the year occurred at the lake with a boat overturned, drowning its lone occupant. The lake fish program was declared a success.

August

One of the biggest events of the month was the Garrett County Fair, more successful than the original one in 1957.

The flood control project came back into the light with a number of meetings scheduled, and along with it came discussion of the pollution control program for the Little Yough river.

A Pennsylvania steel worker swam the length of the lake a distance, according to his route, of six miles.

Once more the National Guard unit pulled out for encampment at Indiantown Gap.

September

Sue Hershberger, Grantsville, was named State Farm Queen at the state fair at Timonium.

Back to school went 4,696 students, with the number to increase slightly during the next few weeks.

The Democrats continued to reduce the gap in registration in anticipation of the election in November.

October

Politics continued to warm up, but real issues were lacking. Most races amounted to popularity contests.

The Autumn Glory excursion brought 834 Easterners to the county for an enjoyable, if tiring, bus trip and sightseeing.

The Sterling Processing Co. announced an expansion program here if water he made available.

November

November has one big story. It was the election of five Democrats to county and state offices in an unprecedented split. The minority party became the majority party when chosen were the State Senator, two members of the House of Delegates and two members of the County Commissioners.

December

Seven hundred and ten deer fell during the season, another all-time high. John William Kline accepted a call to the Bittinger Lutheran parish.

Webb DeWitt, veteran county roads engineer, died of a heart attack while deer hunting near his home.

And finally, during the month, winter returned once more, officially and weather-wise, with considerable snow and below-zero temperatures. The year had come full cycle.

Pastor P. F. Nieuwkoop

It's Best to Heed

It's hard to believe that more people are being killed by automobile accidents than by war. Most of these accidents could be avoided if people would abide by the laws for safety. Recently a Safety Poster which displayed a "Stop Sign" had these words printed on it, "Think twice — you only live once." Well, that is partly true. You only live once on this earth, but you do live again somewhere in the life to come. Death does not end all for anybody! From John 5:29 we learn that there is a resurrection of both the just and the unjust. These shall stand in two separate judgments. The Christian will stand in the "Bema" judgment as described in II Cor. 5:10. The unsaved will stand in the Great White Throne judgment described in Revelation 20: 12-15. A man who is a Christian should be a careful driver because he should value the life of others as well as his own. A person who is not a Christian should be doubly careful because one careless moment may usher him into an eternity for which not prepared. So, think twice before you ignore the traffic signs. You may be cutting short the opportunity for salvation, which is being granted unto you while you live on this earth. You will live again somewhere.

Problems Ahead -----

Looking ahead over 1959 the U. S. News and World Report felt this way--that war would be avoided, business would be good, the dollar would keep almost all of its present value; strikes would be a problem, cost of living would go up some, unemployment would still be a problem in some areas, farmers would do a little less well, stockholders in many cases would get bigger dividends, lenders would be paid a little more for their money, borrowers would be charged a little more interest.

Debt would seem a little less desirable, saving would seem more attractive, new houses would cost a trifle more, the arms race would go on, space experiments would grow in number, Russia's troubles would grow, U. S. would add about three million people, marriages would increase, new households would grow, people would spend more money than ever on themselves, on recreation, vacations, services of all kinds. There were other impressions.

But what are the problems for Garrett county? How many of that increase in population will be able to settle in this area?

Will unemployment still plague this area? Will our farmers do less well? Will our cost of living climb still higher? Will our housing costs go up still further? We are not sure.

Oakland, we do know, has much work to do in order to prepare itself for any kind of industry that might want to settle here. There are the problems of sewage, water supply and flood control. The entire county still has the problem of having its young people leaving for other areas as soon as they are graduated from high school.

Will Garrett county be able to take advantage of that one prediction that people will spend more money on themselves than ever before for recreation, vacations, and pleasure?

We are definitely a recreation area. We have the climate both summer and winter, that pleases the vacation and recreation minded. Do we have the facilities that will keep people here, once they come? Can we improve our hunting and fishing? Can we accommodate all the people who would like to come here for vacations?

We believe a good start has been made but this is a never ending struggle. Some other area is always competing for the vacationist. We must keep improving and moving ahead to maintain our advantage. We'll always have problems but we can also overcome them if we are constantly "on our toes." We hope 1959 is a good year for the people of Garrett County.

Town Has Tools For Thawing Frozen City Water Mains

In preparation for the coming of possible freezing pipes this winter in the Oakland area, the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland Monday night approved an application blank that could be filled in, in order to obtain the town's water thawer. The cost would be $10 for each use. The town purchased the equipment a few months ago for $706.00.

There have been several calls for the use of the thawer for frozen water lines thus far this year, but none of them from within the coporate limits. A special blank will be worked out by the city attorney to be used for any calls beyond the immediate area. The cost for this service was not determined.

Other routine business was conducted at the regular meeting Monday night.

Collection reported by Mrs. Gladys Nordeck, clerk-collector, amounted to $8,379.21. Of the total $390.35 was from water; $3,793.72 from taxes, and $4,194.91 from miscellaneous accounts. Among the latter were $789.36 from parking meters and $2,940.50 from the motor vehicle license fund.

Expenditures amounted to $7,-949.91 which left a balance of $17,-198.11 in the bank as of December 31.

The town agreed to purchase a hypochlorinator to replace one borrowed from the health department for use at the Carnation company well. The city has been using water from the Carnation company well for several weeks to augment the city's regular supply.

The town accepted the bid of Fred Beachy Lumber company of $737.37 for installing a new floor in the council chamber, for a hot water heater and a storm door. Other bids were submitted by Kitzmiller and Edgar and Rolyan's.

The State Health department, in a letter to the council, urged support of legislation that would permit the setting up of a sanitary district that eventually would lead to improvement in water and health conditions in the area.

Sunday movie tax amounted to $18.20.

Junior Civic Club Program To Feature "Public Affairs"

"Public Affairs" will be the feature of the program at the regular meeting of the Junior Women's Civic club, scheduled for this evening at 6:15 o'clock at the William-James hotel in Oakland.

Mrs. Marvin Jones has charge of the program and the speaker will be Fred Tichnell. His subject will be Civil Defense.

Mrs. Harold Trickett and Mrs. Frank McDaniels are in charge of arrangements. The money derived from the sale of Christmas candles will be turned in at this session.

Two Condemnation Suits Are Filed

Two condemnation suits were filed in the office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit court, this week. Both concern property on Maryland route 39, the highway between Crellin and Hutton.

Suits are being brought by the State Roads commission against Mr. and Mrs. Harland E. Bowser, and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Eugene Bowser.

The State Roads commission in both instances has filed checks with the clerk in the amount of the estimated value of the land as appraised by commission employes.

The Roads commission has need of the land for the road improvement program scheduled for the area this year.

The state is taking 14,904 square feet of land from Mr. and Mrs. Harland E. Bowser and has sent a check of $990 to the clerk's office. It is taking 17,395 square feet of land from Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Eugene Bowser and has deposited a check of $2,070 with the clerk. Amounts in both cases were deemed unsatisfactory by the owners. The cases will come before juries in the near future.

Five Below Recorded Here Two Mornings

Five below zero was recorded officially in the Oakland area two mornings the past week. Private thermometers located in various spots went as low as 15 and 18 below.

The period was one of the coldest spells of the winter and considered unusual for so early in the month. Some four to five inches of snow fell during the week-end storm, bringing out the full detachment of snow plows to keep state and county roads open.

The five below readings occurred on Monday and Tuesday mornings, and during the day the thermometer did not get above 18 degrees. There was considerable moderation on Wednesday with the temperature going up to around 32 degrees. Moderation continued today.

There were predictions of snow or sleet in the tri-state section but nothing materialized.

New Officers To Assume Duties In Lake Group

R. R. Keener will take over this month as president of the Property Owners association of Deep Creek Lake. He succeeds Dr. T. G. Bennett.

Miss Ethel Grove is the new secretary-treasurer, succeeding Mrs. Gomer Gibson. Mr Keener said he planned to issue a newsletter in April and asked that any changes of address should he sent to Miss Grove at Oakland.

Commissioners Plan To Keep Tax Rate At $2.00

Levy Being Completed This Week—Assessable Basis Is Increased

The Garrett County Commissioners were planning yesterday morning to keep the county tax rate at $2.00 on each $100 of assessable property but were not yet able to announce it definitely, pending receipt of the complete tax schedule from the Board of Supervisors of Assessments.

The Commissioners have been working on the annual levy for the past two or three weeks. Carl Schell, president, said that much progress was made and they pretty well know that it will not be necessary to increase the rate but the definite announcement will have to wait until next week.

The county probably will operate on an expected revenue of approximately $950,000 and of this amount some $675,000 or more will come from the county tax rate.

The taxable basis last year was $33,800,000 and it was indicated there would be some increase this year, but not to the extent of the increase last year. Last year the tax basis showed an increase of almost two million dollars. This year the increase was expected to run several hundred thousand dollars.

It is mandatory that the levy be laid and the county tax rate be announced by January 15, after which a copy of the annual levy is required to be published.

The state tax rate this year will be 13.42 cents per $100.

Discontinuance In Gas Service Sought In Some Few Areas

The Cumberland and Allegheny Gas company last week applied for an order authorizing the discontinuance of certain gas service in the vicinity of Oakland, Hutton and Kempton, this county, and near Lonaconing in Allegany county.

The petition was received by the Public Service Commission of Maryland which ordered a hearing at the commission office in Baltimore yesterday.

The application of the gas company requests the abandonment and discontinuance of the exercise of the parts of its franchises or rights covering certain gas service in the vicinity of West Oakland, Hutton and Kempton.

Carl C. Robbins, district manager said the request is being made by the gas concern to remove some old gas lines and pipe which are in bad condition.

Approximately 14 or 15 customers will be affected by the removal of the gas service and abandonment of the lines, he states.

The gas company will replace the discontinued service with electricity or bottled gas, according to the customer's preference, he said.

Home Destroyed By Fire Near Crellin

The four-room frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Hayward Baker, at Turner Douglas, near Crellin, was entirely destroyed by fire Monday evening at 8 o'clock. All contents were also destroyed, the family saving absolutely nothing.

The fire started from an overheated stove. Mr. Baker is a miner and is employed at Crellin. Mr. and Mrs. Baker have three children.

They are being housed temporarily with relatives at Freeport.

The Oakland fire department was not called as the flames had gained too great headway when discovered and there was no telephone available.

Oakland firemen did answer two alarms within the week. There was no loss in one instance and about $25 damage in the other.

Firemen were called to the former Orley Dunham property on Pennington street last Saturday morning as the result of a flue fire. A burlap sack near the flue was smoldering and had filled the house with smoke. The home is occupied by Mrs. Iona Rodeheaver on the first floor and Mrs. Geraldine Ludwig on the second floor.

Firemen were called to the frame dwelling of Leroy Robertson, on 8th street, for a flue fire Monday afternoon about 2:15. There was slight damage.

A fire hitherto unreported also occurred on December 27 about 2.30 p. m., in a freight car on the B. and O. siding near Loch Lynn Grange Supply Center. The fire was caused by a charcoal heater inside the care, used to keep merchandise from freezing. The car contained mostly drug supplies. The extent of the damage was not known.

Oakland firemen were called yesterday morning to put out a fire on the roof of the home of Mrs. Anna Hardesty, 8th street. Sparks from the flue had set the roof ablaze. Damage was estimated at $5.

Eglon Postoffice Is Burglarized

The postoffice at Eglon, W. Va., was burglarized last Sunday night, and funds in excess of $200 taken from a safe, it was learned this week.

The postoffice is located in the general store owned by Fike and Judy. The funds were taken from a safe located in the postoffice quarters. A portion of the funds belonged to the store.

Entry to the building housing the postoffice was gained by placing a ladder against a rear wall of the building and forcing a window. Entry to the safe was the result of a "peel job," a term given to that type when a pointed instrument is placed at a corner of the safe or at any edge and then hammered. After sufficient time it is then possible to place wedges into the holes caused by the punches and in time the door to the safe is gradually forced open.

This is the second time that this postoffice has been burglarized, the other occasion being October 5, 1958. At this time burglars were unsuccessful in their attempt to enter the safe.

The postoffice has posted a $200 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the persons responsible for each of the burglaries. Information leading to the reward should be made to Postal Inspector E. J. Stapleton, box 2147, Clarksburg, W. Va. Both of the burglaries are being investigated by Mr. Stapleton and Deputy Sheriff Frank Roberts, of Kingwood.

To Participate In Music Recitals January 9 And 11

The Potomac State College Music department is presenting Jackie Fisher, of Mt. Storm, W. Va., and Leonard Withers, head of the music department, in a recital of two-piano music Friday, January 9, at 8 p. m., and Sunday, January 11, at 4 p. m. in the College Science Hall Assembly room, at Keyser.

Jackie, who is sixteen and a senior at Bayard High school, has been studying with Mr. Withers since he was six years old. He has been playing in public since he was four, and he became the regular church pianist at the Methodist church at Mt. Storm when he was eight, later he became the organist, a position he still fills. When eight years old he learned to play the trombone, and he took lessons on it for two years at Potomac State, although he had to have an extension made to reach the 6th and 7th positions at that time.

Fisher has played in many different churches and states for special occasions. He takes part in the religious and social affairs of the church, school and community.

Mr. Withers received his Master's degree from the Cincinnati Conservatory, after which he studied in Paris for one year. He has been in charge of the music department for many years, and he is known for his work with the Singers, having conducted many tours with them.

All are invited to these events.

NEWS FROM THE Enoch Enlow Library

BY EDITH BROCK

The Mt. City Band, formerly the Gilbert-Brown Boys Band of Oakland, has given a book in memory of Roland R. Gilbert.

Have you a valuable book in your attic? In the new book "Gold in Your Attic" Van Allan Bradley, Literary Editor of the Chicago Daily News, describes many of the valuable books which might still be found in old collections. In the first section, "A Primer for Book Hunters" he explains in entertaining fashion the elements of condition, scarcity and demand which govern rare book prices. The remainder of the book contains an up-to-date alphabetical index of hundreds of titles with values ranging from $25 to $25,000. The illustrations of title-pages help to identify valuable editions.

Books on skiing are on exhibit in the front of the library. The most recent is the "New Invitation to Skiing" by Iselin and Spectorsky. Other up-to-date titles are "Power Skiing" by Micoleau and "Modern Skiing" by Bourdon. Of special interest to young skiers but also helpful to all beginners are "Skiing Illustrated: a guide for the young skier" by John O'Rear and "Skiing for Beginners: a complete and simple method for children and their parents" by Conrad Brown. These books may all be borrowed.

Books have been donated this week by Harry and Jimmy Stemple at Gormania, Dan Smouse, and Billy Crouse.

During 1958 there were 1,593 licenses issued compared to 1,533 for 1957. There were four months with 150 or more permits, the busiest month being July when 175 were granted. There were 165 in August, 167 in June and 150 in May.

The snowstorm of last February cut the permits for that month to 54 but March showed another big boost with 134.

The totals by month for 1958, January 85, February 54, March 134, April 145, May 150, June 167, July 170, August 168, September 136, October 134, November 138, and December 112.

Thirty-two marriage licenses were issued during the past week ending Monday about noon. Fourteen of this number were granted during January. Two licenses issued during the past week were marked "don't publish."

Teacher Education Scholarships Slated

The third annual examination for the Maryland Teacher Education Scholarships will be held on Saturday, February 7, at test centers designated by each county board of education and at Baltimore Polytechnic Institute.

The 608 four-year scholarships were established by an Act of the General Assembly at its 1956 session. One hundred fifty-two of the scholarships, each with a maximum value of $500, are awarded each year. The number of scholarships available to residents of each county and the six legislative districts of Baltimore City is equal to the number of members in the General Assembly from each county and the legislative districts of Baltimore City. This year a number of additional four-year scholarship awards will be available to fill the quotas in those counties or legislative districts were the original awards have been released or forfeited. The scholarships are awarded by the State Department of Education on the basis of the results of the scheduled competitive examination.

All high school seniors who expect to be graduates in 1959 and all high school graduates of former years are eligible to take the examination.

Each scholarship candidate is required to be a legal resident of the county or of the Baltimore City legislative district from which he or she makes application.

Scholarship winners must enroll in one of the 13 nonpublic institutions whose teacher education curriculums have been approved by the State Department of Education and follow a course of study leading to a teacher's certificate.

Each scholarship recipient must also give bond that he will teach in the Maryland public schools for at least two years.

Applicants interested in taking this examination must file an application by January 9. Application forms may be obtained from any high school principal or from the State Department of Education.

Social Security Available For Self-Employed Farmers

Many self employed farmers will be filing for social security benefits for the first time early in 1959. For several, the earnings from farming for 1958 will make them eligible for benefits for the first time. Others will have become age 65 just recently. Whatever the reason, before benefits can be payable, an application must be filed.

In order for benefits to be paid promptly, James Gwinn, Manager of the local Cumberland social security office, urges farmers, when filing for benefits, to bring with them their tax returns for 1957 and 1958, their receipts for payment of the taxes for those years, and proof of age, if available. As benefits may also be payable for children under age 18 (over 18 if disabled) and for a wife age 62 or older, proof of their ages should be submitted also on the first visit. A wife must file her own application.

Further information is available from the local security office at 6 Pershing St., Cumberland. A Social security representative is in the basement of the Post Office Building in Oakland each Tuesday afternoon.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SKILLED FINGERS

As the skillful fingers of the surgeon work, prayers are on the lips of loved ones. Although there is faith in the knowledge and skill of the surgeon, all realize God's help is needed.

Eventually most men realize that skill and science are not enough. Even those of us who haven't been to church services for a long, long time find ourselves instinctively saying, "Please, God," when we face a crisis.

Why wait until then? God's providential help is needed by everyone—in time of crisis and in making the constant decisions of everyday life.

The doors of the Church are wide open. Won't you come in?

All the Way

Lesson for January 11, 1959

LAST WEEK'S study was about a miracle that happened; this week the story is about a miracle that didn't happen. This miracle—if it had happened—would have been more astonishing than the successful one. It would have been spectacular, the whole country would have been talking about it. The big news would have been that a rich man had become a poor man, not by losing his money or getting it stolen, but just by giving it away, everything he had. But the news-behind-the news would have been the real miracle. It would have meant the absolute changing of a man's mind. What would have to happen to the rich man's mind would be far more of a wonder than what happened to his property—and more important too.

Dr. Foreman

Leave All

But those are all only if's, Might-have-been's or Would-have-beens. The fact is, the rich man did not change his mind, he held on to what he had. He wasn't happy about it at all; "he went away in great distress" as one modern translation puts it. And Jesus, who watched him go, must have felt an even deeper regret, for Jesus loved the man. It is not easy to see some one you love choose the road to darkness rather than light.

The young man—for he was young and influential as well as rich—had asked Jesus what he ought to do to "inherit eternal life." That was his way of asking the question that comes in many forms: How shall I get right with God? How shall I be saved? How can I find life's meaning and live by it? Where is the road to Light? How can I fulfill my highest destiny?

The young man's friends might have thought that question needless; for he was an extraordinarily good young man He told Jesus, and Jesus did not doubt him, that he had been keeping the Ten Commandments ever since he could remember. But Jesus said, "You lack one thing." Only one—but what a terrific one thing! Get rid of all you own, Jesus said, give it to the poor; then come follow me.

Follow Me

Perhaps the young man did not hear that last sentence. All he could hear was "leave all." He made a mistake that is made to this very day by people who shy away from being Christians. There is a Christian now an old man, who for more than the first sixty years of his life refused to be a Christian. He resisted all that members of his family could say to him. His reason was at least an honest one. He knew that the way he made his money—or to be more precise, he knew that the way he tried to make money—namely by gambling, was not a Christian way of living. He was not going to pretend to be a Christian and a gambler too. His trouble was that in his mind being a Christian was chiefly not doing something he very much enjoyed doing, at the racetrack or over the green tables in a club room. As long as you think of the Christian life as a giving-up, a cutting-out of some habit or possession that you cherish, you never do get the right slant. The heart of the Christian life, what makes it worth while, is in that "Follow me."

Major Operation

Would Jesus say to every one, "Sell all you have and give to the poor"? Is it out of the question for a man or woman with money to "inherit eternal life"? Is money something evil in itself? This could hardly be true, otherwise Jesus would not have said to give it to the poor, but to throw it in the lake. Jesus counted among his friends many persons with property, and this was the only man he ever advised to get rid of every bit of it. It is very likely that money was a kind of baby tiger for this young man—harmless enough at first but destined to turn into a roaring killer. Two men may have the same disease: a major operation may be the only cure for one of them. The main point is: Get rid of whatever keeps you from going all the way with Christ.

James Frederick Ford, Oakland, Maryland, Plaintiff
vs.
Martha Constance Ford, whose last known address was 117 East Willette Street, Phoenix, Arizona.
Defendant
No. 4912 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree for divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant.

The bill states:

That on the 12th day of June, 1935, your orator was married to the defendant, Martha Constance Ford, at Parsons, Tucker County, West Virginia, by a duly ordained Methodist Minister; that he resided with the said defendant until on or about the 12th day of June, 1949, at which time the said Martha Constance Ford deserted your orator, while they were residing in Phoenix, Arizona; that although the conduct of the plaintiff towards his said wife has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said Martha Constance Ford, without just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted him, and has declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months, is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that three children were born of said marriage, namely: James Robert Ford, who is now residing in Cleveland, Ohio; Sandra Lee Ford, who is now residing in Washington, District of Columbia; and Ray Allen Ford, who is now residing in Hutchinson, Kansas; that your orator is a resident of Garrett County, Maryland, and has resided in this County and State more than one year prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, while the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and her last known address was: 117 East Willette Street, Phoenix, Arizona.

It is thereupon this 2nd day of January, 1959, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiff, by having a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 30th day of January, 1959, give notice to the non-resident defendant warning her to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by solicitor, on or before the 14th day of February, 1959, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Teen Corner

By DICK CASTILOW

Well, here we are back in school and all ready for the rest of the year. Teen Corner took a little vacation over the holidays, too.

Boy, did Teen Age Club hop over the holidays. There was never a dull moment. It all started with the record hop the Friday before Christmas and we all enjoyed ourselves a lot. Then the 26th The Royales played for the annual Christmas dance. Fun!!!

Don't ever let anyone say that Fred Tichnell isn't all for the teen-agers and the Teen Age Club. You may recall in previous columns I have mentioned a lot about the top name stars coming up to our club for a gala show? Well, Mr. Tichnell is really working on this. He is even planning a trip to D. C. to see Milt Grant about the whole deal.

The behavior of the members of our club has been almost flawless. This is really great and is in itself a showing of appreciation to all the persons who have worked so very hard to do this.

I suppose that you all have heard the newest dopeski, "The Little Space Girl"? Watch the dog gone thing climb.

One that really sold was "The Chipmunk Song." I said it would.

Everyone is tired from the seasonal parties so with a stiff one finger I type with, I close 'til next week.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 82. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY MD., JANUARY 15, 1959. PER COPY, 8c NUMBER 46.

Said and Done -----

A wise philosopher once said, "When all is said and done, more things are said than done."

Let's make an earnest wish that in 1959, this old saying will continue to hold true. Because if all the things the "liberal" U. S. Senators and Representatives say they are going to bludgeon through the first session of the 86th Congress, are done, 1959 will be recorded in history as the year when the United States of America took leave of its senses completely.

These "liberals" threaten that they will put the Federal government further into the development of electric energy--have Uncle Sam build more and more dams; they promise public housing on a gigantic scale; they assure us that there will be billions of dollars of Federal aid to education; they will see to it that Social Security pensions are increased and extended to more pensioners. And on and on and on.

The existing social laws keep hacking away at the payroll check of millions of workers. Legislators have no qualms whatever about passing legislation that tacks on another one half of one percent, or one percent or two percent of taxes that are deducted from a person's pay. The take-home pay becomes a smaller and smaller proportion of the total as the years move on. Surely there's a limit. But how high will the people let it go before putting their foot down?

People have got to get mad about this spending. They've got to get mad about this campaign against a person's right to work. One of the worst things radical labor leaders boasted about is that they are going to knock out of the Taft-Hartley Act that clause which permits the individual states to legislate on "Right-to-work" laws. That would indeed be a disaster for all the workers of his nation, and that takes in nearly all of us.

An influential member of Congress proposed a study of ways to meet the Federal government's need for ever-increasing sums of money. This caused a reader of the Wall Street Journal to write that the real answer to the budget problem is to reduce "the government's NEED for more and more money."

So let's wish very definitely that when all is said and done, more things will have been said than done

Court Restrains Union Activity At Motor Freight Co.

Sanders Maintains Drivers Are Not Employees But Private Contractors

Sanders Motor Freight, Inc., secured a court restraining order on Tuesday against fourteen individuals and the Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers union 153, of Cumberland, a local unit of the International Branch of Teamsters, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

An order, signed January 13, by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley, agreed that those named are to be restrained and enjoined from "engaging in acts of intimidation, coercion, violence, breach of the peace, mass picketing, threats of violence, picketing and all other activities designed to affect the business of the Sanders Motor Freight.

In the bill of complaint the freight company which conducts a trucking business over routes in Maryland and West Virginia, explains that three persons own tractors used to pull trailers owned by the company, lease them to the company, and that other individuals own tractors who formerly leased them to the company under agreements which were cancelled January 10.

The bill of complaint further states that on January 11 the company under terms of individual lease agreements assigned certain freight for transportation by these individuals but they refused to comply with the terms and set up picket lines at Oakland and Cumberland

Boat Manufacturing Plant Oakland's Newest Industry

On lakes in all parts of the United States and even South America, boating is an increasingly popular sport. And no matter where you see white sails against the sky, those sails might have come from Oakland.

For boat building is the newest local industry.

Tucked away in the former Pontiac garage on Third street, the Gordon Douglass Boat company has been in operation here since September 1, 1958.

Currently in production is the Flying Scot, a 19-foot day racer designed by the company's owner, Mr. Douglass, who lives with his wife and teen-age son on Crook Crest, is an internationally known designer, builder and sailor, whose Thistles and Highlanders have proved to be among the outstanding racing boats of the day.

He grew up with boats, his father being an ardent fresh water sailor and he carrying on the tradition to win national championships in two different sports, racing and paddling.

In 1937, he began building boats in Mentor, Ohio, and the company there still bears his name, although his own activities are now confined to the local plant. The

Commissioners Keep $2.00 Tax Rate For 1959

Levy Completed Last Friday; Calls For Expenditure Of $1,038,394.02

The Garrett County Commissioners, in winding up their annual levy last Friday, announced they were keeping the county tax rate at $2.00 per each $100 of assessable property. This was indicated earlier last week but the announcement made it official.

The county will operate on an expected revenue of $1,038,394.02, and of this amount some $697,946 will come from the county tax rate of $2 on a taxable basis of $34,897,300, less an allowance of some $32,000 for discounts, insolvencies, etc., allowed taxpayers. This is the first time that the proposed expenditures will exceed a million dollars.

The tax basis is over a million dollars higher than last year.

Other estimated income of approximately $372,000 includes uncollected taxes of about $127,000, automobile license fee taxes of $50,000, the county's share of income taxes of $15,000 and other lesser items. Cash on hand amounts to $69,770.

School System

The school system of the county will receive $396,286. The breakdown shows $42,800 for salaries, teachers' county share; $287,564 for operating expenses; $17,250 for school share of motor vehicle license fee; $26,300 for capital outlay; $18,880 for incentive fund; and $3,092 for debt service, plus $400 for Maryland School for Blind.

School Bonds and Interest

Under school bonds and interest, a total of $162,255.40 is necessary to pay principal and interest of the 1941, 1949, 1953 and 1956 bonds, but $76,880 is provided by the state incentive fund, $18,880 from the county incentive fund and $50,000 from the natural gas fund, totaling $145,760 and leaving only $16,495.40 for the county to levy in this category.

Plans Move Ahead For Addition To Loch Lynn School

Plans are being completed by architects for the two room addition to the Loch Lynn School, it was learned following a meeting of the Board of Education on Tuesday

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said the County Commissioners had approved the school budget for 1959 which included an item of $11,000 needed for construction of the Loch Lynn school addition.

Mr. Hawkins said plans should be ready for approval not later than February 1.

Other construction plans were outlined at Tuesday's Board meeting. Bids have been advertised for materials to be used in the two room addition to the Yoder school and for the new furnace and heating system for the Yoder school.

The $65,000 to be used for the Center street all-purpose room was received from the State School construction fund and the money was converted into 120-day interest bearing government bonds, since this money is not to be used immediately. The board considered a few changes in specifications for the Center street school. One was a decision to use aristocrat block wainscoating instead of marblock and vinyl tile flooring instead of asphalt.

Mr. Hawkins told the board he anticipated addtional funds from the federal government under the National Education Act to be used for purchase of equipment for science, mathematics and foreign languages in the schools. The amount was not specified, but it was stated some funds were expected before the end of the school year.

The superintendent also was authorized to submit for bids items that were needed such as additional furniture, vacuum cleaners, four

100 Pints of Blood Are Sought for Next Visit of Bloodmobile

Citizens of Oakland and nearby will be asked to contribute at least 100 pints of blood when the American Red Cross bloodmobile unit comes to the Oakland Fire hall on Monday, February 2nd.

The unit will be in operation from 12 o'clock noon until 6 p. m.

Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman, is making the arrangements for the first appearance this year for the bloodmobile. The county lacked only four pints of making its prescribed quota during the last period.

It is now possible to get replacements for Garrett countains in hospitals beyond the area only if the quotas are met. Because Garrett county was so near, lacking only four pints, the bloodmobile officials wrote Mrs. Stemple this week to say that they had extended this courtesty to this unit and hoped that throughout the ensuing year the necessary pints would be contributed.

Deer Park Firemen Select Officers

Officers for the new year were elected at a recent meeting of the Deer Park Volunteer Fire department.

They were Dwight Clary, president; Harley Wildesen, vice-president, George Comp, Jr., secretary; Glenn O'Brien, treasurer; Robert Thrasher, chaplain; William Clatterbuck, chief; Carl Thrasher, assistant chief, Harrison Thrasher, captain; and Richard Perando, trustee.

New officers will be installed later this month

The Deer Park firemen were called Saturday, January 10, at 9:45 p. m. to the home of Elwood George at North Glade when a flue became overheated. No damage resulted.

OUTDOORSMEN MEET—Members of the Outdoor Writers' Association met at Deep Creek Lake last Saturday and Sunday and elected officers and directors. They favor the shooting of antlerless deer to keep the herds well balanced. In the picture, left to right, are Tom Cofield, Baltimore News-Post, a director; Bernard Kreb, Frederick News and Post, a director; Bill Borton, Baltimore Sunpapers, president; Aubrey Graves, Washington Post and Times-Herald, first vice-president; Bill Clede, Winchester Arms Bolletin and writer for the Prince George's Post, a director. Some 32 writers were in attendance at the two-day meeting.

Women's Club Will Give One-Act Plays

At the January meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club it was decided to present three one-act comedies for the club's fund raising project

They will be "Dummy," "So I Heard," and "Baker's Dozen." The plays will be presented Thursday evening, February 26, at 8 o'clock at the Dennett Road school.

The plays will be the club's only fund raising project for the year. Proceeds will be used, as in the past for the betterment of the community. The club previously has contributed to the hospital landscaping fund, the Christmas clothing fund for needy children, helped send a student from Southern High to the United Nations, and contributed to the mental health, cancer and Red Cross funds. The hospital landscaping project is the club's chief endeavor.

Four Persons Appear In Juvenile Court

Four persons appeared before Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley in the juvenile court yesterday afternoon. Two were from the forestry camp near Lonaconing and two were from near Oakland. The latter two were charged with failure to attend school.

One forestry camp youth was charged with assault and with cutting another youth with a safety razor, while the other was charged with using obscene language to the director.

Judge Fraley indicated he saw no reason why the forestry camp youths should be brought into juvenile court every time there was a fight. Since they were from the Maryland Training School and more or less on probation, he felt that if these youth could not be controlled they should be returned to the Training School. The two were remanded to jail until those in charge of the training school program are contacted.

One girl from Crellin, age 11, who was not attending school and declared she would not go, was ordered to the Montrose Training School for Girls. In the case of the boy, 13, who was not attending school, the judge instructed the State's Attorney to contact the Welfare Board to see if he could not be placed in a foster home

Northern - Southern Quints To Battle At Cove On Friday

Basketball teams of Northern and Southern High schools will meet in the first of a two-game series tomorrow night in the Northern High gymnasium at Cove.

The two-game series this year will have a bearing on deciding the county championship but will make no difference in the district playoffs early in March. Southern is listed as a class A team and Northern is listed as a class B team, a classification set by enrollment and not by the degree of perfection of either team. Both will be engaged in tournament playoffs.

This is expected to have no bearing either on the amount of interest generated for this contest. Games between the two schools have always drawn capacity crowds and this year will not be any different.

Coach Lilburn Brown will be depending heavily upon his regulars, Spear, Patton, Strauss, Hetrick, Long, Lowry, Beachy, McCurdy and McGraw. The Huskies have won seven games and lost two. Their victories include the alumni, Rockwood, twice; Salisbury, twice; Bruce High of Westernport, and Oldtown. They have lost to Bruce High and Bayard.

Southern Highlanders boast of victories over Terra Alta, Bruce, Petersburg, Mountaineer high of Thomas and the alumni, while losing to Piedmont, Valley and Parsons, the latter by two points last Friday night.

Coach Dick Travis has a variety of regulars including Harland Carlson, Wine, Martin, Terry Colaw, D Stemple, Stuck, R. Colaw, a number of trusted reserves of James, Bill Stemple, Bolyard and Duling.

The return match on the Southern High court is set for February 20.

There will be a preliminary game btween the Jaycee teams of the two schools starting promptly at seven o'clock. The main attraction will get under way around 8:15.

County Fair Will Open For Five Days, Aug. 11-15

Decision to hold the annual Garrett county fair for five days instead of six was made at a meeting of the officers and board of directors one day last week.

The dates for the fair will be August 11 to 15th, inclusive, the event opening officially at 6 p. m. on August 11. It is planned to conduct the fair each year during the second week of August.

Schmidt Top Winner Once More in Turkey Production Contest

Harold Schmidt of Accident took top honor for the second straight year in the 4-H-F.F.A. Turkey Production Exhibit held at Northern High School Friday evening, January 9.

Second place went to Ronald Beitzel, an eleven year old 4-H'er of Bittinger. Tom Magruder, Chicasaw 4-H Club of Westernport, placed third; and Dwight Glotfelty, F.F.A. member of Oakland, placed fourth. Schmidt and Beitzel will participate in the State Contest to be held at Annapolis on February 25.

A judging program for the participants was set up this year for the first time. The boys judged all the entries as to their placing according to the birds' conformation, flesh and finish, cleanliness, and bloom. Placings were as follows: Tom Magruder, first; Harold Schmidt, second; and Ronald Beitzel, third.

Judging by Grover Harris, Poultry Specialist, University of Maryland, was based on the record book and the two dressed birds (one hen and one tom) of each participant. Cost per pound of turkey produced, feed conversion, mortality, as well as accuracy, neatness, and completeness of records all went into deciding the top boy.

Schmidt, F.F.A. member of Northern High School, stated in his short story about the project: "I learned more about feeding and caring for turkeys to produce quality birds as good poults, good feed, and good management all go together to produce a top quality bird that each housewife looks and shops for today."

The project was sponsored by the University of Maryland Extension Service in cooperation with the Garrett County Turkey Growers, the Maryland Turkey Growers Association, and the Maryland State Fair Board.

Power Interruption Will Be Effective January 16

There will be an interruption in the electric service in twelve different areas of the community next Friday, January 16, from 1:30 to 3 o'clock p. m., it was announced by the West Maryland Power company.

The following localities will be affected: Loch Lynn, Steyer, Altamont, Meadow Mountain, Pleasant Valley, Deer Park, Swanton, Beckman peninsula, Tasker's Corner, Sand Flat, Green Glade and Harvey's peninsula.

Thomas Cain, local manager said the interruption was necessary in order to permit necessary repairs to the distribution system.

Three Robberies Are Listed at Loch Lynn

Robbers forced entry to three places of business in Loch Lynn Heights sometime after midnight Tuesday night, it was reported by authorities.

Listed were the Loch Lynn Service station owned by Cecil Hahn, Henry Gibson's Auto Wrecking office, and the Grange Supply Center.

Investigating the robberies are Troopers Robert D. Henline and Donald Tucker, of the State Police. Henline said the robbers broke a window glass at the service station to gain entrance after which they forced open the safe and made off with about $100 in cash. They apparently were able to unlock a window at Gibson's establishment where they obtained about $50 from a safe. They forced a window at the Grange Supply but apparently got nothing of value there. There was no money in the safe Henline said.

Johns Selected For Curriculum Group

The Garrett County Board of Education has selected W. Kenneth Johns, principal of Southern High school, to represent the county on the state-wide committee sponsored by the Maryland State Department of Education, to study the secondary school curriculum. The committee will be headed by Dr. Matthew Gaffney of Harvard University, an authority in the field. The state-wide committee of which Mr. Johns will be a member will meet from time to time to study the high school curriculum and make recommendations for changes where they seem advisable.

To Appear on TV

The Royales, a teen-age orchestra, and the Ivy Leaguers, of Southern High school, will appear on the March of Dimes television show from Harrisonburg, Va., channel 3, on Sunday afternoon, January 18, at 4:40, it was announced this morning

This is to assist with March of Dimes throughout the county including Garrett county. Charles L. Briner is Garrett county chairman for the March of Dimes

Entries Continue To Be Received For Junior Ski Races

The event, sponsored by the Western Maryland Ski club, is sanctioned by the United States Eastern Amateur Ski association.

There are classes for both boys and girls.

There will be trophies for first and second places in all events, and ribbons for third and fourth place winners.

George Hankins, racing chairman, said that entrants may register up until race time. Registration fee is $1. He said that a number of local ski club members had been improving in their skiing this year and indicated that a number of them would make a real effort at taking first place in several of the events. He mentioned particularly Jimmy Gibson, Butch Hinebaugh and Harvey Winters who had improved mightily in the past year.

Officials include the following: Howard Naylor, Oakland, chief course starter; Bruce Anderson, Cumberland, chief starter; Dick Welch, Oakland, chief timer; Richard Winer and Eric Gibbs, chief umpires; Glenn Kline, Cumberland, course maintenance; Taft Oursler, Oakland, communications chief; Dolores Eirich, Cumberland, registration; Dr. Joseph Alvarez, Oakland, supervisor of ski patrol services and slope safety; George Hankins, Cumberland, announcer.

Hankins appealed to all members of the Western Maryland Ski club to be on hand to assist in conducting the races. He indicated there would be a job for each one.

Adults may watch the races for 50 cents and children will be admitted for 25 cents.

A ski hop will be held at the National Guard armory on Saturday night which is also open to the public.

Weather Moderates

Moderation has been the weather pattern for most of the week, with rain falling yesterday and today. This was expected to end by this evening or tomorrow however, with colder weather due for the week-end.

There was snow on Friday and Saturday and quite blustery. The thermometer registered 10 above zero Saturday morning, but Sunday brought an end to the cold spell. There has been thawing since Sunday with the exception of Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights

Ralph Weber, veteran weather man, declared we needed the rain very much but that the ground was frozen so hard there was not much chance of any of it sinking into the earth.

Democrat Women To Meet

The regular meeting of the Democratic women's clubs of Garrett county which was to be held Tuesday, January 13, at the William-James Hotel has been postponed until next Tuesday, January 20, at 7:30 p. m.

Outdoor Writers Have Winter Look At Garrett County

Some thirty-two members of the Outdoor Writers association had an opportunity over the past week-end to get a winter look at Garrett county, and to discuss hunting and fishing and other outdoor activities for the area.

The association met Saturday and Sunday at Deep Creek Lake, holding its annual business meeting and a panel discussion at Cabin Lodge, on Saturday morning and afternoon; and the annual banquet at Point View Inn on Saturday evening. The writers indulged in some ice fishing and skiing on Sunday before returning to their homes.

Elected to office for the year were Bill Burton, Baltimore Sunpapers, president; Aubrey Graves, from the Washington Post and Times Herald, first vice-president; Dr. Joseph Linduska, from Sports Afield, second vice-president; Dan Poole, Wild Life Management Institute, Washington, secretary; and Robert Carr, of Remington Arms, treasurer. Directors for the year are Tom Cofield, Baltimore News-Post, Bernard Kreb, Frederick Post, and Bill Clede, Winchester Arms bulletin.

Three persons at the afternoon session talked on the necessity of shooting antlerless deer if well balanced herds are to be maintained in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. These were Roger Latham, of the Pittsburgh Press, reporting for the division of research for the Pennsylvania Game commission; Jim Bowers and Vagn Flyger, from the Maryland Department of Research and Education.

Bill Harmon and Cecil Edwards, Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, and Harold Elser, Department of Research and Education, discussed the fishing prospects for Deep Creek Lake.

It was generally agreed, according to Mr. Burton, president, that the lake had terrific potentials, particularly for bass, pickerel and northern pike. He said prospects

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

To Be or Not To Be

The time is now set for the new Congress. In a volatile atmosphere of controversy, excitement and political maneuvering, the tug of war between the force of liberalism and conservatism has been accentuated and the outcome could influence the course of Government indefinitely. The effort to change the rules of the Senate, particularly those affecting filibusters, represents the first test of comparative strength between these conflicting forces.

Our forefathers intended that the Senate would be the chamber of debate - a stabilizing body to protect the rights of the minority against hasty and ill-advised action. And, from this proposition has evolved the present rule requiring a vote of 64 Senators to limit discussion on any issue. In early 1957, I favored a change in the rule so that a limitation on debate could be invoked by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present and voting, and my opinions have not changed in the meantime.

Any further modification in the rule would dilute the constitutional purpose of the Senate, and ignore the almost universally-accepted theorem that the Senate is a continuing body. The liberal dissenters, who advocate a more substantial amendment, might well heed the editorial pleading of the Washington Post—a self-appointed voice of American and international liberalism - when it said in 1953: "The fact that only one-third of the Senate is elected at any one time seems to us to clinch the argument that the Senate is a continuing body properly governable that is to say by continuing rules. This arrangement gives the Senate a stability that it could not otherwise attain, and we cannot help thinking that it would be foolish to give up this asset in pursuit of a temporary rule for limitation of debate."

Curiously, a legislative filibuster in South Korea for the other day was dissolved by "the simple device of calling in 300 muscular policemen . . to throw the rascals out." With the aid of might, majority rule thus triumphed at the expense of the minority, a situation which led the Washington Evening Star to conclude: ". . we suspect that free Korea would be better off today if its Assembly operated under something like our Senate Rule 22, which so-called 'liberals' in our country would like to do away with." The same newspaper last Wednesday expressed the hope that "the Senate will not let itself be stampeded or pressured into accepting a simple majority limitation on debate - a change which would plague this country for a long time to come." With that I heartily agree.

Miss Viola Selders spent the week-end with the Carmen DelSignores.

Evaluates School Progress In Talk

Major achievements in the area of school buildings, personnel and curriculum were listed in a talk given to the Center street school Parent-Teacher association last week by Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of schools.

Mr. Hawkins termed 1958 a banner year in the matter of buildings and improvements to physical plants. This included completion of Deanett Road school, new route 40 school, new Swan Meadow school, new band room and connecting corridor at Southern High, remodeling and renovation of the Grantsville school, remodeling of Annex building for Board of Education offices plus numerous maintenance and repair jobs.

In regard to personnel and curriculum he listed the following: smallest teacher turnover in recent years, $400 increase in minimum salary scale for teachers; passage of a Federal Education bill to provide extra funds to upgrade programs in science, math, foreign languages, guidance and testing; a two-day survey of schools headed by Dr. Willard Elsbree, of Columbia university; special reading and math programs inaugurated; expansion of foreign language program at Northern to include Latin; an in-service program for teachers; good morale in schools; good school and community relations; dishanding of "core" program in senior high schools and a re-emphasis on subject content in core program in junior high school.

Mr. Hawkins said that in carrying out recommendations by the Elsbree report the board of education had started an improved testing program, improvement of school libraries, better practices for grouping children for learning and organization of a research seminar for principals and supervisors.

Mr. Hawkins listed a number of goals for the year 1959-60 including completion of all-purpose room for Center street, two room addition to Yoder, two room addition to Loch Lynn completion of maintenance and repair jobs, purchase of additional land for Bloomington school.

Among goals under personnel and curriculum Mr. Hawkins listed 12. These include employing only fully certified teachers, passage of teacher salary bill, science workshop following close of school, extension of language program; upgrading of science teaching, math, foreign language and guidance; expansion of testing program; more emphasis on social studies in senior high school, especially in fields of government and international relations; continuance of in-service program for teachers, improvement in furniture, instructional aids, additional texthooks, better libraries, special equipments for various departments, and a shortly longer school day.

He summarized by saying it was the goal to see that "every boy and girl in the county is provided an education as good as he or she could find anywhere." He emphasized schools that were alert to keeping abreast with the challenge of the space age, equipped with adequate instructional facilities, housed in adequate classrooms, where environment was healthy, pleasant, spacious and conducive to the best mental processes.

Mr. Hawkins was of the opinion that the schools had moved closer to this goal in this county in 1958 than ever before. He anticipated another school year of forward strides.

Communist party suffered resounding election defeats in four South American countries, Chile, Brazil, Uruguay and Venezuela.

The Commissioners made provision for Memorial hospital operating expenses of only $4,000, since the natural gas tax receipts have been contributing $25,000 to this category. For Memorial hospital debt service, however, the commissioners levied $18,200, and also $15,000 for patients in other hospitals. The debt service is for the construction of the hospital addition.

Big Jump for Roads

The Commissioners levied $220,838.71 for the county roads department. This is an increase of some $140,000 over the previous year. The election fund levy totals $8,200.

The detailed levy is being published this week in The Republican and also for the following two weeks.

The state tax rate this year has been set at .1342 on each $100 of assessable property and is calculated to bring in $33,125.98.

Boosters to Provide Scoreboard Clock

The Southern High School Athletic Boosters club agreed to underwrite the cost of a new scoreboard clock for the local gymnasium at its last meeting. Mrs. Samuel Butler, president, made the announcement.

Cost of the new scoreboard will be approximately $530. The present clock purchased in 1947 by the Old Oakland High School Boosters club, has been in need of repair lately. Both the administration and basketball coaches endorsed the plan to purchase the new equipment.

The new scoreboard will resemble those presently in use by most schools in the area. It will be similar to the one being used at Northern High school. Officials hope to have the clock in use for the game with Terra Alta on January 23.

To help raise funds to pay for the clock a Boosters club turkey dinner is planned. The high school varsity club announced through its president, Lester Bittinger, that it would contribute $100 toward the purchase. Other organizations or individuals desiring to contribute may contact Mrs. Butler, president, of Mrs. Mary Martin, secretary-treasurer.

Other business discussed at the meeting included the problem of raising sufficient funds to cover insurance and purchase of shoes for football players. Estimated cost of these two items was placed at about $700.

Another meeting is scheduled for Thursday, February 12, at 8 p. m., at Southern High school. Persons interested in the athletic program are invited.

Ruehl Is Acquitted

W. Ewald Ruehl, summer cottage owner on Deep Creek Lake, and formerly of Cumberland, was acquitted Tuesday in the Circuit court here on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

The decision was handed down by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley after hearing evidence the latter part of December and studying memorandums submitted by attorneys for both parties.

W. Dwight Stover, Oakland, and William A. Gunter, Cumberland, represented Ruehl while S. R. Pagenhardt, former state's attorney, presented the state's case.

Ruehl was charged with receiving stolen goods ($1,500) for "fingering" the $17,500 theft from the home of Lee A. Green in LaVale, in October of 1949.

In handing down the decision Judge Fraley stated that the state had failed to produce evidence that the defendant had received 15 $100 bills from the Green safe. The judge noted that the state failed to produce evidence that Green even had any $100 bills in his safe at the time of the theft.

Judge Fraley noted that the only evidence produced by the state was a statement given out of court by the defendant that he "assumed" the money was Green's.

During the hearing Judge Fraley also ruled in favor of a defense motion that testimony in a civil suit in Baltimore county could not be admitted as evidence in the criminal trial. Lee Green had won a verdict from Ruehl in Baltimore county in a civil action.

The Green-Ruehl court battle has been waging for a number of years since Green's safe was cracked in his LaVale home. Ruehl had been employed by Green and the latter claimed that on the night of the theft he (Green) and his wife and stepdaughter saw Ruehl along U. S. route 40 in LaVale as they were driving to a movie in Cumberland.

Highlanders Edge Alumni 65 to 64

After trailing by a 51-44 score at the close of the third period, the Southern High Highlanders scored a 65-64 triumph over an Alumni aggregation at Oakland Tuesday night to record their fifth win of the campaign against three reverses.

High scoring was kept within the Colaw clan for the varsity as Terry and Ronnie sparked Coach Carl Schoonover's quint with 17 and 13 points. Carlson had 4, Wine 5, Martin 7, Stemple 5, Stuck 7, Duling 2, James 2, Bolyard 1 and Savage 2, to complete the scoring for the high school.

Best for the grads was another Colaw, Toby, who tossed in 20 tallies. Bob Shiffy and Kelley shared 25 of the loser's total with 12 and 13 respectively. Shaffer had 8, Deckman 5, Murphy 1, Collins 1 and Tasker 4 to complete the total.

Southern was out-gunned in field goals 26 to 21 but meshed 23 of 32 foul shots as compared to 12 of 22 for the Alumni.

Attending the meeting from here were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Waybright, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis M. Phillips, Mrs. Ferne C. Welch, Misses Diana and Edith L. Weber, and John W. Weber.

Court Restrains

The company further complained that on January 9, Charles E. Stutzman, representative of the Teamsters union, notified the company that if it did not sit down and negotiate with the union a contract between the company and leased operators that he would shut down the company's operations.

The company advised Stutzman that the men were independent contractors, not employes of the company, that no labor dispute existed and that teamsters union had no jurisdiction.

The company was then notified on January 11 that the union was pulling individual leased operators off the job and also employes of the company, and instructing them not to return to work.

It was at this point that picketing began, according to the company which made it impossible to continue to conduct business.

Listed as respondents in the bill of complaint are Forrest Rohrbaugh, Hutton, Paul W. Hoye, Oakland, John Kimble, Mt. Lake Park; Harry Corgin, Oakland; Marshall DeWitt, Mt. Lake Park; John Evans, Oakland; Ernest Shaffer, Aurora; Clifford Feathers, Oakland; Ernest Trenton, Keyser; Paul Ridgeley, Cumberland; Raymond Yoder, Grantsville; James Helms, Kingwood; Carl Nitz, Mt. Lake Park; Hobert Shillingburg, Aurora, and Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers Union 453, of Cumberland.

The restraining order issued by Judge Fraley also declared that a peranent injunction would be issued in due course unless the respondents showed cause on or before January 28, why the relief prayed in the bill of complaint should not be granted.

The trucking company operates terminals at Oakland, Cumberland, Baltimore, Clarksburg, Parkersburg, Charleston and Wheeling.

By DICK CASTILOW

Be sure to come to Teen Club this Saturday night. Really special goings on.

Well, we have the best drummer in the State. Bet you can guess who. You're right, Jim Callis. He's a member of the School dance band, marching band and The Royales.

Heres' an exclusive. The Royales are cutting their record the 24th of this month. It will be released the 28th of February. Due to having to travel to cut the record and other preliminaries, Teen Corner will not appear next week. By the way, the disc will be available at The Music Shop on February 28th.

Bob Brinker is still working on our gala big R show. A few possibilities but nothing definite yet.

The top records are kind of staying there, according to Billboard magazine. David Seville's (the Witch Doctor) The Chipmunk Song, is still on top. Who said that it was personal? Well look for Teen Corner the week after next. Hope to have news concerning those top names.

IN MEMORIAM

To Fred Hollschneider who died January 10, 1957

We loved you Pop, we miss you here
In our memories you are ever dear
Thoughts return to scenes long past
Time speeds on but memory lasts.
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we love
From memory pass away.
You will always be remembered
By the ones that loved you best
Rest in peace your work is ended
Sweetly sleep your deeds are done
You have gone where those who love you
Soon are coming one by one.

Oakland Pharmacy Is Co-Sponsor of TV Spectacular

Harned and Proudfoot, Oakland Rexall druggists, are co-sponsoring the television presentation of one of the greatest mystery thrillers ever written, "Ten Little Indians," by Agatha Christie, next Sunday, January 18. It will be carried over the NBC-TV network at 7:30 P.M. E.S.T., as a vehicle to announce the beginning of the Rexall January Economy-Size Sale.

Starring in the suspense classic will be Nina Foch and Barry Jones with special guest star, James Donald. They and other members of an all-star cast will portray the story of ten people stranded in an island mansion "somewhere off the English coast" with an unknown killer among them.

The book was a best seller for years and the Broadway play chilled full-house audiences for a long run. It was made into a very successful motion picture under the title, "And Then There Were None." The mystery is noted for its suspense and excitement and should be a constant challenge to the viewer's powers of perception and deduction.

Oakland Pharmacy, with other independent Rexall druggists across the country, will use "Ten Little Indians" to tell viewers about their January Economy-Size Sale. The sale will feature reduced prices on the large sizes of many famous Rexall brand products with a free elephant bank going to customers.

Survey Indicates Southern Students Do Well In College

Do Southern High School graduates do well in college?

This is a question frequently placed before the doorsteps of local school officials from time to time.

Based on a recent survey by Ernest Spoerlein, guidance counselor at Southern, the answer would have to be yes.

Of the fifty six graduates who went to college in 1955, 1956, 1957, Southern received from the colleges they attended grades for thirty of these people. These thirty people made the following grades for the first semester in college 20 A's, 63 B's, 78 C's, 20 D's and 3 F's. The colleges forwarding grades were Frostburg State, West Virginia Wesleyan, Pennsylvania State, Radford College, Bridgewater College, Johns Hopkins, Washington College, Towson State, Western Maryland, Gettysburg, Alderson Broaddus, Hood College and Fairmont State. It is a recognized fact that the first semester in college is purposely made difficult to eliminate those not accademically qualified.

First semester grades of those students who gradnated last year have not been received but preliminary reports indicate that they are doing more than satisfactory work.

"The above report bears out the fact that has long been held at Southern, that those students who do well in high school will do well in college," Mr. Spoerlein stated.

W. Kenneth Johns, principal, also indicated pleasure upon studying the report. He said that the report was a fine tribute to the teaching staff and the educational program provided at Southern.

The report also indicated that an increasing number of students are going on to degree granting colleges. In 1955 only 9.4% of the graduating class went on to college. In 1958, 15.2% of the gradnates were preparing to earn their AB or BS degrees. Oddly enough the number of boys and girls attending college were the same, 35 in each case.

The above report does not include these students who go on to business schools, nursing schools, beautician schools and other specialized schools. If these schools were included in the above slightly more than 30% of Southern's gradnates find themselves in additional training beyond high school, it was stated.

lawn mowers, typewriter replacements, shrubbery for the two new elementary schools and other items. Purchases would be made as funds became available.

In an effort to improve the quality of libraries an additional $5,090 was appropriated for this purpose.

Board members discussed the summer maintenance schedule and approved the painting of the entire exterior of the Center street building.

Among other action the Board approved the sale of a school bus owned by Earle T. Glotfelty to Robert Fnlow, for $2,500; approved following substitute bus drivers: Earl Lee for Playford Ryan; Carl Baker for Harold Crowe; John Evans for Virgil Hanlin and Sheridan A. Kight for Emile Germain; approved publication of 4,000 copies of an educational bulletin.

Mr. Hawkins told the board that Mr. Kohne, owner of the land adjacent to the Bloomington school, was asking $4,000 for the land needed for school purposes. A final decision is yet to be made.

President Eisenhower proposed to balance the budget with a spending of 77 billion.

AND NOW THE FINISHING TOUCHES—In this department, the boat is fitted with hardware and accessories and made ready for delivery. At present, the firm employs eight persons and finishes six boats each month.—Republican Photo.

The Flying Scot is becoming a familiar sight on lakes throughout the Americas. Here it is under sail.

boats are sold by direct contact and shipped by trailer to any part of the country.

The Flying Scot is a 19-foot Fiberglas sailing boat with a beam of six feet nine inches. Stripped of gear, it weighs 600 pounds and carries 190 square feet of sail plus parachute spinnaker.

The eight employes of the local firm are turning out six boats per month, but a potential capacity of eight craft is possible with present equipment.

Construction of the boat begins with the Fiberglas hull and deck sections. These are patterned in large wooden molds and consist of layers of the substance being superimposed until the desired thickness is reached. The color is molded into the Fiberglas to eliminate the need for constant repainting.

After the hull and deck units are completed they are combined and the appearance begins to suggest a boat. In another section of the plant, workmen add finishing strips, hardware, rudder, masts and other appointments. The Flying Scot retails for $1,900, Douglass said, plus delivery.

When Douglass moved here from Ohio, he brought with him one employe. The others have been recruited from the local labor market.

Has he experienced any particular problems since locating here?

"Well," he said, "transportation was a problem before we began delivery by our own trailers. We have known transportation companies to break a boat and its crate square in two through careless handling. Our biggest difficulty now is securing parts and materials when we need them. The materials we use come from—well, everywhere but Oakland. Sometimes deliveries are slow and it holds us up but that's only a question of scheduling and we can whip that in time."

Returns for TB Seal Sale Top $16,000.00

Returns in the 1958 Christmas Seal sale are lagging more than $500 behind last year's receipts according to Miss Jean M. Reinhard, executive secretary of the Allegany-Garrett county Tuberculosis Association.

Contributions to date from the two counties amount to $16,740.02 compared to $17,297.87 for the same period of the 1957 campaign.

Approximately $2,000 more is needed if the sale campaign is to match the 1957 total. Nearly 27,000 letters were mailed to residents of the two counties and returns have been received from slightly more than 13,000 people. Of the total $14,550 has been contributed by residents of Allegany with $2,790.02 coming from Garrett county.

Both counties are lagging in their contributions, Miss Reinhard said.

In stressing the need for financial support Miss Reinhard said arrangements had been made to have the mobile x-ray unit visit both counties again this year. The visit has been arranged for September.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	II Corinthians	9	1-15
Monday	Philippians	4	6-7
Tuesday	I Corinthians	15	57-58
Wednesday	II Corinthians	4	15-18
Thursday	John	1	15-18
Friday	Psalms	84	1-12
Saturday	II Peter	1	1-8

"For Thy love we thank Thee, Lord . . . for Thy help we pray."

Just a few words, rooted in gratitude. But gratitude means so much . . . to the Giver . . . and to those who receive!

To God it means that we are not too busy enjoying His gifts to understand His love.

To us it means that we have not forgotten the heart of life. We haven't lost sight of the spiritual center toward which the Church constantly points our vision. And to our children it means a family life based on faith and prayer.

Of course, our "blessing" or "grace" is only a small part of the Christian Life to which the Church calls us. But, like every piece in a puzzle, it belongs there!

And the sooner we put all the pieces in place, the sooner we'll understand the WHOLE PICTURE.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
'BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Mark 10 32-45.
Devotional Reading: John 13 1-17.

Cost of Greatness

Lesson for January 18, 1959

THERE is a religion which specializes in destroying desire. If you wish to be saved, they will tell you, you must stop wishing for anything, even to be saved. You must go farther than that, you must get rid of the wish to get rid of all wishes. The happy man is he in whom all desire is dead.

Dr. Foreman

Jesus never indulged in such talk. He had no hard words for ambitious men. Of course it made a different story, when men were ambitious for the wrong reasons or for the wrong things. But ambition as such, he never condemned. Two of his nearest friends told him one day, not too privately either, that they wanted to sit at his right hand and his left when at last he should be King. That was another way of saying they wanted to share his power and his greatness. The other disciples were disgusted and angry; but not Jesus. All he said was, in effect: Greatness has a price; are you prepared to pay it?

The Towel

The price was a cup that must be drunk; a baptism to be undergone. It is quite plain that these are figures of speech, as Jesus used them to those ambitious brothers James and John. For Jesus was never baptized after that, and all the cups from which he drank were ordinary cups such as all poor families used. This price-of-greatness Jesus himself illustrated by what he, greatest among the great, was and did. At the last supper, it was remembered afterwards what Jesus had done besides presiding at the meal. He knew he had come from God, knew he was going again to God, and that the Father had given all things into his hands. Surely these words spell greatness beyond comparison. Yet knowing his greatness, "he took a towel . . ." (The story is in John 13.) The cost of greatness is to become a servant. The mark of greatness is not power-over, but service-to.

The Teaching

Well, you might say, that towel incident was something special. Jesus sat among those men as their acknowledged Master; if for a few moments he took the part of a slave, a personal valet, he soon enough put on the teacher's gown again. Is there some way of serving others where we are, as we are—is there any way in which a teacher, for instance, can be "servant of all" without leaving the classroom or putting on an apron? Again Jesus shows us the way. All through his public life he was a teacher. What he had to say was more than personal opinion, it was a message from God. Yet Jesus was always humbly at the disposal of those he taught, with all their stupidity and selfishness. Much of his teaching, if not most of it, was simply speaking to questions or remarks other people made. When a heckler would ask him a question, he seldom brushed it off. He never said, "I am too busy to answer you," or "Your question is too stupid for words." On the contrary, he met people where they were and answered the questions they had, not the questions they doubtless should have had. So the professional man or woman can take his profession as a mere ladder to the big money, or as a means of humble service, in Christ's name and spirit.

The Cross

For Jesus, being at the service of others was not a matter of keeping office hours, of "being available." That was much; but there was a last and highest point. Day by day he spent himself for others. But at last he gave his life, not bit-by-bit, hour by hour, but all at once, poured out like wine of sacrifice. The Son of Man, he said of himself, did not come to be served but to serve . . . But what did it mean, to him, to serve? The servant's towel was dramatic. The serviceable teaching was less dramatic, more useful. But these did not reach far enough. When his saying about "not to be served but to serve" was remembered, they remembered the end of the sentence: "to give his life a ransom for many." Jesus' road to greatness took him straight to the Cross. No by-passes lead to greatness. Thinking over the roll-call of Christian heroes the reader may name his own one quality is found in them all: they loved themselves last.

Bulletin On Farm Income Tax Is Now Available

"Farmers Tax Guide" will help farmers clear up many tax income questions, and for some it may mean considerable savings in income taxes, says Art Hamilton, University of Maryland farm management specialist.

The Tax Guide is a new bulletin recently issued by the University of Maryland Extension Service. You can get a copy of "Farmers Tax Guide" from your County Agent who has a supply which are free for the asking, Hamilton said.

If you have a gross income during the year of $600.00 or more you must file a report. Gross income means the sale of products before expenses are deducted, he added.

If at least two-thirds of your gross income is from farming and your business year starts on January 1, you have two choices in filing a report:

1. File your return and pay the tax on or before February 15.
2. File an estimate of your tax and pay by January 15, then file your returns by April 15. Hamilton recommended the first choice.

PLYMOUTH GIVES YOU THE BIG DIFFERENCE

BIG DIFFERENCE IN RIDE	BIG DIFFERENCE IN STYLE	BIG DIFFERENCE IN FEATURES	BUT— YOU DON'T PAY FOR THE DIFFERENCE!
Take Plymouth's TWO-MILE TRY-OUT—and see the Big Difference that Torsion-Aire Ride makes. As you'll quickly notice, there's no lean on turns, no nose-dive on stops. Such smoothness you have never known—and it's standard equipment on every Plymouth.	No doubt about it, Plymouth's contemporary design is the handsomest new look for '59. Instead of going "overboard," Plymouth stylists aimed for modern good taste. Result: from rear Sport Deck to elegant grille, a car that looks expensive but isn't!		That's because all three top-selling low-price cars are priced within a few dollars of each other. They all cost just about the same, as any Plymouth salesman can prove to you. Yet only the '59 Plymouth gives you the Big Difference in ride, style, and features.

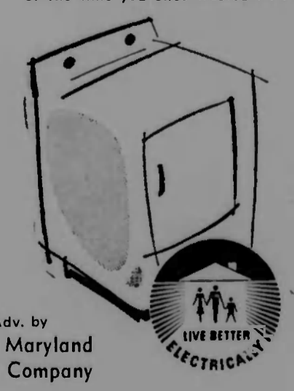
Why worry about washday work?

Clothes dry better and I live better... Electrically!

An electric clothes dryer is like having your own private sun — ready to dry your clothes day or night, without work or worry. Clean gentle electric heat dries clothing quickly, completely. Take them out — you'll find them cleaner and softer than when dried outdoors on the finest day.

An electric clothes dryer frees you forever from weather worries. And think of the time you once wasted . . . waiting for good drying weather and for the clothes to line-dry once you were able to put them out? The time you save can be your own for more gracious, more modern living.



See the latest models at your electric dealer's, and while you are there ask him about free wiring for all-electric clothes dryers.

"Our Growing Edge"

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

A Wish For A New Year

The old year has passed into history. With it has gone some regrets, some joy, some sadness. There are things we have done we wish could be undone, and we look back and see for ourselves the times we missed being the helpful and kind folks we should have been.

The new year gives us another chance, so I am going to make some wishes for all of you who read this and myself.
wishes for all of you who read this and myself

First of all, I hope the New Year brings you good health, that priceless state of physical and mental well-being which permits us to work hard at our various tasks, and bounce back from our weariness for another day's work.

I would wish for strength and courage to meet the problems that will come to all of us in the year ahead. I would hope we will all see them in their proper perspective, and try to solve them in a spirit of love and good will.

I would hope for some challenges for all of us. The kind that makes us re-examine some of our old ideas, prejudices, attitudes. The challenges that shake us out of our complacency, that bid us rise above our tendencies to be petty, selfish and narrow minded.

I would wish for each of us to try something new and different, to lift the level of our thinking, our conversations, our conduct. There are many new approaches to old problems in our community, our nation. I would like to see us use more imagination in the solving of them.

I am glad that our beloved land has so many opportunities for all people, that our boys and girls can have a good education whether they live on a farm or in the city. I am glad that we are a sharing people, wishing for others the same good things we ourselves enjoy. I would hope, then, in the new year that we will keep ourselves strong, with the strength born both of courage and humility, and that our love of peace and good will can help lead others into those paths also.

This can be a wonderful year to be alive if we have the eyes to see our opportunities, the faith to believe in them. We can venture into new fields of thought and action None of us need stay in either a mental or spiritual rut. We can grow by reading, by study, by meditation and prayer.

Each of us will decide what the new year will really mean. Phillips Brooks has said "Sad is the day for any man when he becomes satisfied with the life he is living, the thoughts that he is thinking, and the deeds that he is doing; when there ceases to be forever beating at the doors of his soul a desire to do something larger, which he feels and knows he was meant and intended to do"

May the new year ahead be for you who read this one of happiness and blessedness and growth.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 82. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY MD., JANUARY 22, 1959. PER COPY, 8c NUMBER 47.

What's the Answer? - - - - -

Many people are apt to think lightly about a social or economic condition when it does not affect them directly. Then when it suddenly hits one in the face, it usually is too late to do something about it.

Oakland received an economic jolt this week. Sanders Motor Freight, Inc., a trucking concern, is having difficulties with a labor union. This week the word went out that the concern is closing its doors. Around fifty people were employed at the Oakland office, some 103 throughout its territary. It had a total payroll of over half a million dollars annually. It is a very evident fact that the fifty people thrown out of work in Oakland will not be able to find jobs in this town. Most of them will be compelled to seek jobs elsewhere.

In a bill of complaint filed last week in the courts the company declared that a union representative had notified it that if it did not sit down and negotiate a contract that he would shut down the company's operations. Although restrained by the court from picketing, apparently there were other ways of carrying out the threat. At any rate, some fifty people in Oakland are losing their positions and the operations are ceasing.

Just what is the answer? People of middle age remember the old "yellow dog" contracts. Under them employers forced workers to guarantee that they wouldn't join a union. If workers did join, they were fired. These contracts were finally outlawed, as they should have been. There's no room for this kind of coercion in a free country.

But now we have "yellow dog" contracts in reverse and are found in compulsory unionism, which forces a man to join and remain a member of a union in order to hold a job.

Farm Bureau Gets National Award

School Group Given State Recognition At Meeting

National recognition for the Garrett County Farm Bureau County recognition for other county school groups was given at the forty-third annual convention of the Maryland Farm Bureau in Baltimore last Friday and Saturday. The local group was awarded a certificate of merit in the county farm citizenship program. Three other counties received similar awards.

Other awards were made to Garrett county boys by Randall G Spoerlein, president, in the state FFA project contest.

They included Ronald Weimer, Northern High, bronze award in his dairy cattle project; Charles Collier, Northern and Brooks Hamilton, Southern, bronze award for beef cattle project; Harold Schmidt, Northern, first prize, turkey raising project; Brooks Hamilton, Southern, gold award in truck crops project.

Another honor conferred was the Baltimore and Ohio award for gold division FFA chapters, a certificate and fifty dollars, presented to Northern High FFA by L. S. Hartley, regional agent for the railroad.

Resolutions Summarized

Some of the resolutions passed at the session included the following:

Urging enforcement of laws protecting property and roadsides from litter; urging repeal of Maryland Fair Trade Law now considered obsolete; favoring a "Right to Work" law for Maryland, and placing unions under anti-trust laws; feeling that Maryland should be exempt from paying a three per cent sales tax on farm machinery, same as neighboring states;

Working toward increase in farm income without increasing cost to the consumer through research in production and market-

Bond Sale Total Given

Total sales of series E and H Savings bonds for Garrett county for the year 1958 amounted to $251,442, or 66.2 percent of its yearly quota, it was announced this week by George Littman, County Savings bonds chairman. The quota was $380,000.

Total sales in Maryland were $63,246,210 slightly below last year.

Mr. Littman expressed thanks and appreciation to those who worked to promote sales of the bonds.

Lucy Beiler First In Talent Show

Lucy Beiler, with a reading entitled "The Raven," won first place in the student council talent show held at Northern High school last Wednesday morning, January 14. Miss Beiler, by virtue of her top honor, will have an opportunity to participate in the western Regional Student Council talent show at Hagerstown in February. State winner will receive a four-year scholarship to college.

Ronald Beiler, with a solo, "Old Man River," won second place, while Kathy Yaste, with a reading "Ambrose Part V," won third. Seventeen persons participated.

The Woodmen of the World presented the winners with checks for $15, $10 and $5, respectively. Judges for the event were Wayne Graham, C. O. Bender, Cecil Schroyer, Ernest Savage and Harry Savage.

Ronald Beiler, as second place winner will have an opportunity to appear on a talent show sponsored by the Mountain Fellowship Center. Betty Savage was Beiler's accompanist. The W.O.W. is financing the trip to Hagerstown for the first place winner.

The assembly last week was opened by Roy Schlossnagle, student council president. Robert Bittinger served as master of ceremonies. Opening exercises were in charge of Elaine Silber.

Hazelwood Is Low Bidder on Highway

The George F. Hazelwood company was low bidder on a Garrett county road modernization contract this week. The bids were opened Tuesday.

The company entered a bid of $431,990.83 for the modernization of 2.34 miles of road from Crellin to Hutton, on Maryland route 39.

The contract will include drainage, relocation and surfacing. Plans call for the construction of a 24-foot roadway and a 12-foot earth shoulder.

Receive $100 Increase

School teachers of the county were informed yesterday they were receiving $100 increase in salary for 1959, beginning January 1. The pay will be on the basis of a scale from $3,500 for first year teachers to $5,300 for teachers with maximum experience.

The increase is for this year only, unless there is further legislative action, according to Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent.

Permanent Structures On Safety Strip Not Permitted

Notices Being Sent Out This Week With Statement For Privilege Permits

Deep Creek Lake property owners were receiving official notices this week from the Pennsylvania Electric company declaring that structures of a permanent nature are not allowed on the company's safety strip.

It came to the attention of the company recently that a number of such structures had already been erected on the company's safety strip by various lot owners.

There was a conference held several weeks ago by company officials and members of the Board of Forests and Parks. The latter had constructed stone barriers off the shore of the Deep Creek State park, on the Meadow Mountain inlet and maintained they were for the protection of the swimmers against motor boats.

The electric company is now in the process of sending out statements for the renewal of privilege permits for the coming year. With the statement is a letter declaring "It is with the understanding that the renewal is subject to cancellation for failure to remove any encroaching structures which may have been placed on the safety strip adjoining the properties."

The letter also added "If it is later discovered that any such encroachments are found to be on the Safety Strip adjoining your property, notice will be given you in accordance with the terms of the Privilege Permit and unless same are removed within the time allowed the privilege permit will be cancelled."

It was also indicated that strict compliance with the terms thereof would be expected and full cooperation appreciated. The letter was signed by E. L. Bussey, representing the Production department.

FFBL Council Names Officers for Year

At a meeting of the Farming for Better Living last night at the William-James hotel John H. Carter was named as chairman to head the council for the coming year. Lowell Loomis was named vice-chairman; James Mellenry was re-elected secretary and Nordeck Shaffer was re-elected treasurer.

About thirty members of the council attended the dinner given by the Monongahela Power company in recognition for the sixth year of one hundred percent completions of all enrollees.

This year the goal is for eighty members in the 1959 program and already more than sixty have enrolled. The deadline is April 1.

Last night's dinner was in charge of L. Bush Swisher, project chairman, and representative of the Monongahela Power company.

Legislators Named To Various Groups

The county's legislators have been named to a variety of committees in the Senate and House of Delegates.

Senator Bernard I. Gonder has been named to seven committees and was named vice-chairman of one, the agricultural committee which includes forests and wild life. He was also named to the Judicial Proceedings, Education, Labor, Public Buildings, and Aviation, Roads and Transportation.

Leslie Savage, chairman of the House delegation was named on the Ways and Means and Motor Vehicles committees. Elbert Buckel was named to the Judiciary and Agriculture committees, while Elza Bray, only Republican member of the House, was named to Banking, Social and Insurance committee and the Agriculture committee.

Mr. Savage reported yesterday morning that a House bill had been introduced jointly by Garrett and Howard counties, which would allow women to serve on juries. Howard and Garrett are the only two counties in the state where women are not allowed to serve on juries. Savage indicated that there would be a clause in the bill making it optional for the women to serve or not to serve.

He said that several other bills were being prepared for introduction, all of which had been agreed upon harmoniously by all three members of the delegation and the senator.

One concerns working hours of the clerk to the county commissioners, one to restore part of the travel expense allowed commissioners, one to extend the limit of the purchasing power of the Commissioners from $25,000 to $100,000 in any one year, for needed machinery.

Mr. Savage explained that an apparent "spite" bill passed at the last session of the legislature required the clerk to the county commissioners to work every day except Sunday, with no time for holidays. The new bill will allow the clerk to quit at noon on Saturday and to observe all legal holidays. It will also give the commissioners, at their discretion to raise the salary of the Clerk, but not more than to $4,000. The clerk now receives $3,600.

Last term the county commissioners' salaries were raised but the travel expense was eliminated, which meant a difference of $400. The new bill would restore part of the travel expense, Mr. Savage said.

Mr. Savage said that Senator Gonder was also having some bills readied for introduction perhaps later this week.

Introduces Bill

Congressman John R. Foley of Maryland's Sixth Congressional District introduced legislation in the House of Representatives to establish the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park.

The legislation is a companion bill to that introduced last week in the Senate by Senator J. Glenn Beall of Maryland.

The bill will establish as a National Park one of the last great historic, scenic and recreational areas in the eastern United States.

Callflesh, 20, of Salisbury, Pa., were injured when their automobiles collided head-on on the Amish Road, four miles north of Grantsville. Mr. Callflesh was treated by a Grantsville physician for a possible fractured nose, laceration of the upper lip and loss of several teeth.

Sanders Motor Is Closing Offices

Sanders Motor Freight is preparing to go out of business. The closing will affect some 103 employes throughout the territory including between forty and fifty at Oakland.

Labor trouble was given as the reason. The company secured a court restraining order last week against fourteen individuals and the Teamsters Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers union of Cumberland enjoining them from acts of intimidation, violence, picketing, etc., and they were given fifteen days to make reply.

Early this week the company began to clean out its warehouses. It laid off all employes in the various terminals except the managers and they are preparing to lay off the balance of the employes within a few days.

The company began business in Oakland in 1931 with one truck and one employe. It started to expand in 1936 and there are now over 100 pieces of equipment and an investment of $300,000. The annual payroll for the entire system totaled in the neighborhood of one half million dollars.

Election Board Now Open Just 2½ Days a Week

The Board of Election Supervisors, following a meeting on December 28, is at present keeping its office open two and one-half days each week and not full time. And there is a new person there as chief registrar having been named on a temporary basis, to take the place of Russell L. Smith, who resigned.

There had been some question about the office remaining open full time and such a recommendation was made by the Board of County Commissioners, in order to make it possible the board levied $8,200 for the Supervisors' office instead of the $6,200 which was requested.

Ward Hinebaugh, president of the Board of Supervisors, stated that at a meeting on December 28 it was decided to keep the office open only on Thursdays and Fridays, 9 to 12 and 1 to 4, and on Saturday, from 9 to 12. It was also decided that the chief registrar and assistant registrar would be paid on an equal basis, $1,500 each for the two and one-half day schedule.

He said the board received a letter from the Commissioners written January 12 stating the commissioners had considered the matter very carefully, and after securing the views of various individuals and the State Central committees, they had decided to abide by the wishes of the majority and increase the levy making it possible to remain open on a full time basis.

Mr. Hinebaugh said the Board of Supervisors met again on the 15th after having had the office on a half-time basis for two weeks and reaffirmed their decision to remain on half time basis. Mr. Smith said at that time he would be unable to remain at his job on a half-time basis and would resign. His resignation was accepted and Mrs. Bertie Thrasher placed there on a temporary basis. Hinebaugh said they would name a chief registrar soon.

The office is due to be reorganized in June when the terms of the present board expire. At that time two Democrats will be appointed and Republican minority member, and the chief registrar will probably be a Democrat, with a Republican assistant registrar.

Possibility For Medical Center At Friendsville Cited

Possibility that the medical center, planned by the citizens of Friendsville and Accident, would be erected at Friendsville, was voiced this week by the committee in charge.

The decision would be based on a recent letter received from the Sears Roebuck Foundation, written by Norman H. Davis, program director for all proposed medical centers, wherein he suggested that the citizens of Accident cooperate with citizens of Friendsville in the erection of a medical center consisting of two doctors and a dentist.

The recommendation was made after a "careful analysis of the tabulated survey forms from the Accident and Friendsville areas," Mr. Davis said.

The facts favored the community of Friendsville which will be closer to Accident than either Grantsville or Oakland. He said the foundation was dealing with facts, figures and from its vast experience gained from thousands of analyses of similar situations so that it would be proper to respect this decision by keeping in mind the benefits to be derived from the founding of a medical center.

"The citizens of Friendsville proved that they had our interests at heart because through the united efforts of the Rotary club, spearheaded by Ralph Beachley, they were successful in securing the practice of a very competent physician, Dr. Pedro Rivera, who has been residing in Friendsville for the past five months."

The tentative dates for the personal appearance of Mr. Davis in the Friendsville Elementary school will be February 9, 16 or 23. All citizens of Accident are invited to participate in the venture. Rev. H. H. Droutz, of Accident, said a definite announcement of the meeting would be made at a later date. Rev. Droutz remarked that the motive for benevolent support, interest and attendance to the meeting ought to stem from personal interest in health and welfare of each individual and their children, as well as those of their neighbor Friendsville is about eight miles from Accident.

Family of Six Die In Gas Explosion

Six persons, including four small children, were killed Monday in a butane gas explosion that wrecked a small house near the Galveston Ray fishing and resort community of Kemah, in Texas. The parents were former residents of Mt. Lake Park.

Officers identified the charred bodies as Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Neal Odem and their four children, Barbara, 7; Carol, 6; Neal, Jr., 4; and Deborah, 2.

Firemen said the explosion apparently resulted from an accumulation of the liquefied petroleum gas, a byproduct of natural gas. The family was moving into the house at the time of the explosion.

Residents attempted to rescue the Odems but were forced back by the fire. One said there was a solid sheet of flame and that people couldn't get closer than 40 feet of the house because of the intense heat, that the flames were boiling out of the windows.

Mr. and Mrs. Odem came to Mt. Lake Park in October, 1957, and remained in the community only for a few months. They moved from there to Somerset and then went to Texas, where Mr. Odum lived formerly. Mrs. Odem's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Landis, of Petersburg, W. Va. Her grandfather and two aunts still reside in Mt. Lake Park, Jacob Landis, Mrs. Ray Paugh and Mrs. Blair Simmons. Odem had accompanied the body of his world war buddy to Petersburg where he met the man's sister who later became his wife. He had just been discharged from the service when they moved to Mt. Lake Park for a brief period of time.

He is survived by his widow, Sarah Speicher Stark; a son, Richard Stark, Columbus, O.; a daughter, Mrs. Marie Glotfelty, Grantsville; and three grandchildren.

The body is at the Newman Funeral Home, Grantsville. Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Emmanuel Lutheran church by Rev. George E. Bowersox. Burial will be in the Bittinger cemetery. The body will be taken to the church at noon Friday.

Northern trailed 35 to 22 at intermission and at one time Southern held a 20-point advantage, but the Huskies closed the gap in the final two periods. Northern trailed 56 to 46 at the end of the third period.

What's The Answer? . . .

There's no room for that kind of coercion in a free country, either.

We don't believe the people quite realized what they were doing when they elected so many pro-laborite candidates to national and state offices last November. We don't believe people realized, either, what they were voting for when they refused to pass state right to work laws. Right to work laws are not leveled against unionism as such, but against the law that compels a man to join a union in order to hold a job. Unionism ought to sell itself on its merits but it should not be mandatory.

There is only one answer to the question that has turned up this week in Oakland, and any action now will be too late to help Oakland. But there must be fired up opposition to complete labor control in America or all our freedoms will eventually disappear. We will then be subject to the whims of labor racketeers. A reversal of policy is necessary not only in the sixth district of Maryland but all over this land. That trend will be reversed only when that forty percent of citizens who do not usually vote, storm to the polls and express their views.

The Maryland Farm Bureau is seriously considering this same problem and is recommending a right to work law in Maryland and putting unions under anti-trust laws. A speaker in its annual meeting last week said that farmers must lead the fight against the present misuse of power on the part of labor groups, and that if freedom is lost it is because American people care so little.

We need to do something about this very soon.

Further Information Given On Death Of Mrs. Fike

Further information was received in recent days concerning the tragic death of Elna Hylton Fike, wife of Rev. Lester E. Fike.

Death occurred September 9, 1958, in Burkittsville, Md., as she was preparing to enter an automobile which would have taken her to attend a women's meeting of her church.

Mrs. Pauline Guyton reached over to open the car door as Mrs. Fike came in front of the car. Her foot slipped from the brake to the accelerator and the car lunged forward, knocking her to the pavement. The car dragged her body some 30 feet and the left rear wheel ran over her body, crushing her chest. Death came almost immediately. She sustained bruises on her nose and head, abrasions on both arms and knees, broken bones of both wrists and the left elbow, crushed chest and collar bone, and fractured left leg.

Rev. and Mrs. Fike had moved just four days previous to the accident from Hagerstown, Ind. Funeral services were conducted September 15, from the Maple Spring Church of the Brethren at Eglon.

Surviving are the husband, two daughters, Mrs. Merrill Mow, Rifton, N. Y.; Mrs. Clyde Fry, Waco, Texas; five grandchildren; two sisters and three brothers, all of California.

A brief account of the death appeared in The Republican on September 18, but no details concerning the accident. Mrs. Guyton was absolved of any blame at a hearing before a magistrate following the death.

Mr. Fike for the time being is remaining at the Burkittsville Church of the Brethren as pastor.

Northern Home Ec Girls 'Cook Up' Real 'Wild Feast'

WHAT'S COOKING—MY DEER!—Alice VanSickle, Rose Holliday and Patsy Lee, left to right, prepare to serve a roast of venison, entree of a meal prepared by Northern High school home ec students as the result of a "wild" idea conceived some weeks ago.

Eleventh grade home economics girls of Northern High school "cooked up" an exciting adventure the other day. What started out to be a wild day dream became an actuality in the serving and eating of a "wild feast" in one of their classroom periods.

First they discussed in their unit on entertainment and traditional family holiday meats about the possibility of having a meal using wild game. As their plans progressed other ideas of wild food eased into the plan and before the discussion was concluded the "wild feast" had come into reality.

When class members failed to shoot any bucks during deer season they asked Harold Harmon of the game commission. He produced a fore-quarter of a deer that had been killed illegally and frozen until ready for use.

IT LOOKS PLUMB GOOD—And it was. Wild huckleberry and plum pudding topped off the Northern High school home ec girls' wild meal, served the other day at the school. Here are Maxine Durst, left, and Elmeda Wilt serving the wild honey hard sauce.

Here was the menu the girls prepared, most of the materials being completely furnished from the homes of the girls, from the school deep freeze or pantry: wild strawberry punch, roast loin of venison with onion rings, rice cooked in meat stock (they pretended it was wild rice, which was actually prohibitive as far as price was concerned), lemon buttered broccoli, wild plum jelly, salt rising bread (which gets its leavening from the wild yeast of the air) molded apple sauce salad which the girls had hoped to serve on wild lettuce (watereress) but which was frozen and unattainable; wild huckleberry and plum pudding served with hard sauce flavored with wild honey from a bee tree, and rum flavoring. The finishing touch was provided with glazed hickory nuts and black walnuts which the girls had cracked in class.

Some of the recipes turned out to be original, in the desire of the class members to use wildness.

The planning was done in deer season and everything possible was frozen ahead of time or prepared in advance so that the balance of the meal could be cooked on a day's notice.

Students did all the preparation under the supervision of Mrs. George Hanst, instructor, except the salt rising bread which was made as a demonstration by the latter.

Fifteen girls sat down to the meal during a class period one day early in January with table decorations including greenery from the woods. Elaine Chrisman, another instructor at Northern was the only guest.

The meal was listed chiefly as a conversation piece because it caused much comment over the entire school. Mrs. Hanst said there were many misgivings about the salt rising bread among students, a new item to all participants but that they approved, and even the ones who didn't normally like venison, liked it that day. And the strawberry punch and dessert were quite favorites, she declared. What venison remained when the meal was finished was consumed by other home economics classes.

Soldier Of The Month

Pfc. Willard "Bud" Reckart was chosen soldier of the month for January, at the armored school in Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Reckart is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fuller Reckart, of Crellin. He was graduated from Terra Alta High school in 1953 and since that time he was employed by the A. and P. Super market in Oakland and Clarksburg until he entered the army. He is attached to the first battalion, first training regiment, of the armored division.

AND, OF COURSE, PUNCH—We don't know if the deer was spiked, but we're sure the punch wasn't as Northern High home ec girls served it during their venison dinner recently. Lavada Sliger is serving. On her left is Dorothy Fike and on the right Miss Elaine Chrisman.

Rain at Both Ends

There was rainfall at both ends of the week but a variety of weather in between, which included an eight below zero reading, some ice, four inches of snow, some fog, and a smattering of sleet.

Some four inches of snow fell last Friday and Saturday to make perfect skiing weather for the week-end. Temperatures dropped to five below Sunday morning and eight below Monday morning for the coldest weather of the week.

Rain began to fall again on Tuesday and continued during a good portion of Wednesday. The temperature soared to 63 degrees, but strong west winds brought an end to the spring-like almosphere and the mercury took a forty-three degree drop in less than ten hours. The reading this morning was 20 degrees with additional snow falling.

Weatherman Ralph E. Weber said there wouldn't be as much snow this week-end as fell last weekend.

AURORA - EGLON

Word was received here of the death of Mrs. Ada Muntzing, of Maysville. She was the widow of the late William Muntzing. Last rites were conducted last week at the Brick Church of the Brethren of which she was a member. Burial was at Maysville cemetery.

A daughter was born January 14 to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Feather Eglon. This is their fourth child and first daughter and has been named Connie Sue. The father, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Feather is employed by Evans Lumber Company of Horse Shoe Run.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Parsons and family moved recently from Aurora to a home which they purchased near Oakland.

SFC Dale Knotts left the home of his father-in-law, Ira Harsh, Eglon, recently for California where he will be stationed for some time. His wife and family remain at the Harsh home.

SFC William Wetheim, wife and daughter went Sunday by plane to Germany where he will be stationed for a period of time. The former is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wilhelm of Aurora.

The Aurora Lodge held a celebration this week at the Lodge Hall in honor of the 88th birthday of Hervy Hardesty, of Mt. Top. About 50 attended.

Bond Evans who has been ill at his home at Aurora is much improved at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wotring, Brookside, returned Monday evening from a week's trip to Washington and Baltimore and other points of interest.

Mrs. Thurman Selders, Aurora was called to Mt. Lake this week because of the illness of her father, Bud Winters.

Miss Alma Donham returned Saturday to her home near Aurora, from Frankford, W. Va., where she had been visiting in the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Donham and family.

Appeals Case

Fred Humberson of Friendsville, took an appeal on the decision in his trial last Thursday in the office of Trial Magistrate Boyd Sanders, Sr. Humberson was charged by Myrtle Humberson with assault in the town of Friendsville which allegedly occurred on January 5.

He pleaded guilty to the charge and was given a year's sentence in the House of Correction and fined $500. The sentence was suspended upon payment of fine and costs. But he prayed an appeal and was placed under $1,000 bond for his appearance at the March Term of Court.

Clarence E. Bowman also was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction on Monday following a plea of guilty on a charge of desertion, neglect and non-support of his wife and child. The child is two and one-half years old. The charge was preferred by Virginia Bowman.

C. Daniel Houck pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to make monthly reports of the Schell Mining Company, Inc., for September and October and was fined $100 and costs. The charge was brought by H. B. Buckley, of the Department of Mines.

Oakland Native Is Returned to Prison

Richard W. Wilson was back inside the Maryland penitentiary on Monday faced with a possible extension of his five-year sentence as a result of his one-day sojourn outside the prison walls.

Police picked up the 31-year-old former truck driver near his home in the Pimlico section of Baltimore. He walked away from a work detail outside the penitentiary walls Saturday. A native of Oakland, Wilson was serving a five-year term for forgery in Baltimore county October 11, 1957.

Wilson was the second prisoner to escape from the penitentiary within four days and the other man is still at large.

Makes Appeal For Blood Contributions

Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman for the Garrett County Chapter, American Red Cross, made an urgent appeal this week for the fulfillment of the next quota of blood.

The Johnstown bloodmobile unit is scheduled to come to the Oakland fire hall on Tuesday, February 3, and workers are hoping to obtain at least 100 pints of blood from 12 o'clock noon until 6 p. m.

Mrs. Stemple said she wanted to emphasize the fact that giving blood was a painless procedure and that it had no harmful after effects. She cited the story of a man from Dallas, Texas, whose total donations have been 20 times the amount of blood that flows through a man's body. He has given 252 pints in the past 38 years, a total of 31½ gallons.

Normally blood is not given more than once every eight weeks, but throughout the 1940's this man contributed every three weeks by presenting his right arm at one blood bank and his left arm at another. A newspaper appeal prompted him to give his first pint of blood in 1920.

Two County Men, Girl Are Arrested On Morals Charges

Two within days have been charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl, and one of the men faces a possible carnal knowledge charge, according to State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover.

The charges are the outgrowth of a case investigated by State Police who said the 14-year-old Moscow girl at first reported she had been raped in the men's car last Wednesday morning, January 14.

Stover said Howard Broadwater, 23, and Thomas Wilhelm, 43, are charged with contributing to the delinquency of the girl, while Broadwater faces the charge of carnal knowledge. The girl also may be charged with being a delinquent minor, he added.

Investigating the case are Trooper Bruce Diehl, Tfc. Milton G. Hart and Tfc. Donald R. Wade.

Stover said Broadwater is being held under $1,000 bond in jail at Oakland. Wilhelm was freed under $500 bond.

State Police said the two men apparently picked up the girl shortly after midnight on route 657, west of Lonaconing and drove her along the Avilton road about a mile into Garrett county where the girl said she was assaulted. She first said she had been dragged into their car, police reported.

Police said the two men told them they took the girl home about 4:30 that morning. Diehl said discrepancies in the girl's story caused officers to question her further and she admitted she went with the men willingly.

Stover said a trial would probably be held later this week.

Scout Leaders Have Roundtable Meeting

Some thirty-five or forty scouters of the Deep Creek district gathered last Thursday evening at the Methodist church assembly room for the bi-monthly roundtable.

After opening ceremonies the scouters divided into group meetings with the following presiding: George Stuck, district chairman, for the district leaders; Bill Nace, for the Scouters, and Bob Stanton for the Cubbers.

The themes for the scouters were "Scouts to the Rescue," and "Backwoods Engineers." The theme for Cubbing were "Carnival of Colors" and "Canada, Land of the Mounties."

Plans were made for Scout anniversary week by both cubs and scouts. Kenneth Johns was in charge of the general assembly and announcements of district activities were made by George Stuck. Charles Newman, field executive for this area, had charge of the opening and closing ceremonies.

Goals for 1959 were a total of 250 members and five new units. There are units at present at Oakland, Mt. Lake Park, Friendsville and Crellin.

Would you like to be a child forever? Would you like to go sledding each time it snowed without a thought of shoveling the front walk or checking the firewood supply?

If at first you say yes, think again. Childhood is wonderful, but there are few of us who would want to be confined to it forever. Our natural urge toward growth is a strong one. We instinctively want to progress mentally, physically, and spiritually.

Nature will take care of a large part of the mental and physical part of our growth. But for our spiritual development, we must look toward the Church.

It is never too late to start learning—and you will find the Church the most patient of teachers. Start attending services this Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

What Is The Largest "Woman's Club" In Maryland?

136,500 Women Who Save Trading Stamps Are The Largest "Woman's Club" In Maryland.

Every day over 136,500 Maryland women make it a point to shop where they get trading stamps. This large group of smart, thrifty Maryland shoppers, with their common interest in trading stamps, can be thought of as a huge "woman's club" with membership in the state.

Of course this "club woman" gets wonderful things for her home and family through such favorites as S&H Green Stamps. Through her thrift and diligence she provides "extras" for her family. And although she may seldom think about it, her active saving is enormously good for business in our state.

Last year, for example, trading stamp companies purchased $5,416,000 worth of products from Maryland manufacturers. Making these things provided jobs for 517 Maryland people. S&H Redemption Stores, paying local rent and taxes, employ many more.

In the light of these facts it would seem that not only Maryland women, but everybody in the state can be thankful that the trading stamp is a part of our way of life.

ing; commending the University of Maryland and urging adequate appropriations; recommending greater emphasis on farm to market roads and less emphasis on roads for inter-state travel; recommending a 60-day regular session of the Maryland Legislature each year; endorsing a move to provide definite succession to office of governor of Maryland in case of vacancy.

Urging strict economy in government, urging vigorous attempt to apply equal and uniform assessment and exemption policy for all personal properties within the counties and among counties; opposing any action by any governmental agency which would alter the rights of farmer cooperatives as provided by Capper Volstead act; urged that seasonal workers be denied unemployment compensation when and if they can find employment; recommended appointment of a state water study commission to study problems relating to water rights; urging adoption of legislation which would legalize use of blood tests in drinking driver cases; urging citizens to take greater interest in schools.

The ten Garrett countians attending the convention included Mrs. Orval Glotfelty, Bittinger; Mrs. John Beachy and Arthur Fitzwater, Swanton; Mrs. Leslie Guard and Donald Frazee, Selbysport; William Umbel and Elra Garletts, Friendsville; Emerson Bishoff, Hoves; Russ Crowe and Otis Riley, Gortner. Mrs. Orval Glotfelty, of the Associated Women, was chosen as a member of the Board of Directors for two-year term, representing the four western Maryland counties.

Randall G. Spoerlein, re-elected president of the farm bureau, is a former Garrett county resident, now residing in Carroll County.

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, in addressing the convention, stressed that Farm Bureau needs to lead the fight against the present misuse of power on the part of the socialist labor monopoly of the AFL and CIO and warned of the dangers of inflation.

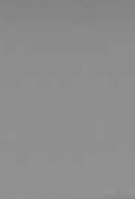
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Matthew 21:1-27.
Devotional Reading: Colossians 1:15-20.

Right to Command

Lesson for January 25, 1959

THE Teachers' Union in Jesus' time was made up mostly of priests. Some of these were mere political hacks, but many of them belonged to the old aristocracy, with pedigrees running back for centuries. They were no better than mediocre teachers themselves, but they didn't like any one else moving in to their preserves.



Dr. Foreman

So when Jesus came to Jerusalem, the big city, from up-country, and began to teach in the very shadow of the great Temple, the authorities were aroused. He could teach in Galilee all he liked and they wouldn't interfere—much. But let him come to the priests' capital city, where they were the ruling class, and they were determined he should line up as they told him — or else . . . What that "or else" was we know too well. But first they tried to get him into trouble with his public. For Jesus had what actors and writers call a "public," people who heard him every chance they had.

Show Your License!

The first move the priests tried was the same kind of thing a police officer does to any shady salesman or careless driver. Show us your license! they said, in effect. If Jesus said, God gave me the right to teach, the priests would surely retort, What conceit! How could God authorize you except through us, God's representatives among his people? Or if Jesus said that some man, any man, gave him the right to teach, the priests would lose no time in telling him that they were the offcial Teacher's License Bureau and had never given him permission to speak. Either way, they figured, he would lose face with his public.

Jesus' answer stunned them. It meant: You tell me about John the Baptist and I will tell you about me. This was not off the subject as we might think. Expressed more fully, what Jesus meant was: "Very well, suppose I received my authority from John the Baptist, as some of you may think." Where did he get his authority?

From Popular Consent?

There used to be a man who had no degree but his college A.B. The members of his church called him "Doctor" all the same. He used to say that his degree had been conferred by vote of the people. More important matters than titles can be conferred, in our country, by vote of the people. The authority of a president or governor comes from the people themselves. There is nothing essentially wrong about authority that comes from men at large. Indeed, unless the people consent, no man can wield authority. In one sense Jesus' authority came from the heart of the people. The common people heard him gladly, we are told. "This is our man and we love him. This is our man; he knows!" Unless a leader has something like that effect on people, he is a leader in name only.

From Personal Force?

But of course popular consent, popular enthusiasm, can be quite wrong. Look at Hitler in the height of his power. Every Nazi, millions of them, went screaming for him. He was Germany's "new Messiah." But that did not make him right. He was horribly wrong, in fact, for all the cheering.

There is another kind of authority, which comes from within. The man who has it does not need to appeal to any one else, he does not need to produce a license, he needs no sponsors. Now Jesus had that kind of authority and every one of his friends and admirers felt it. We read that after his "sermon on the mount" the people were astonished because he taught as one having authority, and not as the scribes. We know how the Scribes taught. They quoted authorities. Jesus had it.

From God?

Highest and truest authority is that which comes from God. According to the fourth Gospel, Jesus denied saying anything strictly on his own account. He spoke God's words, his teaching were God's teaching. "My teaching is not mine, but his who sent me," he said (John 7:16). Now every Christian in the world admits this. We all claim to believe that Christ's authority is divine. But do we act as if we believed it?

The Newest of Everything Great! The Greatest of Everything New!

Smart looking? You bet! And comfortable, too!

Sure, styling is important in a new car. You expect a new car to be sleek and smart—but not at the expense of comfort. Yet in trying to design a car as low and modern looking as the Swept-Wing Dodge, some '59 cars have practically designed out the people. Not Dodge. It's designed aronnd you. It's easier to get into (no protruding door posts), easier to get out of (no high door sills to trip over), more comfortable to sit in (there's room to spare). All this and Swivel Seats, too!

Southern High Takes Eik Garden 55-42

Southern's Highlanders found it necessary to stage a comeback in the second half to win over Elk Garden on Tuesday night on the Elks court. The Highlanders trailed 20 to 21 at intermission but outscored the Elks 35 to 21 in the final two periods to put the game on ice 55 to 42.

Jerry Wine and Terry Colaw with 18 and 15 points, paced the Southern attack while others adding to the total were Carlson with 4, Stemple with 5, Stuck with 6, R. Colaw with 4, Martin with 1 and Savage with 2.

Jerold Milavec scored 15 points for the losers while Stullenbarger had 3, Kitzmiller 8, D. Milavec 7, L. Evans 1, Harvey 4, Dixon and G. Evans 2 each.

Southern outscored the Elks 19 to 16 in field goals and poured in 17 out of 27 fouls compared to 10 out of 21 for the host team.

The game looked like a walkaway in the first period with Southern on the long end of a 11-4 count, but the Elks held a one-point edge at half-time. Southern put on a rally to lead 36 to 31 at the end of the third period and scored 19 points in the final period while holding the Elks to 11.

The Junior High team of Southern won the preliminary game.

Southern will meet Terra Alta in a return engagement on Friday night on the local court.

Mental Health Unit Is Providing Books

The Mental Health Association for Garrett county recently has placed several books in the Ruth Enlow library for the use of the public. A report of the activity was made by Mrs. James McHenry at a meeting of the Board of Directors on Saturday, January 17, at the Methodist church in Oakland.

The books include the following: "Parent's Guide to Everyday Problems of Boys and Girls," by Gruenberg; "The Child and the Outside World," by Winnicott; and "Mental Health," by Lang. She said additional information can be secured when requested by any individual.

Mrs. Paul Naylor, president, said speakers and films had been provided throughout the year to P.-T.A. groups and other organizations by Mrs. Bernard Guy, Bloomington, chairman of the Speakers' bureau. Mrs. Naylor added that a limited cash fund is now available for use of mental patients in the county.

The organization, less than a year old, has answered a number of calls and assisted in providing gifts for "the forgotten patients." Prior to the formation of the local chapter the Oakland Civic club and later the Woman's Civic club sponsored its program.

Others attending the session were Mrs. O. T. Graser, recording secretary; Mrs. N. I. Broadwater, Mrs. Ernest Spoerlein, co-workers; Mrs. Ray Jones, publicity chairman; and Dr. Arthur F. Jones, county health officer, who was elected as a member of the board.

James Frederick Ford, Oakland, Maryland, Plaintiff
vs.

No. 4912 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree for divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant.

The bill states:

That on the 12th day of June, 1935, your orator was married to the defendant, Martha Constance Ford, at Parsons, Tucker County, West Virginia, by a duly ordained Methodist Minister; that he resided with the said defendant until on or about the 12th day of June, 1949, at which time the said Martha Constance Ford deserted your orator, while they were residing in Phoenix, Arizona, that although the conduct of the plaintiff towards his said wife has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach the said Martha Constance Ford without just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted him, and has declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months, is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that three children were born of said marriage, namely James Robert Ford, who is now residing in Cleveland, Ohio, Sandra Lee Ford, who is now residing in Washington, District of Columbia, and Ray Allen Ford, who is now residing in Hutchinson, Kansas, that your orator is a resident of Garrett County, Maryland, and has resided in this County and State more than one year prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, while the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and her last known address was: 117 East Willette Street, Phoenix, Arizona.

It is thereupon this 2nd day of January, 1959, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiff, by having a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 30th day of January, 1959, give notice to the non-resident defendant warning her to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by solicitor, on or before the 14th day of February, 1959, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Three Are Poisoned Due To Chemicals

Three outbreaks of food poisoning due to chemicals have come to the attention of the local Health Department recently, according to Dr. Arthur Jones, County Health officer. A commercial dehydrated drink preparation was involved in each outbreak and the preparation of the drink included the use of a metal container he said. The laboratory analysis showed that the poisoning effect came from the metal container. He cautioned that in preparation metal containers should not be used but only glass, crockery or enamel which would not be affected by the acids presented in this type of preparation. Fruit acids are known to have a particularly corrosive action of their own on copper, zinc, pewter and other such metals.

Alencon lace appliques embellished the portrait neckline and face inserts and re-embroidered panels graced the full skirt. Her short veil was held by a coronet of sequins and pearls.

Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with rosebuds and satin streamers.

Miss Larue Calhoun, of Mt. Lake Park, was maid of honor, and the Misses Ailene and Marilyn Thomas, sisters of the bridegroom, and Dorothy Beckman, were bridesmaids. Flower girls were Misses Ruth and Frances Thomas, sisters of the bridegroom. Ringbearer was Terry Thomas. Frank Lewis, Oakland, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Community building near Blooming Rose. The bride's table, with arrangements in white and silver, was centered with a large wedding cake. Later the newlyweds left on an eastern wedding trip.

The bride was graduated from Oakland High school and is employed as receptionist in the Garrett County Memorial hospital at Oakland. The groom, who was on leave from the army, was graduated from Friendsville High school. He will remain in the armed forces.

Freedom to Advertise - - -

There is an anti-advertising tide in government that needs correcting and newspapers should have a large hand in reversing the trend.

Advertising is a very competitive business these days but it is cheering to see how all branches of this industry rally to the defense when one of its members is unjusly attacked.

This has been particularly apparent in relation to the government's attempt to ban outdoor advertising from the national highway system through a series of regulations which are obviously anti-advertising rather than anti-billboard in nature. (Signs without brand names, signs playing down brand names, signs erected by the government itself are OK—signs which advertise national brand name products are taboo!)

In some businesses a vicious blow against a competitor might be viewed with smug complacency. Not so with the advertising fraternity. For no sooner had the regulations been announced than "outdoors" greatest competitors—the daily newspapers and the consumer magazines—rushed to the defense and, through their associations formally condemned the regulations as an attack on brand names and private enterprise.

They realize all are in the same boat if the government decides to extend its anti-advertising barrage.

This year also the Treasury department jumped into the act by threatening tax penalties for advertisers who dare to criticize government. U. S. courts are being asked to stop the National Tax Equality Association from using advertising and publicity to debate the issue of taxes on cooperatives and now comes an effort by a Senate committee to limit expenditures for automotive advertising on the grounds that advertising increases costs.

Unless those who understand the importance of advertising are extremely vigilant the anti-advertising forces may gain a ruinous headway. And it is not just advertising. It is the freedom to advertise—or the freedom to do other things. The whole question is not just anti-advertising but anti-freedom.

Some Progress Noted In Company Dispute

Some progress was noted during the past week in negotiations between Sanders Motor Freight, Inc., officials and officers of the Teamsters Union, but nothing definite has been determined. Some of the company officials attended a meeting in Washington yesterday but the results of that session have not been announced.

Several conferences have been held since Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley rescinded an order restraining 11 individuals and the Teamsters union from mass picketing at the freight terminal in Oakland.

C. E. Stutzman, business agent for the union reported that prospects of an early settlement looked encouraging.

Teamster members working with Sanders have been off their jobs since January 10 in a dispute over a move by the company to establish them as independent contractors and not as employes.

There have been rumors of the purchase of the concern by another company, but these rumors have not been confirmed. Meanwhile while negotiations proceed, most of the employes have been laid off, with only a few being retained in the Oakland terminal.

The termination of work by the company has thrown forty people out of employment at Oakland and over one hundred throughout the entire territory. The annual payroll for the entire system totaled around one half million dollars.

Patton Is Eleventh Among Area Scorers

Patton, Northern High forward, stands eleventh among top scorers of the area, according to a tabulation appearing Monday. Patton at that time had appeared in 11 games and had made 81 field goals and 36 fouls for a total of 198 points.

A Ridgeley player with 354 points headed the list. J. Milavec, of Elk Garden, was third with 281.

Terry Colaw of Southern High, was 21 in the list with 174 points on 69 field goals and 36 fouls in eleven games played. Spear of Northern was 23rd with 165 points. Hetrick of Northern had 121 points and was listed as 57th.

Roads Department Completes Report

The County Roads department in completing its annual report this week, showed total income of $708,127.37 and total expenditures of $934,963.60.

Of the total expenditures $150,276.62 for labor and $181,686.98 for material and other expenses.

The department received $561,298.64 from gasoline and motor vehicle revenue and $81,287.44 from the County Commissioner levy. Maryland race track fund brought $16,711.71.

Snow removal last year cost $110,161.83, while rental of snow removal equipment cost $47,395.92. Quarry labor cost $37,730.95 with $12,752.30 being spent for quarry materials. Truck and equipment repairs took $29,146.63 in labor and $89,792.24 for materials.

The excess of expenditures over revenues totaled $226,836.23, with most of this deficit being made up by a loan on highway construction, amounting to $207,000 decreasing the excess of expenditures over revenues of $19,836.23. Cost of snow removal last year was highest on record and was made necessary by the severity of the winter.

The complete report is being published this week along with the annual statement of the County Commissioners.

County's Financial Statement Appears

The county's annual financial statement, required by law, is published in this week's issue of The Republican. It shows receipts of $933,003.10 plus a loan of $50,000, making total receipts of $1,033,003.10. County orders paid totaled $963,233.05, leaving on hand December 31, 1958, a total of $69,770.05.

The report shows the levy for each department and the expenditures of each. It also gives an accounting of monies received for the hospital, the sheep fund, the public school construction loan, the school bond issue, school construction, sanitary district, the cigaret tax, and for the natural gas fund. The entire report is found on pages 12, 13 and 11.

CHECK FOR FIRST AID SUPPLIES—C. A. Newland, division manager for the Esso Standard Oil Company, is shown presenting a check for $150.00 to Harold C. Ashby, president of the Western Maryland Ski club, last Thursday afternoon. The money is to be used to purchase first aid supplies for use at the Marsh Mountain slope. In the picture also are William Gray, local representative for the company, and Mrs. Guy William Hinepaugh, secretary of the Ski club.

Judge Reduces Two-Year Term

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley, at a hearing in the Circuit court on Thursday, reduced a two-year term in the House of Correction to six months in the county jail for Jack Hardesty, about 22 years of age, who resides in the Bethlehem section.

Hardesty was sentenced to serve the two year term last November by Trial Magistrate Boyd Sanders, Sr., after an assault upon Orval Bittinger, 71-year old resident of Mt. Lake Park. Mr. Bittinger was treated at the Garrett County Memorial hospital for a broken nose and other injuries.

Hardesty, who prayed an appeal, on November 17 has been lodged in the Garrett county jail since that time. A few days ago he requested an immediate trial, giving up his right to indictment by the Grand Jury.

The six months sentence is to run from November 6. Hardesty also was ordered to reimburse Mr. Bittinger for all medical expenses.

According to information furnished the State's Attorney, at the time of the hearing, Hardesty, driving his mother's automobile, narrowly missed Bittinger at an intersection. A moment later Bittinger was crowded off the road by the Hardesty machine and Jack Hardesty got out of his automobile and started for Mr. Bittinger. William Henry Hardesty attempted to restrain him but he assaulted Mr. Bittinger.

Blood Program To Enter Eighth Year

The blood recruitment program sponsored by the American Red Cross here is entering upon its eighth year next Tuesday, it was learned from Mrs. Grover Stemple, blood recruitment chairman.

The Johnstown Bloodmobile unit is due here on that day and will receive blood at the Oakland fire hall from 12 o'clock noon until 6 p. m. The program got under way in this county on February 2, 1952. Mrs. Stemple said. Since that time the local hospital has averaged at least one pint per day, or a total of 2,920 pints. These have been contributed through the Red Cross, either through the Bloodmobile or through emergency calls by Red Cross donors whose names are on file at the hospital. In addition 161 pints have been sent to out of region hospitals for use of county residents, making a total of 3,081 pints provided.

Urges Extra Effort

Mrs. Stemple stated this morning that because of two extreme emergencies at the hospital within the past few days, eight of the scheduled blood donors for the Tuesday bloodmobile visit were called to the hospital to give blood. Because this might have an effect on the total blood contributions next week Mrs. Stemple urged an extra effort on the part of people to provide the extra pints needed.

The amount of blood contributed during the past seven years totaled 3,174. She pointed out that 15 percent of all blood contributions are supposed to go to Civil Defense, so the county actually is in the red so far as fulfilling its total commitments, having used more than 85 percent of its contributions.

Mrs. Stemple had a list of seventy-seven people who had given anywhere from 21 pints to 7 pints, most of whom were expected to be present next Tuesday to continue their giving. Largest contributor on the list was Donald MacMurray with 21. Next in line were George Perrine and Rex Teagarden with 20, Logan Weber with 17, Roscoe Swiger with 16; Donald M. Browning and Lowell Loomis with 15; John H. Forman, with 14; Harold C. Ashby, Ross Crowe, Fred Onderdonk, Jr., Mrs. Ruth Porter, Herbert Wildesen and William H. Wildesen with 13; Thomas Browning, Joe E. Browning, Mrs. Wilda Sanders, Elmer Upole, 12; Richard L. Davis, Mrs. Kathryn Gonder, George Hanst, Joseph Kahl, James C. Lemmert, Mrs. Elizabeth Teagarden, Miss Cara Weber, Mrs. Mabel Timmerman, with 11.

The Center street Parent-Teacher association will meet on Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, it was announced by R. B. Sincell, president.

He said there would be an informal discussion on some of the needs of the school. Robert Rodeheaver, principal, will present some of the problems and those attending will take up the discussion.

Home At Leadmine Destroyed by Fire

Oakland firemen answered an alarm Sunday afternoon, to the home of Mrs. Rual F. Ball, four miles south of Horse Shoe Run, W. Va., and near Leadmine. The home was a "ball of flame" by the time the firemen made the twenty-mile run, and was entirely destroyed.

The Thomas Fire department arrived ahead of the Oakland truck and attempted to prevent the spread of the flames but without avail.

The cause of the fire is unknown. Mrs. Ball had left home January 24 for a visit in Tennessee. A son and daughter-in-law, also residing there, were not at home either when the fire started, being on a visit to friends in Terra Alta, W. Va. The fire was reported by a relative living on the next farm who saw smoke coming from the house. It was a frame dwelling.

State Ski Tourney To Open Saturday

The second annual Maryland Ski Championships will be conducted Saturday, January 31 and Sunday, February 1, on the 1500-foot ski slope of Marsh Mountain at Deep Creek Lake.

The two-day tournament is being sponsored by the Western Maryland Ski club and is sanctioned by the United States Eastern Amateur Ski association. Trophy and ribbon awards will be presented for np to four places in each of eight races held during the two days.

Competition will get under way on Saturday at 10 a. m. with four races scheduled. They include the intermediate slalom for women, intermediate slalom for men, expert slalom for women and expert slalom for men.

Sunday's races will begin at noon with the intermediate downhill for women. Other events will be the intermediate downhill for men, expert downhill for women and expert downhill for men.

Some seventy-five entries have been received and at least twenty-five others are expected from top skiers of five states. Groups of skiers from Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Washington, Silver Spring and Morgantown have indicated plans to attend. Mercersburg Academy will send a team and entries from Fort Meade, Fort Holabird and Bolling air force base are expected. Expected to participate in the tournament are Rick Marshall, member of the Canadian Embassy, Washington; and Eric Scherer, Washington, formerly of Austria. Typical of the top-flight women skiers who have indicated interest in the tourney are Ellen Hughes of Washington Ski club. Entries are unlimited as to age groups but junior skiers of proven ability are eligible to compete.

Several class A competitors have already filed entries. Ski officials said there were only about 25 class A skiers in eastern United States.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad is running special trains for the Sunday races, leaving Camden station in Baltimore at 6 a. m., and returning at 10 p. m. The usual week-end ski train will be bringing contestants and fans into the area for the events.

In case the weather is not suitable alternate dates already have been set for February 14 and 15.

A special Ski dance will be held Saturday night at the National Guard armory with the Diplomats furnishing the music.

All Western Maryland Ski club members are being asked to report for duty at 9. a. m. on Saturday.

Attends Meeting

Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty, Accident, president of the Republican Women's club, attended a meeting of the board of Maryland State Federation of Republican Women's clubs in Baltimore Tuesday.

Mrs. Robert Bonnell, national committeewoman, at a luncheon, stressed the need for more aggressive and sustained action in behalf of the party, emphasizing that the whole concept of freedom was based on a strong and vigorous two-party system.

One of the main objectives emerging from a GOP meeting in Des Moines was to recruit two million additional precinct workers by September, 1960. She said, "We have a story to tell and we should be telling it better than we are doing."

A national conference for Republican women will be held at the Statler hotel in Washington, D. C., April 14-16. A spring rally for the Maryland Federation is also set for April.

Mrs. C. L. Brown Is First Traffic Fatality Of 1959

Dies This Morning From Injuries Suffered In Collision Last Evening

Garrett county has had its first traffic fatality of 1959. Mrs. Mona Grace Brown, 54, of 115 Oak street, Oakland, died this morning following a head-on collision of two automobiles about 6:30 p. m., last evening on a State route 39, near the Carnation plant just west of Oakland.

Two other women were injured and are patients in Garrett County Memorial hospital, where Mrs. Brown also was taken.

Mrs. Brown sustained chest injuries, fractured left ribs, fractured right leg and lacerations of her face. Mrs. Maude Lawson, 75-year-old widow of 75 Second street, Oakland, sustained a fractured left ankle and a laceration of her forehead. Mrs. Hester Shultz Morris, 41, of route 4, Terra Alta, W. Va., suffered a fractured left leg and multiple bruises.

State Police said Mrs. Morris, traveling east on the highway, lost control of the car and crossed over the center line into the path of the car being driven west by Mrs. Brown. Trooper first class Robert Henline investigated the accident.

Mrs. Brown was the daughter of the late George T. and Lillie Walters Beckman and was born in this county September 9, 1901.

She is survived by her husband, Charles L. Brown, one daughter and two sons, Mrs. Maurice Wolf, Oakland; George L. Brown, Circleville, O.; Albert L. Brown, at home; three grandchildren; two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Hubert Foy, Oakland; Miss Ruth Beckman, Baltimore, and Harry Beckman, Cumberland.

She was a member of the Pythian Sisters at Oakland, the Moose auxiliary at Terra Alta, and St. Paul's Methodist church in Oakland.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete. The body is at Leighton Funeral Home.

Rash of Robberies Occurs Past 2 Weeks

Authorities are still seeking the individual or individuals who are responsible for the sudden outbreak of robberies in the Mt. Lake Park, Oakland and nearby areas.

Two weeks ago three robberies were listed as occurring at Loch Lynn Heights. The three places entered were the Loch Lynn Service station, owned by Cecil Hahn; Henry Gibson's Auto Wrecking office; and the Grange Supply Center.

Last week they entered Martin's store and took $14.75 from the cash register but apparently did not take anything else. They gained entrance by taking a back door from its binges. This was the second time for Martin's store, somebody having entered the place last November.

Parsons garage was also entered. Gregory's restaurant had a front entrance jimmied but whether or not they entered the restaurant could not be learned. Apparently nothing was touched and it is possible they were scared away. Also entered were the H. Weber and Sons office, south of town, and Chimney Corner, at Red House. At Chimney Corner they removed two windows, one from a rear door, and one from the front. There was no money in the cash register at that place and apparently nothing else was bothered.

There have been attempts in recent days to break into the Oakland Lumber company and the A. D. Naylor and Company store on Liberty street. The attempt to get into the Naylor store, Saturday night, occurred even before it had closed for the night. A rear door had been forced open but some clerk heard the commotion and investigated. It was well barred before leaving for home.

Makes Dean's List

Cynitha Nace, of Oakland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Nace was among the 211 students at Radford college, Woman's division of VPI, placed on the dean's list during the fall quarter, according to announcement by the dean this week.

To get on the honor list a student must earn at least 21 quality points in academic work and have no grade lower than a C.

Promoted By First National Bank

RECEIVE PROMOTIONS—The First National Bank of Oakland this week announced the promotion of two of its employees. Seated above, left to right, are Frank McDaniel, who was named cashier, succeeding George K. Littman, named executive director. McDaniel had been assistant cashier at the institution for several years.

County's Tax Bills To Be Mailed Today

Between 8,000 and 9,000 county tax bills were scheduled to be mailed to citizens of the county today, it was announced by Joseph Welch, county treasurer.

The list will not include tax on personal property, or those business places paying direct through the State Tax commission.

The effort is being made again this year to send out the tax bills as early as possible in the hope the county would receive enough return to run the county for January, so that it would not be necessary to borrow $50,000 on a short term loan as had been the case in former years. The tax forms are the same size as last year and are white in color.

On all county taxes paid during January and February a discount of 5 percent is allowed; on all county tax paid during March and April a discount of 4 percent is allowed; on all county taxes paid during May and June a discount of three percent is allowed. No discount is allowed unless the whole amount of the tax for the current year is paid. No discount is allowed after June 30, and after September 30, interest is charged at the rate of one half percent per month. No discount is allowed on state taxes.

The tax rate $2.00 on each $100 of assesssble property. The state tax rate is .1342.

Are Busy Rehearsing

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club are busy rehearsing for the three one-act comedies which are to be presented at the Dennett Road school on Thursday, February 26, at 8 o'clock p. m.

Plays are entitled "The Dummy," "So I Heard," and "Baker's Dozen." There will be entertainment and a candy sale during the intermissions. Tickets are available from any club member. The price is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

At an organization meeting of the Board of Directors of The First National Bank in Oakland one day last week, George K. Littman, cashier, was promoted to the position of executive director, and Frank McDaniel was named as cashier.

Mr. Littman has been an employe of the bank since 1924 and became cashier in January, 1955. Mr. McDaniel came to the First National Bank as assistant cashier from the Huntington Trust and Savings bank in Huntington, W. Va., in August, 1954.

Both advancements became effective immediately. Other officers remain the same. A. D. Naylor is president; E. Ray Jones, vice-president; James C. Lemmert, assistant cashier. The eight directors are Walter W. Dawson, A. D. Naylor, E. Ray Jones, Alva G. Gortner, Ralph Pritts, George Littman, Lowell Loomis and Dr. Andrew E. Mance.

Band Boosters Plan Dance For February 7

At a meeting of the Band Boosters club of Southern High school held last Thursday night, it was decided to have a public dance on Saturday evening, February 7. Music will be furnished by the Diplomats, Southern High school orchestra. Admission will be $1 per couple.

Two door prizes will be awarded. Mrs. Maurice Brookhart and Mrs. Wilbur Close are co-chairmen. It will be held in the gymnasium from 9 to 12. Soft drinks, etc., will be sold.

Purpose of the dance is to raise funds to enable the band to parade at the Safety Patrol day held in Washington in May. Money derived from the "Buck A Month" program now in progress, will be used only for necessities of both the junior and senior bands, it was stated. Booster officers are Merrill Cargo, president; Mrs. B. Beeson Snyder, secretary; Mrs. Marguerite Miller, treasurer.

Gas Production Shows Increase

County Commissioners Get Check For $20,406.38 As Share Of Total

Natural gas production in the past three months ending December 31, showed an increase of some $6,000 over the last report. The report was received this week by the County Commissioners. The check was for $20,406.38.

The number of cubic feet produced in the period totaled 1,121,615,000, more than twelve million cubic feet per day. The marketable gas was valued at $291,519.65.

The gas company's check was the amount for the seven percent tax on the marketable gas which was just $6,318.47 more than for the previous 90-day period. The largest check received for any 90-day period was $28,573.82.

The breakdown of the latest tax receipts showed $8,162.55 as the purchaser's proportion of the tax (2.8 percent) and $12,243.83 as the producer's proportion of the tax (4.2 percent.)

Thirty-four wells were listed as producing gas at this time, one more than the previous report. New on the list was Black and Frazee well, operated jointly by Snee and Eberly, which showed over 125 million cubic feet production. Two wells, the Bowser well and the Barbara Miller well, had larger outputs.

The Bowser well had over 194 million while the Barbara Miller well had 129 million. Other big producers include the Arnold George well with 111 million, the Collier well with 58 million, Miller well and Turney well with over 50 million each, the Earl Knox well with 92 million, Mitchell Rush well with 68 million, Whiteface well with 35 million, Herman and Hanlin well with 86 million. The first producer in the area, the N. K. Welch well, was still supplying over twelve and one-half million cubic feet.

The check was the first one on the new year. Last year's total was $83,888.56. The first $50,000 in any one year goes toward expenses of the school and indebtedness. The next $25,000 goes toward expenses of the Garrett County Memorial hospital and any amount above $75,000 goes into a fund for new school building repairs or additional new construction. A percentage of the total received by the commissioners goes to incorporated towns if a producing well is located within the corporate limits.

Since the first check for the tax on the marketable gas was received by the Commissioners in July, 1951, the county's governing body has received $385,623.22. The complete report of the production for the ninety-day period is shown in tabular form for the thirty-four wells.

Torch Lighting To Start Heart Month

The lighting of a Torch of Hope, symbol of eventual victory of medical research over heart disease, will take place Friday, February 6, 7:30 p. m., on the lawn of the court house in Cumberland to mark the opening of heart month and launching of 1959 heart fund drive.

The torchlighting is to symbolize the hope of the Allegany-Garrett county heart association that medical science soon will discover new means of treating and preventing other types of heart and circulatory diseases.

Henry W. McComas has been named as chairman for the southern district of Garrett county.

A large portion of the proceeds from the drive will remain in the area.

Where Does The Money Go?—The President's Budget Message to the Congress, delivered on Monday of this past week, contains many interesting facts. For instance: Of each tax dollar 59 cents will go for national security, or "military"; 10 cents for interest on the national debt; 8 cents for agriculture; 7 cents for veterans, and the remaining 16 cents for the other expenditures.

Where Does the Money Come From?—The estimate for the next fiscal year: 53% of the money will come from individual income taxes; 28% from corporation income taxes; 11% from excise (or sales) taxes; and the remaining 8% from all other receipts.

For added income the budget message proposes that the Federal tax on motor fuel and aviation gasoline be raised to 4½ cents per gallon and that certain loopholes in taxation regulations be stopped, particularly those affecting cooperatives, life insurance companies, and mine owners claiming depletion allowances.

The Goal—The President, in the budget message, gave a concise picture of what he wants the Government to do. The general recommendations are that we:

1. Strengthen the effectiveness of our Armed Forces by further modernization and by improved efficiency of operations; and strengthen free world security by continued military assistance to our allies.

2. Assist free nations in their economic development through well-considered programs.

3. Promote scientific research and space exploration.

4. Carry forward current public works programs.

5. Continue at a high level programs which promote the general welfare of our people.

6. Foster community development with increased local participation.

7. Discontinue temporary emergency measures and strengthen permanent programs for economic stability.

8. Continue the adjustments needed for a freer agricultural economy with less reliance on the Federal Treasury.

9. Reduce the burden on the general public for services to special groups.

10. Encourage private lending through flexible interest rates for Government credit programs.

11. Achieve long-run economies by adapting programs to changed circumstances.

Maryland Projects—The Army Corps of Engineers has requested funds in the amount of $3,090,000 for work on the Inland Waterway, Delaware River to Chesapeake Bay, and $560,000 for a special study of the Potomac River. These items were among those which the President recommended.

Civil Service Retirement Improvement—This past week I introduced a bill to better the lot of Federal employees. I feel that the pay and benefits of our government employees have not kept step with the pay and benefits of employees doing comparable work in private industry. My bill is designed to bring about a realistic adjustment. It amends the Civil Service Retirement Act so as (1) to permit retirement of employees with thirty years of service on full annuities without regard to age, (2) to eliminate the requirement that the five years used in computing average salary for annuity purposes be consecutive, and (3) to provide for computation of annuities on the basis of 2 per centum of average salary. The latter provision would replace the existing provision which calls for a complicated computation involving varying percentage with a final result which, in my opinion, is inadequate.

My Committee Assignments—At the opening of each new Congress, new committee assignments are made. I requested that I be continued on the Committee on Banking and Currency and the Committee on the District of Columbia. I enjoy my work on these committees and feel that membership on them gives me the maximum opportunity to serve my constituents. As ranking Republican member of the District Committee, I am able to take active part in the molding of legislation which greatly affects the residents of the Maryland area adjacent to the District of Columbia.

I was reassigned to these two committees. In addition, I was asked to serve on the Committee on Armed Services. I accepted. At a time when national defense is our biggest problem, I recognize the grave responsibility such an assignment imposes.

The Visitor From Russia—Anastas Mikoyan's visit to Washington is best described as "a feeling out" operation. Talks between Russia's second top man and Government officials concerned the many problems confronting the two nations. Neither side made commitments, nor were all areas of disagreement explored.

Mikoyan's suggestion, made here, that Soviet troops withdraw 500 miles east of the Elbe River in Germany, while Western forces withdraw 500 miles west, is an old gambit. It would mean, for one thing, the withdrawal of American and other Allied forces from all of West Germany and practically from Europe. It would leave Soviet ground and air forces posed in their own territory within easy striking range of Western Europe.

Naturally, the answer to this has to be "Nyet." It has to be "Nyet" also to Mikoyan's pleasant reiteration of Moscow's insistence that we get out of West Berlin and turn it into a "Free City," free, that is, to be swallowed up by Communist East Germany.

The reaction of amateurs to Mikoyan's visit makes one thing certain: only real pros, like the President and Secretary Dulles, are equipped to deal with the Russians.

Highlanders Trim Terra Alta 64-51

Coach Carl Schoonover's Southern High Highlanders rolled to their fourth win in a row and their eighth of the year last Friday night by gaining a 64-51 verdict over Terra Alta High, and making a clean sweep of the series. Southern won the opener 54 to 53 at Terra Alta.

The record now stands at eight victories and three losses. Losses have been to Valley, Piedmont and Parsons.

Terry Colaw, Southern mainstay, once again led his team in points with 24. He was ably assisted by Jerry Wine, Leo Martin and Dick Stuck who equally shared 30 more of the Highlander's total. R. Colaw added 4, Savage 4, Stemple 1 and Duling 1.

Morris, Groves, Clutter and Bill Clutter accounted for 46 of Terra Alta's 51 points.

The Highlanders led at all the periods 26 to 12, 37 to 21, and 43 to 34. Southern was ahead in field goals 23 to 18, and sank 18 of 25 fouls compared to 15 out of 27 for Terra Alta.

Deadline For Reporting Farm Wages Is Jan. 31

Saturday January 31, is the deadline for reporting the cash wages paid in 1958 to farm employees, according to a joint announcement of the Director of Internal Revenue and Social Security Manager of Cumberland, Maryland.

Farm operators or farm owners who have paid as much as $150 in cash wages to any farm worker in their employ during 1958 must file an employer's tax and information return for such farm employees. They must also report each farm employee who worked for them on 20 or more days during 1958 regardless of the amount of those wages if they were figured on a time rather than a piece rate basis.

May Extend Deer Season to 7 Days

Senator Fred Malkus, Dorchester Democrat, proposed steps to cut down the state's growing deer population by letting hunters have longer to go after them.

He introduced a bill in the Maryland legislature which would expand from 6 to 7 days the open season for hunting bucks, and provided for it to start and end on the first two Saturdays of December "so more working people can hunt them."

The season now begins on the first Monday of December and ends on Saturday. The proposal also would let the Game and Inland Fish commission set discretion seasons for hunting anterless deer instead of limiting the special season to one day during the week immediately following the open season on male deer.

Malkus contends deer are now eating farmers out of their crops.

Ernest Vaughn, director of the game department, endorsed the proposal.

Vaughn said the bill does not propose to permit anterless hunting in Western Maryland counties where it is now specifically outlawed. But he said if those counties decide they want such a season they can be included in the bill's provisions through amendment.

What Is The Largest "Farm Group" In Maryland?
29,600 Farm Families That Regularly Save Trading Stamps Are The Biggest "Farm Group" In Maryland.

America's farm families are traditionally thrifty. The same pattern of thrift is found in Maryland. It is only natural, therefore, that the response of Maryland farm families to one of the oldest forms of thrift—the trading stamp—is so noticeable.

Today over 29,600 farm families save them. You might almost say that these savers constitute the largest single farm group in the state.

During 1957 alone, thousands of dollars worth of trading stamp merchandise went into farm households in the state, and every 2 seconds a farm family is redeeming trading stamps.

There is still another side—direct income for farmers. During 1957 the stamp industry purchased from Maryland farmers $350,000 worth of primary materials that go into the manufacture of merchandise for stamp redemption.

No one can contemplate these facts and fail to realize that both personally and economically the trading stamp industry is a meaningful and welcome force in the life of our state.

Gov. Tawes Proposes $447 Million Budget

Gov. Tawes proposed a budget which would increase Maryland spending by $48,332,542 in fiscal 1960, yet is considered by state fiscal experts to be one of the tightest they've seen.

The $447,869,481 budget calls for no increase in taxes. The boost will be met through $26,215,797 additional in federal grants and $21,716,745 in extra state revenue gained from taxes boosted by the 1958 Legislature.

Tawes told the Assembly that he had cut $12,617,113 from the general fund requests over which he exercises direct control in order to bring the big spending bill into balance. This is nearly twice the amount pruned in recent years.

Tawes said the budget would increase "all essential state services" to meet the demands of a growing population and expanding school enrollment and hold the line on most other expenditures.

He left a surplus of $836,075 and expressed hope that a rising economy will permit an upward revision of expected revenues later in the session. He said if more revenue was picked up he would approve a model pay raise for school teachers and advance the date of a pay raise state employes are scheduled to start receiving May 1.

Tawes said 75 percent of the appropriations are mandatory or near mandatory.

Bill Passes House

The House of Delegates on Monday night passed House Bill 22 which would permit women to serve on juries in Garrett and Howard counties.

The measure was sponsored by the delegations of those two counties. They are the only two counties where women at present are not allowed to serve on juries. The bill still makes it optional. A woman is not compelled to serve. The measure now goes to the Senate.

Leslie F. Savage, chairman of the county delegation said yesterday that everything was going along smoothly, and that some additional legislation would be introduced possibly this week. One bill concerned the change in the working hours of the clerk to the County Commissioners.

He said that Arthur Green, formerly of Swanton, and a former Republican member of the House of Delegates, attended the session on Monday. He was recognized by the chairman in charge and escorted to the rostrum by the two Democratic members of the House, Mr. Savage and Elbert Buckel.

Army Now Offers Enlistment Choice

The United States Army is now offering the finest enlistment choice in its history, according to M Sgt. Wilbert L. Matheny, army recruiter. Under this new plan individuals enlisting can choose the exact Career Group in which they would like to receive training. Called the "Choose-It-Yourself" Vocational Training System, the new plan offers a young man or woman the opportunity to choose service in an Army Career Group that satisfies their own desires and aptitudes. The plan offers more than fifty Career Groups from which to choose; as a result, the enlistees are now able to receive precisely the training they desire.

For example, if they want to work in electronics, and have an aptitude for that kind of work, they are guaranteed on-the-job training or schooling in electronics after they complete basic training. This guaranty is entered in their army record when they enlist. This plan is the most unique enlistment opportunity the army has ever offered young men and women. The new enlistment options consist of ten major Occupational Areas: 1. Combat; 2. Electronics; 3. Electrical Maintenance; 4. Precision Maintenance; 5. Military Crafts; 6. Motor Maintenance; 7. Clerical; 8. Graphics; 9. General Technical; and 10. Special Assignment. Each of these Occupational Areas consists of a number of Career Groups from which the applicant may choose.

Young men interested in serving in the Airborne can enlist directly for that branch of the Army in addition to choosing assignment in a Career Group. More than thirty Career Groups are available for that final choice. The local Army recruiter will explain in detail the different Career Groups for each Occupational Area. He may be contacted by telephoning or by a visit to his office at Corner of Spruce and Walnut streets, Morgantown, W. Va., or by telephoning Morgantown 8924.

Mrs. Levering To Head New School For Girls

An article in The Baltimore Sun of Sunday, January 25, concerned the opening of a new private girls' school next September under auspices of the Benevolent Society of the City and County of Baltimore, to be known as St. Paul's School for Girls, and its headmistress, Mrs. Wilson K. Levering, Jr.

Mrs. Levering and her husband and family have been summer residents of Mt. Lake Park for a number of years.

The school will offer a program for grades five through nine at present, with a limit of twenty girls to a class to make it possible for counseling system. The curriculum will be based on a strong foundation of careful instruction in the fundamentals of learning with emphasis on the ability to read thoughtfully and to speak and write.

Year-Round Bass Season Proposed

Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission is advocating a year-round bass season and will introduce a bill in the General Assembly to that effect within the next few days, it was announced by Malcolm E. King, public relations director.

Ernest A. Vaughn, director, said that biological studies combined with harvest studies and stocking programs point to the desirability of a year round season for several reasons. He listed them as follows:

Biological studies show it takes the spawn of very few bass to provide sufficient natural continuation of the population.

Survival and production depend to greater extent upon environmental factors of water temperature, turbidity and competition from other species than upon number spawning bass present.

Natural mortality removes ¾ to ⅞ of each age group, occurring whether fishermen creel the fish or do not.

Tagging of hundreds of bass in larger state waters show that fishermen generally recover less than 15 for every 100 tagged.

Creel census at selected areas shows that harvest could be increased by year-round season.

In smaller state waters which are stocked, any fish when dies before being caught costs angler just as much as live one he creels. A year round season would provide angler with maximum opportunity to reclaim money spent on stocking.

Vaughn said recent lengthening of trout season to 11 months has resulted in creeling more trout and a greater return for funds spent. He said thirty states now provide for year round bass fishing.

Ticketed Twice In Hour's Time

Gerald Wayne Bray, a young man of Mt. Lake Park, was apprehended twice within an hour's time, both on charges of operating an automobile without an operator's license. On the first charge he was fined $10 and costs but the second time he was fined $25 and costs. He was committed to jail for twenty days in default of fine but was released Tuesday upon payment.

At the same time William Clem Butler was fined $10 and $25 on charges of permitting an unauthorized person to operate a motor vehicle. The fine and costs were paid.

Charges were brought before Trial Magistrate Boyd Sanders, Sr.

Two other automobile cases were docketed.

Slander Case Pondered By Court Of Appeals

The Maryland Court of Appeals has taken under advisement a contest in a slander suit.

Cecil E. Lewis, operator of White's Truck Stop on U. S. 50, near Oakland, asked reversal of a Washington County Circuit Court verdict denying his slander suit against Accelerated Transport-Pony Express, Inc., a Baltimore trucking concern.

The suit concerned a remark by Robert Broderick, safety supervisor for the firm, at a meeting of company truck drivers. Circuit Judge D. Kenneth McLaughlin ruled that such a remark would be slanderous but he said the corporation could not be held responsible.

The high court was asked to decide whether Broderick was acting as an agent of the company.

Librarian Speaks To Civic Club Members

Miss Edith Brock librarian at the Ruth Enlow library, spoke on "The Library's Service to Our Community," at a luncheon meeting of the Oakland Civic club Tuesday afternoon at the William-James hotel.

Miss Brock stated that the Library service has been changing from recreational to educational and that the public library has often been called "The People's University." Through the public library and bookmobile people are provided an opportunity to select books in which they are particularly interested. The library also serves students from a wide age-range. She said many college students come to the library on Saturdays and holidays and pointed out that the science and history collections have expanded greatly to meet the steady demands of students.

Miss Brock explained the service to individuals of all ages for personal growth and self-education and told of the wide variety of "how to do it" books.

She said that good library service requires cooperation of the government officials County Commissioners and the time and hard work of the Library board. The present board includes Lowell Loomis, Oakland, president; Mildred Beachy, Grantsville, vice-president; Mrs. Lewis Jones, Oakland, secretary-treasurer; Mrs Caroline Wilson, Kitzmiller; Mrs. F D. Bittle, Oakland; Mrs. Channcey Friend, Friendsville.

At present the board is working on establishing a branch library for the Grantsville area, which is made possible by a federal grant of funds for extension of library service in rural areas.

A resume of the history of library service here showed that the Oakland Civic club organized the first library in Oakland in 1915.

Miss Brock was introduced by Mrs. Merrill Cargo. Miss Brock a graduate of Wilson college and Carnegie library school, following graduation worked at the South Euclid Public library in Cleveland, as a cataloguer and assistant in the periodical room of the Cleveland library and has been connected with the Ruth Enlow library since 1950.

Mrs O T. Graser, president, conducted a brief business meeting and announced that the club had received an invitation to the international party of the girl scouts, to be held February 27. It was voted to send a telegram to Senator B. I. Gonder and the county delegation urging support of legislation to secure federal and state funds for the mental health program. It was urged that the club support the state project in its Care program in providing a new community center in rural Mexico.

"Our Growing Edge"

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

The next time you are tempted to speak in a disparaging manner about folks who come from other lands, who speak another language, who have different customs than ours, remind yourself that the world's culture, knowledge, and well-being have come from the gifted people of many lands.

The beautiful music we sing in our churches and which make our worship more meaningful, came from many lands. From Germany, especially has come a great heritage of music that has survived to our own generation. From Italy has come many of our great masterpieces of art, and from many other lands have come great discoveries in science and inventions that have helped to make all of our lives more productive and easier.

Perhaps in the field of medicine and the art of healing is this working together dramatized. There the talents and skills of many from all lands have worked together, making great strides against man's common enemy, disease and sickness.

For many years, the Rockefeller Foundation has worked for the health of the world, gathering its experts from many countries and studying the universal problems of disease. Its report some years ago affirms the faith that the fabric of an international world cannot be destroyed even in conflict.

Its 1942 report says:

"An American soldier wounded on a battlefield in the Far East owes his life to the Japanese scientist, Kiasto, who isolated the bacillus of tetanus. A Russian soldier saved by a blood transfusion is indebted to Landsteiner, an Austrian. A German is shielded from typhoid fever with the help of a Russian, Metchnikoff. A Dutch marine in the East Indies is protected from malaria because of the experiments of an Italian, Grassi; while a British aviator in North Africa escapes death from surgical infection became a Frenchman, Posteur, and a German, Koch, elaborated a new technique.

Our children are guarded from diphtheria by what a Japanese and a German did, they are protected from smallpox by an Englishman's work; they are saved from rabies because of a Frenchman; they are cured of pellegra through the researches of an Austrian. From birth to death they are surrounded by an invisible host, the spirits of men who never thought in terms of flags or boundary lines and who never served a lesser loyalty than the welfare of mankind."

Surely the knowledge of these facts should remind us to be grateful for those of every land who have given that we might have health, and a greater enjoyment of life because of them and their contribution to the entire world's well-being.

Meetings To Explain Four-H Club Work

"What is 4-H Club Work?" will be the question to be discussed at two meetings this week by parents and youth of the county in order to decide on the possibility of organizing new clubs in their areas.

Bethlehem area will be the site of the first meeting this evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of Stanley Roderick. The second meeting will be at the County Agent's office in Oakland on Friday evening, January 30, at 8 o'clock. The latter meeting will be for the Sand Flat area, north of Oakland.

Persons interested are invited. The program will include a sample 4-H club meeting and a film entitled "Tomorrows Leaders," showing 4-H activities in one county and what their part is in the present effort and the effect the entire 4-H program is having on the nation.

Bill For Parks Along Route 40 Introduced

A bill that would provide for a series of roadside parks and recreational areas along U. S. route 40 between Hancock and the Pennsylvania line, at the western edge of Garrett county, was introduced Friday in the House of Delegates.

Sponsored by William Walsh, Allegany county, would authorize the State Roads Commission to acquire ten tracts of land not more than 20 acres in area, along the scenic and historic road.

The SRC would then be given authority to turn the tracts over to the State Department of Forests and Parks for development.

U. S. route 40 is the route used by George Washington in 1753, by General Braddock in 1755, and played a major role in the development of the nation. It was the first road to receive federal funds for maintenance.

SRC figures indicate that a number of motorists now bypass the section of Route 40 involved and take the Pennsylvania Turnpike from near Hancock.

The bill declared if prompt and firm action was taken to enhance the scenic historic route, the SRC would receive increased gasoline tax revenues, and that areas of Western Maryland traversed by the highway would receive economic benefits.

The bill authorizes the SRC to build and maintain access roads to the parks and recreational areas.

National income rose during December and for year 1958 reached level of almost $369 billion.

Who's Who At Northern High

By Roth Westerfield

NANCY JO TURNEY

Since basketball season is well underway there is a special black haired, brown-eyed cheerleader who has had and still has lots of pep, steam, and energy for cheering the 'Huskies' on to victory. This energetic 18 year old miss is Nancy Jo Turney, captain of the cheerleading squad for 1958-'59.

The cute senior is a candidate for a stenographic diploma. With her busy schedule including shorthand II, office practice, English, problems of democracy, and bookkeeping which are all solid subjects, she is a member of the Cheerleading club, and maintains a very high scholastic standing. She has been on the Honor Roll every quarter all through high school. Nancy Jo is a past president of Northern's chapter of National Junior Honor Society.

If you happen to visit Nancy Jo at her grandmother's home where Nancy lives, you would find her spinning records, dancing, or typing, because they are her hobbies.

Her grandmother is Mrs. William DeWitt.

Along with school work and attending the basketball games, Nancy Jo is a member of the Hoyes Methodist Church where she sings in the choir and is a member of the M.Y.F.

To Fete New Eagles At Court of Honor

A district Boy Scout Court of Honor will be held on Thursday, February 12, during Boy Scout week, to honor three Eagle Scouts of the area.

They are Richard Stuck, Oakland troop No. 31; Foster Riggs II, Mt. Lake Park troop No. 70, and Maurice Brockhart, Jr., Oakland troop No. 31.

Stuck qualified for the rank before a council board of review in Cumberland last November, while Brookhart and Riggs qualified at the council board of review last Wednesday evening.

The court of honor to honor these three boys, who will be Eagle Scouts numbers 19, 20 and 21 in the district, will be held at the Dennett Road school at 8 o'clock p. m., and will be in charge of George H. Hanst, district advancement chairman.

This is the first district court of honor ever held and all members of the troops of the area, all cub packs, all explorer posts and their parents and friends are being invited to attend.

Included in the program will be a brief address by Ivan Hall, Potomac council's organization and extension chairman, who is an executive at the Kelly Springfield Tire company plant at Cumberland.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mt. Whitney in California: 11,496 feet high! Just one of the spires of the cathedral we live in.

When God made this world of ours he gave us many a glimpse of Himself. In the towering peaks we see His dignity—in the fertile plains, His providence—in the wild storms, His wrath—in the shimmering rainbow, His mercy—in the mighty falls, His strength—in the mirror lake, His peace.

But to reveal His Love—the greatest quality of God's nature—He gave us His Son, Jesus Christ . . . born in a stable . . . slain on a cross . . . risen to reign forever.

This world is the Cathedral in which men worship Him. Its altars are the churches to which the faithful throng.

Life is God's gift: To live in His Cathedral . . . and work . . . and play . . . and WORSHIP!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

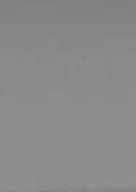
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Luke 20:19-26.
Devotional Reading: Romans 13:1-10.

In Two Worlds

Lesson for February 1, 1959

ONE WAY the enemies of Jesus tried to ruin him without going to the extreme of violence, was to try to make him ridiculous, to show him up as a teacher without answers, a sage without wisdom. So they asked him one day a question they could not have dared to answer themselves. Since Palestine was an occupied country at the time, it was a very hot question indeed: Is it right to pay taxes to Rome? "Yes" would mean the man who answered was a traitor to his people; "No" would get a man into jail.



Dr. Foreman

The Face on the Money

Jesus' answer was not all Yes nor all No. As he had done before, he put the question right back to the questioners. First he asked to see a denarius. The very name of the coin was Roman; it would be about what a workman in those days would make in a day. Of course the only money the Romans would accept for taxes would be Roman money. Like all hard money, this piece had a picture on it, and some words in Latin around the edge of it. JESUS forced the priests' spies to admit that the picture was of His Majesty the Emperor, then Tiberius Caesar; and the Latin words also referred to him. In short, the whole thing was Roman. They would be reminded that the Romans came to Palestine in the first place by the Jews' request; that they had brought peace to the torn land; that the roads and public safety were maintained by the Romans . . . all with tax money. Some of the tax denarius would stay right in the province. The face on the money spoke for itself. The Imperial Government had a right to lay a tax. "Give to Caesar what belongs to Caesar," Jesus said; but added in the same breath—"and to God what belongs to God."

Two Worlds

Ever since that moment, both followers and critics of Jesus have had trouble figuring out precisely what Jesus meant. One thing does seem clear enough. For the moment, he was shutting the mouths of those who tried to make him look silly. Without saying Yes or No to their tricky yet practical question, he called their attention to the fact that they owed Caesar something, and owed God something; and perhaps hinted that they were behind with their installments on both accounts. However, looking beneath the surface of Jesus' brilliantly simple answer, we can see a truth which is just as good for America as it is or was for a province of the Roman Empire centuries ago. Every man, whether he realizes it or not, is a citizen of two worlds. One is the human world around him, as in America here. All of us owe America a great deal. We can appreciate our country more if we stop to think that more people would like to move here, than to any other country on the globe. Our country has a right to our loyal support.

The other world is called the Kingdom or Realm of God. It is not visible always ("it cometh not with observation"), but it is far more important, and infinitely more enduring, than any human commonwealth. If we owe our country much, we owe the Kingdom of God yet more.

Many Problems

It is not easy to say, indeed impossible, just where the kingdoms of this earth end and the Kingdom of Heaven begins. People speak of the two worlds as distinct; other people say they overlap. One thing is sure: if they overlap, they do so in us, for we are citizens in both worlds. This raises many problems, especially where the two worlds overlap. Suppose the State says a thing is wrong which I know as God sees it, is right? Suppose the State commands me to do something I am quite sure God forbids? I know I should be a good citizen; but can I be a good citizen and go against my conscience? One thing is sure. If I try to be a citizen of man's world only, I shall find myself sometimes fighting against God. But if I take my citizenship in God's world only, I shall be indifferent to my human brothers and sisters. Only by loving both God and man can I be a good citizen of both worlds.

Huskies Lose Close One To LaSalle 60-57

Sophomore guard Carroll Wilt sparked the LaSalle High Explorers to a 60-57 decision over Northern's Huskies in a see-saw battle last Friday night on the SS. Peter and Paul floor.

The slam-bang battle had the score knotted nine times in the final half with Wilt, who obtained 24 points, and Northern's Charles Strauss, Jr., staging a personal show. Wilt and Strauss matched each other basket for basket in the early minutes of the third quarter, the former hitting on five straight and the latter on six straight. Both clubs converted on 15 straight attempts from the floor in the second and third quarters.

In the hectic fourth period the lead changed hands on 11 occasions with Dick Spear and Strauss of Northern and LaSalle's Mike Mackert and Mickey Scaletta doing most of the scoring. Mackert put LaSalle out on top 58 to 57 on a pair of foul tosses and Scaletta made the final tally on a hook shot with nine seconds to go.

Strauss had 19 for the Huskies while Patton, Spear and Hetrick split 34 of the losers' total. Northern's loss was its fourth against seven victories. Northern was on top 30 to 29 as the fourth period opened. LaSalle outscored Northern from the field 27 to 23 but Northern hit on 11 of 24 fouls.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Loyalty, Liberty and Responsibility

To qualify for benefits under the National Education Act of 1958, applicants must take this oath: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the United States of America and will support and defend the Constitution and laws of the United States against all its enemies, foreign and domestic." An additional stipulation makes it necessary for all individuals receiving payments and loans to certify that he or she "does not believe in, and is not a member of and does not support any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the United States government by force or violence or by any illegal or unconstitutional methods."

In view of the constant attempts of the Kremlin to hypnotize or mesmerize the American people, these could hardly be construed as unreasonable requirements for Government assistance. However, the American Association of University Professors, the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare and others find them objectionable. Newspapers of the reputation of The Baltimore Sun have joined the chorus of those calling for Congressional repeal of this loyalty provision - a "line" which, in my judgment, does not reflect the thinking of most Americans, nor does it do justice to the journalistic principles which the Sunpapers stoutly defend.

An informed citizenry is indeed an essential corollary of a free society. The public has a fundamental right to hear all sides of a question or issue, and in the doing, the four estate - newspapers, radio, television, periodicals, all media of mass communication - has an irrefutable responsibility which cannot be ignored, dodged or minimized.

Henry Steele Commager, the historian, once defined this pervading obligation in this manner: "Freedom (of the press) . . carries with it . . the responsibility to present news fully and fairly, to restain from the merely sensational, the merely trivial, the merely partisan, to refrain from spreading lies and hatred. . .freedom involves a positive responsibility to contribute to further freedom, to enlightenment, to truth." To this, the noted journalist, William S. White, has added that: "Journalism suffers quite as much - and maybe more - from overstating its responsibilities as from underdischarging the responsibilities it really has."

Similarly, citizenship entails a responsibility on the part of all to seek truth and enlightenment - a pursuit which someone put in these words: "The principal thing is for all Americans to find a way to hang on to what our forefathers called liberty." And, in hanging on to liberty, the fourth estate, university professors and others who mould public opinion should consider carefully their inherent responsibilities.

James Frederick Ford, Oakland, Maryland, Plaintiff
vs.

No. 4912 Equity, in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree for divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant.

The bill states:

That on the 12th day of June, 1935, your orator was married to the defendant, Martha Constance Ford, at Parsons, Tucker County, West Virginia, by a duly ordained Methodist Minister; that he resided with the said defendant until on or about the 12th day of June, 1919, at which time the said Martha Constance Ford deserted your orator, while they were residing in Phoenix, Arizona; that although the conduct of the plaintiff towards his said wife has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said Martha Constance Ford, without just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted him, and has declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months, is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that three children were born of said marriage, namely: James Robert Ford, who is now residing in Cleveland, Ohio; Sandra Lee Ford, who is now residing in Washington, District of Columbia; and Ray Allen Ford, who is now residing in Hutchinson, Kansas; that your orator is a resident of Garrett County, Maryland, and has resided in this County and State more than one year prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, while the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and her last known address was: 117 East Willette Street, Phoenix, Arizona.

It is thereupon this 2nd day of January, 1959, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiff, by having a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 30th day of January, 1959, give notice to the non-resident defendant warning her to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by solicitor, on or before the 14th day of February, 1959, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Don't Get Hasty - - -

The introduction of a bill in the legislature to abolish the Department of Information and attach its responsibilities to an economic development commission has caused somewhat of a flurry in this county.

Members of the Deep Creek Lake—Garrett County Promotion Council, and other local agencies and individuals are very much concerned with the outcome.

They declare they are not opposed to economic development in any way but feel that travel activities will be subjugated to the development program and will get pushed around with little or nothing being done in this category, if such a bill becomes law.

Since tourist business and travel mean much to Garrett county it is only natural that we should be interested in the outcome of the proposed bill.

During the past five or six years the qualities, pleasures and advantages of this area have been well circulated and much of it has been done by the Department of Information which has cooperated in our every effort here.

As Helmuth Heise, president of the Promotion council, has pointed out, the regulations in the proposed bill would put Baltimore city in control of the new development's commission, and there is every possibility that Garrett county would suffer from inactivity of that commission. The bill calls for one representative from Western Maryland, one from southern Maryland, one from the Eastern Shore, and three from Baltimore city.

We hope that our legislators will go slowly on this question. The Department of Information has an annual budget of $62,000 and nobody knows what would happen to it if the department were absorbed in the proposed new agency. The economic development commission would have an initial budget of $150,000 to use toward promoting industrial expansion in Maryland and promote recreational activities, including travel. One doesn't need to guess to say that the last two activities would get the short end of the deal.

We need our travel and our recreation possibilities increased, not lessened.

Groundhog Positive of Six More Weeks Winter Weather

"You get harder to find every year," we said to Mr. Groundhog early Monday morning when we finally located him at his new home near the gun on the Court House lawn.

"Don't be surprised, hub," he replied. "As I recall, last year I told you I might have to move when they put in that new road at Weber's Crossing—and sure enough, I did. Made quite a neat pile from the State Roads Commission, too. Enough to send the old lady to Florida for a month. Me, I have to stay here and check on this pesky weather."

"Well," we said, "that shows a fine devotion to duty, and we're glad you profited by the move. But how come you picked the Court House lawn for your new home?"

"Simple, hub," he said. "You must not keep up with the news. For years I've been a registered Democrat, and when they moved in I figured it was time for me to get on the boat, too. So here I am. I'm even trying to get my oldest boy a job with the roads department."

"Well," we said, "enough of the small talk. What I came to see you about is the prospects for the next six weeks."

"Look over your shoulder, hub. See that sun? It might be eleven below zero, but that sun is shining bright enough for anyone to see a shadow—and that means six more weeks.

"Of course," he continued, "you folks haven't had any winter to speak of compared with other places. Why, they even had to postpone the ski tournament over the week-end because of lack of snow. But you'll get your share from now on. Remember last February?"

We said that we did.

"If anybody then said there was snow news in the paper, they were right," he quipped. "The pages were full of it. Now I don't expect anything that bad, but my prediction is for snow off and on through the middle of March. And don't take my word for it—just look at your almanac."

He started to close the door. "Sorry, hub, that's all the time I can spare you this morning. The County Commissioners are meeting today and I've got to be there."

"What do you want with the County Commissioners," we asked, always on the alert for a news story.

"Well," he replied, "I'll tell you. They've raised my tax assessment and I want to do something about it. Besides," he whispered, "who ever heard of a groundhog paying taxes at all? See you next year!"

Homemaker Winner At Southern Named

Miss Jean Beachy, senior student, has been declared the winner of the Homemaker of Tomorrow test by Betty Crocker at Southern, it was announced by Ernest Spoerlein, guidance counselor.

She will be presented with the Homemaker of Tomorrow heart-shaped pin with a home fireside hearth engraving, representing the slogan, "Home Is Where the Heart Is."

Her examination paper also will be entered in the judging for the State Homemaker of Tomorrow. First prize in the state will be a $1,500 college scholarship and an education tour of Washington, Mt. Vernon, Williamsburg and New York city. State winners also will be honored at a dinner in Minneapolis, Minn. The national winner will be announced April 10.

The scholarship of the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow is being increased to $5,000 with runner-up receiving $4,000 grant; third place, $3,000; and fourth place $2,000.

Miss Beachy received the highest score in Southern for a fifty-minute written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes.

RECORDS IN ONE SPOT—Weather records of the county are now concentrated in a central location since Mr. Groundhog, weather prognosticator, was forced to move from his long-time Weber Crossing location due to road construction. Here he is, as seen Monday by The Republican's greundhog interviewer, on the court house lawn where he moved shortly after the Democratic landslide of last November. A registered Democrat for many years, Mr. Groundhog was quoted as saying "It's very pleasant living here, but I realize my lease is up for renewal in slightly less than four years."—Photo by The Republican.

Southern Quint Wins Over Valley

Highlanders Snap 14-Game Win Streak With 54-53 Victory

Southern High school's Highlanders reached the heights at Lonaconing Tuesday night and broke Valley High's winning streak that had extended over 14 games with a 54 to 53 victory in the closing minutes of the contest.

Coach Carl Schoonover's crew thus avenged a 59-43 defeat suffered at the hands of Valley earlier in the season at Oakland. Valley was the only undefeated team in Allegany and Garrett counties prior to Tuesday's upset.

The game was fairly clean all the way but hard-fought and the Highlanders kept the pressure on their opponents all the way. It was all tied up at 13-all at the end of the first period but Valley held the edge 28 to 25 at half time. Southern soon evened the count and went ahead to remain in front until the close of the third period when the count stood 40 to 40. A foul goal by Colaw put the count at 52. Lauder sank a goal to put Valley in the lead 53 to 52 with less than a minute to go. Two foul goals by Don Stemple put Southern ahead 54 to 53. With some 18 seconds remaining, Valley took the ball and worked toward the basket and waited for its final chance. Lauder finally shot and the ball bounced off the rim. Southern grabbed the rebound and moved up the floor and it was all over for Valley. The final gun sounded so Southern was once more on the offensive.

The score was tied seven times during the hectic battle. It was Southern's ninth victory against five defeats for the season.

Lauder was the game's leading scorer with 22 points on eight field goals and six out of six at the foul line. Terry Colaw slammed in 19 points on eight field goals and three points at the foul line. Ron Colaw who gathered many rebounds and played outstanding ball had 12 points, Wine 10, Martin 2, Stemple 9 and Carlson 2 to complete the Highlander scoring.

For Valley Metts had 3, R. Garlitz 8. Winner 12, Chappell 2 and Brown 6.

Southern held a 21-20 edge in field goals. At the foul line the Highlanders hooped 12 of 15 shots while the Knights sank 13 of 19.

The Southern Jayvees also won the preliminary contest 54 to 45.

The Highlanders will meet Elk Garden this evening on the Oakland court in the second game of the week. They lost a close one last Friday at Parsons 53 to 50.

Local Hospital Has Biggest Month Ever

Garrett County Memorial hospital has just concluded its busiest month in history, it was announced by Henry W. McComas, hospital superintendent.

Admissions at the hospital have gone as high as 68 in one week, with other weeks' admissions being 60, 57 and 64. During January there were 248 patients discharged. There was a total of 1,480 patient days.

There were 815 X-ray pictures taken which Mr. McComas pointed out were one third more than taken at the Grafton City hospital.

During the month 26 major operations and 30 minor operations were performed. There were forty-four newborn babies.

Firemen to Observe Burning of Mortgage

Members of the Oakland Fire Department, Inc., have extended an open invitation to all citizens to attend a mortgage burning ceremony at the fire hall next Thursday evening, February 12, at 7:30 o'clock.

The mortgage originally for $20,000, has been completely paid, and officers will be on hand for the official burning at a special ceremony on that evening.

The fire company was organized in 1925 and incorporated in 1933. There are 35 active members. The company has a modern fire house and three pumpers, fully equipped. There will be a short program and citizens will be invited to inspect the building and equipment. Light refreshments will be served.

The fire department building will be open for inspection of equipment at noon in order for farm people and others who might be unable to attend during evening, it was stated.

Students Hurt When Bus Strikes Truck

Two Valley High school students were hospitalized and four others were injured Monday when a Garrett County school bus with a frosty windshield smashed into the rear of a Garrett County Roads department truck.

Admitted to Miners hospital in Frostburg were Owen Crowe, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crowe, of Avilton; and Gladys Wilhelm, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wilhelm, also Avilton.

The collision occurred on County route 657 around 8.30 a. m. as the school bus was transporting students from Avilton to Valley High in Lonaconing.

Frank Robeson, driver of the bus, said his windshield was continually icing up due to the morning's low temperature. He said he would stop to scrape it often and was about to do so again when he rammed into the rear of the truck. Robeson was coming down a steep mountain side which leads into Lonaconing.

Neither Robeson nor any workers on the truck were injured.

Treated at Miners hospital and released were Catherine Wilhelm, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wilhelm; Delores Garlitz, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Garlitz; Jackson Green, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Green; and Delores Broadwater, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Broadwater, all of Avilton.

Hospital attaches said Gladys Wilhelm sustained chest and leg injuries, while the Crowe youth suffered back injuries.

Ralph Swauger, director of the Maryland Forestry camp near Lonaconing, took the students to school from where they were transported to the hospital. All six were X-rayed.

Condemnation Suits Are Filed in Court

Two condemnation suits were filed in the Circuit Court in Oakland on Monday by the State Roads Commission. The commission seeks land owned by Edward and Thelma Glotfelty, and George and Ellen Zimmerman, Harlen and Donna Witt, which is located along the Crellin to Hutton highway, Maryland route 39.

The land being taken will be used in the highway improvement scheduled to be made there this year.

The Roads commission has placed a check in the Circuit Court in the amount of $485.00 for 2.725 square feet desired from Edward and Thelma Glotfelty, of Hutton, and Stanley Coal company, Crellin, which has mineral rights under the land.

The commission also has placed a check in the Circuit Court in the amount of $180.00 for .39 of an acre of land from the Zimmermans who have surface rights, Hutton, and the Wilt, of Mt. Lake Park, who have the mineral rights under the property.

The amounts filed were considered unsatisfactory by the owners. The cases will be heard in the Circuit court in the near future.

Elect Councilmen At Friendsville

Ralph Beachley, Eugene Shes and Cecil Schroyer were elected to the Friendsville City council at an election held there on Tuesday. They received 69, 57 and 45 votes respectively.

Unsuccessful candidates were Olen Friend, with 39 votes and Richard Coddington with 37.

An organization meeting is scheduled for Monday, March 2.

Mayor Karol Rush has another year to serve as do Chauncey Friend, Edgar Bartholomew and Ross Selby, council members.

Plan Lenten Services

Mid-week Lenten services have been planned for St. Paul's Methodist church in Oakland, it was announced this week.

There will be no union Lenten services except the Good Friday three-hour service which will be held in the Oak Park Church of the Brethren from 12 to 3 o'clock.

Most of the churches of town are having their own services next Wednesday evening, February 11. Ash Wednesday, at which time there will be Holy Communion.

The Rev. Charles Godwin, pastor of St. Paul's church, will be in charge of all the mid-week services during Lent. He has extended an invitation to members of other churches to participate.

Mayor & Council Seek Salary Hike

The Mayor and Town Council, Oakland, by action last night, signified intention of seeking an increase in their salaries and have asked the city attorney, Lewis R. Jones, to prepare a bill for legislative action.

The intent would be to raise the salary of the six councilmen from $100 to $300 per year, and the mayor from $200 to $500 per year.

At the same time the council also instructed the attorney to draw up a resolution leading to an amendment to the city charter to abolish the job of treasurer, since the treasurer's work was termed a duplication of effort now done by the clerk-collector. Under the resolution the work would be done by the clerk-collector.

Set Up Election Machinery

The necessary machinery for conducting the annual municipal election was outlined also at last night's session. The election will be held on Monday, March 9, at which time three councilmen and a treasurer will be elected. The last day to file for office is February 25, at 4 p. m., and the last day for voters to register who have not previously done so is February 28, at noon. A person may register any day during office hours up until that time.

Mrs. Joseph Gonder and Mrs. A. G. Heseu were named register judges; Miss Elizabeth West and Miss Floss Shaffer as machine judges.

New Auto Tags For 1959 Have Arrived

Around 4,000 sets of auto license plates for the 1959-60 year for passenger automobiles have been received at the office of Joseph H. Welch, county treasurer. They won't be on sale, however, until sometime in March.

The tags will have a blue background with white numbers and letters, just the reverse from present tags. They will be for both front and rear of the automobile. They must be attached to automobiles by April 1 and may be attached after March 1. The tags will expire March 31, 1960.

Garrett county tags have the letters GC and numerals starting with 25-01 and running to 64-99.

License plates also may be obtained by sending the applications direct to the office of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles in Baltimore. Application blanks have not yet been mailed to auto owners from the commission office but this will be done the latter part of February.

No special numbers will be available this year. Welch said his office would strictly adhere to the regulation of the department, "first come first served." All tags are to be sold consecutively just as they come off the pile.

Rabid Fox Killed

A fox that turned out to be rabid, was killed one day last week in the White Church-Steyer area.

State Trooper Donald Tucker narrowly missed running over it on the higaway and it was discovered later eating out of a cat dish on the farm of Arthur C. White. Mr. White shot it and brought the head to Dr. F. D. Custer to be sent away for examination.

The report came back that the fox had rabies.

Dr. Custer said another fox also from the same area, had been shot and was now in the process of being examined.

There were no exposures by people in either case.

State Ski Tourney Set For This Week

Lack Of Snow Prevented Races Last Saturday And Sunday

The second annual Maryland Ski championships, postponed from last week-end because of the lack of sufficient snow, have been reset for this Saturday and Sunday, February 7 and 8, on the slope of Marsh Mountain at Deep Creek Lake near McHenry.

Competition is scheduled to get under way Saturday morning at 10 o'clock with four races. Sunday races will begin at noon.

Some seventy-five entries were all set to appear here last week-end but a combination of rain and warm weather took most of the snow from the area. A light snowfall made skiing possible on Sunday for local enthusiasts.

Saturday's races will include intermediate slalom for both men and women and expert slalom for men and women.

On Sunday there will be an intermediate downhill and expert downhill for women and men.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad is running a special train for the Sunday races and the usual week-end ski train will bring contestants and fans into the area for the events.

Red Cross Receives 121 Pints of Blood

The American Red Cross received 121 pints of blood Tuesday at the Oakland fire hall as the blood recruitment program began its eighth year in the community. It was the largest amount contributed since 1956.

A breakdown of the figures showed that there were 108 persons scheduled, that 65 kept their appointment. There were 70 walk-ins, and 18 of them were first-time donors. Fifty-six pints contributed were for replacements. One of those giving was a soldier, home on leave. Emile Germain again took his school bus to Gortner and returned with twenty or more volunteers from among the Amish.

Lowell Loomis and Donald M. Browning became members of the two-gallon club, contributing their sixteenth pint since the program started.

Fourteen persons received gallon club pins. They included Maurice Brooklfart, Kenneth Johns, Jefferson Lohr, Arlie Martin, S. R. Pagenhardt, Robert Stemple, Irvin Feld, Hubert Custer, Kenneth Ridder, Ross Crowe, Ellis Teets, Howard Jones, Edward Callis and Mrs. Lindsay Gonder.

Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman, expressed her appreciation for all of the contributions and for the volunteer services that are rendered during each visit.

The next visit to Oakland will be sometime in June, it was announced.

Win Talent Show

Jim Callis won first place in the talent show conducted at Southern High school yesterday. Callis presented a drum solo. The Ivy Leaguers, singers, placed second. Judy Taylor and Barbara Zepp, dancers, placed third.

Freshmen and sophomores in the Southern High school may register for the new National Educational Development Testing program, Principal W. Kenneth Johns stated today when announcing details of the new test. Student participation is on a voluntary basis.

The new tests have numerous guidance values for the student and his parents, and for teachers and counselors. Because the test is similar to the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, students can note their progress from year to year.

Ernest Spoerlein, guidance counselor, listed the following major features of the test:

Guidance values for participating students. Identification and motivation of talented students. Provides basis for measuring educational growth from year to year. Interpretive materials for the school, student and parent.

"These tests will be administered on Tuesday, April 28," he said.

The new NEDT is a National Merit Scholarship type test of educational development constructed by Dr. F. F. Lindquist for Science Research Associates. Administration time is approximately three hours, and scores are provided in the following areas: English Usage, Social Studies Reading, Mathematics Usage, Natural Sciences Reading.

Word Usage

Prior to the examination all students who register will receive a Student Information Bulletin which supplies complete information and sample test questions.

Students may plot their scores on the student Profile Leaflet to learn how they compare with other students at the grade level across the nation. After reviewing this profile with their counselors or teachers, students will be better prepared to discuss more realistically with their parents the implications of their scores and their educational strengths and weaknesses. A copy of the profile is detachable so that the student can take it home. "Along with other school records, these test results may be used to direct more effectively the educational career of each student tested," Mr. Spoerlein said.

In recognition of superior academic accomplishment, the top 25 percent of participants in each state will receive Certificates of Educational Development. Freshmen and sophomores are not eligible for National Merit Scholarships.

The charge for taking the test is $1.00 per student.

The new test will be administered by Science Research Associates of Chicago which also administers the widely used National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, used with almost one-half million high school juniors and seniors.

Bill Seeks End Information Dept.

Would Be Tied Up With Economic Development—Hearing Set Today

Representatives of Maryland's tourist industry sought yesterday to slow down a bill which would abolish the Department of Information and incorporate its function in a new economic development agency.

The administration backed bill, introduced last Friday, was approved by the Ways and Means committee Wednesday morning and was to have reached the floor of the House that afternoon. However Chairman Boone agreed to hold it up for one more day to give tourist interests a chance to be heard. The hearing was set for 11 o'clock this morning.

Twenty-four persons from various hotels, motels and other travel businesses planned to protest the fast movement of the legislation. Some were directors of the Maryland Travel Council.

They expressed fear that the present functions of promoting tourist travel would not be carried out by the new agency. Delegate Loveless who drafted and sponsored the bill at Gov. Tawes' request, said there was no intention of cutting back on tourist promotion and that they would even find it expanded under the new set-up.

The group appeared to be concerned also about what would happen to the department's $62,000 budget when it became absorbed in the new agency.

The economic development commission would have an initial budget of $150,000, Loveless said, to use toward promoting industrial expansion in Maryland and recreational activities including travel. The bill's only direct reference to the Department of Information calls for abolishing that agency.

Helmuth Heise, president of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion council, said his group was much concerned about the turn of events and definitely was opposed to such a proposed change. He pointed out that the bill called for one director from Western Maryland, three from Baltimore, one from Southern Maryland and one from the Eastern Shore, which immediately gave Baltimore the edge in any proposals. Heise said the banks and other local groups were also opposed. He said they were not opposed to economic development but wanted travel on an equal status and not subjugated to any other kind of development.

Commissioners Plan To Enforce Dog Law

The County Commissioners took action this week to start enforcement of the dog licensing law.

Actually the law has been on the statutes for a number of years and at various times there has been an attempt to enforce the law, but it has never been very successful.

The previous Board of County Commissioners received numerous complaints about dogs killing sheep, chasing game and causing other damage, and since the board took office additional complaints are being received daily, according to Mrs. Virginia Fizer, clerk.

The Commissioners, in deciding to do something about it, have placed an order for 3,000 license tags. These tags will be available by April 15 and must be purchased and placed on all dogs by July 1.

The licenses will be effective from July 1 to June 30, 1960, and may be obtained after April 15 by making application to the county treasurer, Joseph H. Welch.

Article 56, section 191 specified that the license fee for male dogs and spayed females is $1; for unspayed females, $2; and kennel licenses $10 or $20, depending upon the number in the kennel.

The commissioners said this week that they planned a strict enforcement of the law, by the sheriff and the constables of the county.

Increase of T.B. In Cattle Is Discussed

The increase of tuberculosis in cattle in Maryland came under discussion at a meeting of State and Federal regulatory veterinarians held in Baltimore on Monday, January 26. Dr. F. D. Custer was among those in attendance.

He said that the requirements that Garrett county must meet by March 1 to maintain the status of a modified, accredited tuberculosis-free area, were also discussed. He said an infection rate of less than 0.5 percent is necessary to keep the modified accredited status, and that it would be necessary to make some 2,000 more cattle tests to meet the requirements.

He pointed out that the modified accredited status was of great value to the county as it helped to make the cattle more desirable for export and increased the marketing advantages for dairy products.

Dr. Custer also attended the Maryland State Veterinary Medical association meeting in Baltimore on January 27 and 28 where he gave a paper discussing "Tetany in Cattle on Winter Rations," a problem which is considered of great importance to the beef cattlemen of the area. He also made arrangements for drugs to be provided for beef cattle as an aid in the prevention of tetany.

ENGLANDER'S PHARMACY

Monthly News

A Message from Clinton W. Englander,
"Your Pharmacist"

There are many good reasons why you should always obtain your medicines and health-aids from a Pharmacist.

The next time you are tempted to get them elsewhere remember these important facts.

We are taught how to protect and preserve potency.

Medicines must be carefully stored to insure best action. Some must not be exposed to light. Others must be kept away from heat. Only a pharmacist the proper methods.

Every Pharmacy is regulated by law.

We welcome the unexpected visits of inspectors who make certain we have fresh high quality medicines.

Our professional reputation insures your satisfaction.

Pharmacy's Code of Ethics directs us to consider your welfare more important than any immediate greater profits. We can advise you about precautions that are often necessary when taking medicines or using health aids.

The prices we charge are no greater.

Super-markets or variety stores da not charge less for medicines, tooth pastes, shampoas ar the other health-aids we have traditionally supplied. They ore not open the lang hours we find are necessary to make certain medicines available for your emergency need. None of them can give you a pharmacist's personal, attentive, safer service.

Make this resolution.

Since the prices we charge are the same and the personal service and safety we supply is better, get all your medicines and health-aids from us. We will appreciate your preference.

Provisions of Four Bills Are Outlined

Copies of four bills which have been introduced in the House of Delegates were received during the past week.

One concerns qualifications and selection of jurors and was introduced jointly by the Howard and Garrett County delegations.

The only change in the proposed bill is eliminating the names of Garrett and Howard counties where the bill would not apply and making jury duty for women in Garrett county optional.

Under the provisions any woman whose name is drawn for jury duty shall be excused therefrom upon her request, provided the request is filed in writing with the clerk of the Circuit court within ten days of the date she is notified. This is House bill 22.

House bill No. 101 is an act to repeal and re-enact with amendments a law regarding the County Commissioners and relating to the maximum amount to be expended by the Commissioners for road machinery and equipment. The bill was limited previously to $25,000 expenditure in any one year. The amended bill makes the amount $100,000.

House bill No. 100 also concerns the County Commissioners and relates to compensation for and office hours of clerks of county commissioners. The bill would make it possible for the clerk to receive an annual salary not to exceed $4,000. The present rate is $3,600.

The bill also would strike out a paragraph concerning office hours. The present bill contains the regulation that the office of the clerk shall be kept open from 9 a. m. until 12 noon, and from 1 to 4 p. m. daily, except Sunday. Inserted in place of this regulation is "Monday through Friday, 9 a. m. to 12 noon, and 1 to 4 p. m., and from 9 a. m. to 12 noon on Saturday, and shall be closed on Sunday and all legal holidays."

House Bill No. 102 concerns salary and expenses for the County Commissioners. The present law provides a salary of $2,200 each, payable in monthly instalments, but there was no expense allowance. The new bill would add an annual expense allowance up to $600.

NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library

BY EDITH BROCK

A book has been presented to the library this week in memory of Mrs. John DeWitt of Crellin.

Education is a topic of vital interest this year. "The Big Red Schoolhouse", a new book by Fred M. Hechinger, compares every important aspect of Russian and European education with our primary and secondary schools. The author offers suggestions for an American educational policy. This book is now ready for circulation.

Another new book of special interest in the light of recent educational discussion is "Your Gifted Child" by Florence Brumbaugh and Bernard Roshco. Dr. Brumbaugh is Principal of Hunter College Elementary School, the only school in the country devoted exclusively to teaching gifted children. Her book is written as "a guide for parents: how to determine your child's abilities and what to do to develop them."

Also available for borrowing are "Let's Talk Sense about Our Schools" by Woodring, and many magazine articles on education. The Library maintains a file of five or six years of back issues of a number of magazines. These are indexed in the Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature. In most cases, and may be borrowed.

FFBL Sweepstakes Winner This Year From Wood County

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. Moellendick, operators of a 263-acre dairy farm in Washington Wood County, W. Va., have been named as the Sweepstakes Winners in the 1958 Farming For Better Living program.

Announcement came at the Regional Round-up banquet of the Little Kanawha Region of Farming For Better Living held Saturday, January 17, at Parkersburg under the sponsorship of the Greater Parkersburg Chamber of Commerce.

As Sweepstakes winners the Moellendick's have the distinction of being the top FFBL family for 1958 in all of the 25 counties which participate in the program. They were presented with a $50 savings bond as the Don B. Potter Challenge Award. Mr. Potter is president of Monongahela Power Company, one of the sponsors of the Farming For Better Living program.

The Moellendick's farm is an example of what can happen to farming within 30 years. The farm is operated by the third generation of the Moellendick family. The present operator, Arthur Moellendick, plowed with horses when he was 12 years old — and started his dairy herd with eight cows, all milked by hand.

Now the Moellendick farm has two tractors, a herd of 55 cows and the milk is automatically taken from the cows into a bulk tank with the minimum of hand labor.

Steady progress is the keynote of the Moellendick farming operation. When they were selected as county champions in 1954 they listed 20 milk cows as their basic herd. When they were made regional champions they were milking 27 cows. Now they have a herd of 55. New this year, too, is a larger milk house with a bulk tank and a paved barnlot.

The Sweepstakes Champion is the second farming honor to be won within the year by Moellendick family. Their daughter, Joan, now a student in the St. Joseph's School of Nursing, in Parkersburg was the Parkersburg Area Dairy Princess. The Moellendicks have two children, their son, Charles, 15, is a high school student and cares for a cow and heifer as a 4-H project.

The Moellendick farm has 263 acres, of which 60 are rented. Soil fertility and productivity have been brought to a high level through years of regular soil care. In addition to the milk, the Moellendick farm is a large producer of corn and grain.

The Moellendick family has always been active in community affairs, and particularly in the Washington County Country Life program. Arthur Moellendick is vice-president of the board of Managers of the Maryland-West Virginia Artificial Breeders Co-operative, a DCSA committeeman, a Farm Bureau director, and a member of the official board of the Washington church. Mrs. Moellendick is secretary of the church board; treasurer of her Farm Women's Club; and vice-president of the Wood County Farm Women's Council. Joan has been active in 4-H, being president of the 4-H Charters and Pinwearers and first place winner in the state clothing demonstration for 1956.

SWEEPSTAKES CHAMPIONS—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. Mollendick, operators of a 263-acre dairy farm at Washington, in Wood county, W. Va., have been named Sweepstakes champions in the 1958 Farming For Better Living program—the top farm family in all of the 25 counties in Farming For Better Living. They are shown here with their daughter, Joan, and son Charles. Garrett county is a participant in the program.

Family of Howard Naylor Is Featured In New York Times

A feature writer for the New York Times recently caught the Howard Naylor family while on a skiing jaunt to Big Bromley in Manchester, Vermont, and an article concerning their skiing activities appeared in the January 29 issue of that newspaper.

On the trip were his wife Audrey, and their children, Lonnie, Gail, Mike, Beth and Bartlett. A picture of Howard and Bartlett, the two-year-old son, accompanied the feature.

Howard told Michael Strauss, the writer, that he still had to tote Bart around, that is wasn't too difficult going downhill since he held him out in front and let the skis and gravity do the rest.

Uphill, however, Nayyor's problems became more complex, he told the man. On a platter-tow or T-bar he hoists little Bart to his hip, with one hand and holds on to the lift with the other. On a rope tow, he has tried several methods, none of which has proved satisfactory.

Naylor felt that within another year or so Bart would be shifting for himself. Right now he never thinks we're going fast enough as he keeps yelling "faster, faster."

The story related that within the past few years the family has made pilgrimages to Arapahoe Pasin in Colorado; Mont Tremblant in Canada; Mt. Hood in Oregon and Cannon Mountain in New Hampshire, just to enjoy the favorite sport. The Naylors make at least one long skiing trip a season. Otherwise they spend their weekends at Marsh Mountain at Deep Creek.

Naylor told the man: "I began skiing when I was 8. Those were the days when a skier used toe straps instead of modern bindings. The kids at Oakland would climb Crook Crest on foot while carrying skis on their backs."

Naylor also related that his grandfather, A. D. Naylor, born in 1851, thinks all the ski activity is "plum ridiculous." He claims there never was such foolishness back in his young days.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Mark	6	13-16
Monday	John	17	1-26
Tuesday	Acts	12	1-17
Wednesday	James	5	13-16
Thursday	Acts	6	1-8
Friday	Luke	11	1-13
Saturday	Deuteronomy	30	11-14

WHO ARE THEY?

Who are these children?

Probably, you'll never know their names. The countries from which they come encircle the globe. They speak many languages. But each night, before they go to bed, they all say their prayers.

Prayer is the greatest common denominator. You can go to church in Japan or Chicago and, regardless of the language being spoken, you will find that you feel equally in communion with God.

On World Day of Prayer, join your friends and neighbors in church. Let your prayers mingle with those of other people in churches everywhere. Remember that throughout the centuries, prayer has proven itself the greatest of forces. Let it do so again!

Ordered To Repay

Lawrence Long, placed on the docket recently on a charge of making a false statement and knowing it to be false, in order to obtain $52 in unemployment benefits from the Employment Security office, pleaded not guilty when appearing before Trial Magistrate Sanders, but was found guilty and ordered to repay the money obtained. He was also given a 39-day jail sentence which was suspended. The charge was preferred by Charles L. Bruner of the Employment Security office.

Death Not The End

Lesson for February 8, 1959

WHAT IS IT like in the next world? Some people ask because they desperately want to know how it fares with a loved one over there. Other people ask the question out of idle curiosity. Others still ask the question merely to show (if they can) how ridiculous any answer must be. It was this last sort of people who asked Jesus the old question about the much married woman who got to heaven and found her seven husbands there already. (They didn't put it just that way, though we would.) Their question was, Which of the seven ex-husbands would be the right one for the heavenly duration? It was an old chestnut, no one could possibly claim to know enough to answer it. So they tried it on Jesus.

Dr. Foreman

Death and the Bible

As with so many of Jesus' answers to questions which in themselves were stupid, silly or malicious, in answering this question Jesus ignored the single case these hecklers brought up, and went right to the root of the matter. The fact was, the Sadducees who asked this question did not believe in life after death for anybody, at all, any where, any time. The Jews who did believe, and Jesus himself, did not speak of "heaven" and "hell" as a rule, but lumped all the future life together in the one expression, "the Resurrection." When they said "the Resurrection", they did not mean Jesus' or Lazarus' or any one person's resurrection. They meant the life-beyond-this-life, the ultimate life God has in store for his human creatures. Where most Christians today would say "the immortal life" or something of that sort, they said "the Resurrection."

Jesus did not argue with the unbelieving Sadducees. Rather he gave them two plain reasons why they made the mistake of denying all life after death. One was that they did not know the Scriptures.

Another reason for the Sadducees' doubt, Jesus said, was their ignorance of the power of God. Many people think of immortality as a natural sort of thing, something on a par with springtime and butterflies. The Bible on the other hand always looks on life beyond death as a gift of God's grace. Immortality is not something of which God cannot rob us, so much as it is something which God in love bestows on us. Arguments about what "can" or "can't" be, beyond this life, are not only arguments out of pure ignorance, but they ignore especially the Power of the God who is Love. We do not know what God will provide, in any detail, we do know that he is able to provide whatever his love and wisdom choose.

"Beyond"

Jesus dropped a hint about the nature of the future life which many Christians have found helpful even though it does not by any means answer all the questions we can ask. This hint is in his rather shocking statement that in the Resurrection there is neither marrying nor giving in marriage but that human beings will be like the angels (he did not say we would be angels!) in heaven. Now if there is any one element of human life which is universally important, it is sex. To be told that the life beyond is not constructed on the sex-centered plan of this one, leaves us wondering. But this is not all. In every respect, or almost all, that we can consider, the "Life Beyond" is in the strictest sense beyond. It is beyond our experience, beyond all our possible imaginings. Many religions imagine the next life in terms of this one, only with more of the same. There is imagery in the Bible of this sort, too. But the Bible also hears out this hint of Jesus, that the next life is not just like this one only more so. It is better, for the Christian; it is worse for those who persist in rejecting God. But it is not the same. The best thing we know about it is something Jesus himself said, and it is enough. "Where I am, you may be also." It is all we need to know—he will be there. That we cannot make a blueprint of heaven is no proof that it does not exist.

Give-Up-Itis

A forthcoming book—"In Every War But One" by Eugene Kinkead—reveals that "roughly one of every G. I. prisoners in Korea was guilty of some sort of collaboration with the enemy," and that "there was a hard core of one in seven. . .that was guilty of serious collaboration." The source of these startling facts is a five-year study under official Army auspices of the propagandistic, psychological, medical and legal effects of the Communist treatment of U. S. prisoners. Another more shocking revelation pertains to the large number of American prisoners who lost the will to seek freedom and succumbed to the malady of "give-up-itis."

This pattern of human behavior seemingly knows no limits. In recent times, civilians and military personnel alike, from the kingmakers to the privates in the ranks, appear to be similarly troubled. Of this paradox, General George E. Stratemeyer told the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee in 1954: ". . .there is something going on, has been going on, ever since World War II ended, right up to this minute, there is some hidden force or some hidden power, or something that is influencing our people. They don't act like Americans. Americans are supposed to have guts, and our policy, as I read it, and see it, it is wishy-washy and appeasing."

General Stratemeyer stressed that he was not criticizing the President, the Congress, or the Secretary of State, but went on to say that ". . .there is something wrong. . .Good old Americanism doesn't exist like it did when I went to West Point as a youngster. What it is I don't know." Support of this conviction came from the venerable airman, General C. L. Chennault, in these words: ". . .there is a powerful insidious force which is constantly working to destroy our form of Government and our way of life." The Korean debacle, a many-faceted thing, is dramatic illustration of the old doctrine that a Nation is as strong-willed or as weak-willed as the citizens which compose it.

At the beginning of the century, the traditions of Americanism—the precepts of individualism—which had flourished since colonial days were still going strong. But, by 1950, the easy appeal of dangerous socialistic experiments made possible the change of a person's viewpoint by manipulating thoughts and actions with visions of false "sugar plums." "Give-up-itis" then becomes more appealing. All of this is merely "brainwashing," a technique at which the Communists are most skillful and most successful, whether within or outside the prison compound.

Teen Corner

By DICK CASTILOW

Well, here we are again after a leave of absence lasting about two weeks. I was very pleased to see that Teen Corner was missed.

Here is some news that you all have probably heard by now. Record hops every other week, starring W C U M'S Bob Brinker. I guess maybe we'll have more at Teen Club now. Before there seemed to be the complaint that the records on the juke were much too old. Well, Bob gets all the new ones down at WCUM. He'll bring them all with him.

Oh, happy day, semester tests are over until next time. Gee, were they tough! You know, the teachers don't seem to enjoy them either.

There is a number out that really has a significant story behind it. That's Jack Scott's "Goodbye Baby, Bye, Bye." That guy reports to Uncle Sam this week. That disc release was really timely and it's not a beat too. If you haven't heard it you can at the local music store or better still watch American Bandstand tomorrow.

I am always sleepy on Thursdays as are many of you. Shock theatre on WTAE has me addicted. There sure are a lot of those horror films turning up on teevee these days. Everyone is joining Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi fan clubs. (in secret of course)

It seems that all the kids start driving as soon as they hit sixteen now. The majority are fine, safe drivers but there are a few who are really going to end up in a mess if they don't take it easy. To you few, if you don't want to live, end things some way like a nice swift bullet. At least you are the only one that can be hurt. Consider the other fellow, he may be the father of twelve kids and not a bit of insurance.

Clear Lake, Iowa is by now a very hated place among teenagers and rock'n roll fans throughout the country. This small town is where three top stars lost their lives Tuesday. This is a sad thing, these fellows were just starting to click and had great futures ahead of them.

They were Ricky Vallens who just hit the top with "Donna", number six spot this week. The Big Bopper who had a field day with his records earlier this year. Also in this terrible plane crash was Buddy Holly.

"Donna" was destined to be the first of many top hits for Vallens. I fearlessly predict that it will still hit the number one spot.

Children's BIBLE STORY

BY S. A. KAPLAN
Assisted by Mrs. Kaplan

"THE SMITTEN ROCK"
(This story is based on Exodus 17)

HELLO BOYS AND GIRLS! Have you ever been really-truly thirsty? Then you know how satisfying and refreshing pure, cool water can be. We are told that one can live a long time in the desert without food, but only 22 hours even with one quart of water at hand. How thankful we should daily be for these every day blessings which we so very often take for granted. Don't you think so?

In today's Bible story we read that the children of Israel murmured against God when there was no water at a place called Rephidim where they had pitched camp. They should have trusted in Him and remembered all His great wonders in their behalf in the past. But they didn't, and forgetting their Benefactor, they demanded of Moses, "Give us water that we may drink." Patiently Moses answered: "Why chide ye with me? Wherefore do ye tempt the Lord?" But they replied angrily: "Wherefore is this that thou hast brought us up out of Egypt, to kill us and our children and our cattle with thirst?" And believe it or not, in their rage they were almost ready to stone Moses, who was sacrificing his very life for them. Do you know what makes boys and girls, and grown-ups too, for that matter, ungrateful, unappreciative and downright mean? Usually it is because when difficulties arise, they look at circumstances, instead of looking to God, the Author of all their blessings, who has promised never to leave or forsake his children.

In despair Moses cried to God, "What shall I do unto this people?" He was told to gather the chief men of Israel together and to take the rod with which he had wrought such great wonders in Egypt, and to go before the people. And the Lord promised Moses, "Behold, I will stand before thee there, upon the rock in Horen; and thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it, that the people may drink." Moses did what God commanded him, and the waters gushed forth from the rock in a mighty living stream, quenching the thirst of both man and beast.

Who do you think really performed that miracle? Moses? No, indeed. He merely smote the rock with his rod. It was the Lord, who by His mighty, wonder-working power caused the water to burst forth from that rock. We read in the Bible that God is "the same yesterday, today, and forever." If today He sees fit to permit some trial to come to you, do not lose heart, or be tempted to mistrust God whose infinite power can change, wonderfully change the most hopeless, discouraging outlook. Remember His loving care for you in the past, and His many "exceeding great and precious promises" recorded in the Bible, which He has pledged Himself to fulfill in your behalf.

Space Travel Being Planned—This past week Dr. T. Glennan, Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration usually referred to as NASA, spoke out quite frankly about this country's program for space travel. Excerpts from his remarks:

"We have undertaken Project Mercury, an attempt by this nation to lob man into space. Earlier this month, NASA announced that the McDonnell Aircraft Corporation of St. Louis had been chosen to design and produce the prototype of a capsule to carry the man in the project.

". . . We are working toward the moment when man can travel in space at times and places of his own choosing.

"The next step which we are now preparing to take, with Project Mercury, calls for the dispatch of near on a succession of brief experimental, ballistic flights in space. The purpose will be to test our provisions for survival and for a successful return to the Earth.

"After that will come the placing of man in a satellite orbit. His function will be to acquire experience learning how to travel in space. In this phase, we will be testing our techniques of navigation, communication, rendezvous, and survival in case of accident.

"And finally, after all these methodical preparations, we will take the big steps—departure of expeditions to the Moon, to blaze the trail that may lead eventually to other planets."

Engineers, Major General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, the advisability of making a study to determine whether or not the channel in the Wicomico River to Salisbury should be deepened to provide for additional boat traffic. The City of Salisbury which would be favorably affected by the channel deepening in the center of the Delmarva Peninsula, and, consequently the development of this locality is important, not only to Maryland, but to Delaware and Virginia as well.

Stream-Valley Parks In Maryland—In order to continue the cooperative arrangement between the Federal government and the State of Maryland for the extension of stream-valley parks in Prince George's and Montgomery Counties, I introduced a bill in the Senate amending the Capper-Cramton Act. This would provide increased authorizations making possible to continue existing and contemplated commitment for the acquisition of the tracts under the cooperative arrangement.

Reduced Fare For D. C. School-children—Legislation which would provide transportation to D. C. schoolchildren at a reduced fare was introduced by me in the Senate, and referred to our District Committee. It would provide that the Board of Commissioners has streetcar and bus tickets from the transit company at the regular cash fare established by the Public Utilities Commission, and sell them to schoolchildren for transportation to and from school at a price not to exceed half the regular fare.

Housing And Redevelopment—The mayors of several American cities appeared before our Banking and Currency Committee to urge a liberal program of redevelopment and housing. Without question, the slums of our cities should be obliterated and housing facilities should be improved. By what methods improvements should be made pose serious questions which go to the very heart of principles of government.

Hearings On Armed Services—This past week the Senate Committee on Armed Services, of which I am a member, was briefed by the Secretary of Defense and the Secretaries of Army, Navy, and Air Force regarding our military strength and what is needed for adequate defense.

Inflation Controls—Restoring government controls as a cure for inflation is unthinkable to free-loving Americans except of course in case of an extreme emergency, such as war. This Administration lifted government controls from the backs of the nation's business. Freeing it to prosper and expand, making more jobs for Americans. Controls on consumer purchases were lifted, and peacetime prosperity was ushered in. To return to control would be a step backward.

The threat of inflation—which was showed to a walk when this Administration took over—must be met, not by controls, but by other means. The answer, it seems to me, lies in: the balancing of the budget, keeping our Government solvent, the adoption of a tax system, which, while providing adequate revenue, will not prevent or restrict capital formation, investment, and individual initiative.

Argentine President's Visit—The Frondizi trip here is unusual among Chiefs-of-State visits. The Argentine President did not come here for a monetary hand-out or loan, but to offer something attractive investment deals. The financial men of our country are falling all over one another to get at them.

The difference between his offer of business and that made by Mr. Mikoyan of Soviet Russia is that his is real and Mr. Mikoyan's synthetic.

High Beef Yields From New Pasture Grass in Maryland

A revolutionary type of pasture grass that produces phenomenal gains of beef per acre is now recommended for use in Maryland. Announcement of the recommended use of Midland Bermuda tass for pastures in this area was made by Dr. R. E. Wagner at a meeting of the Maryland Crop Improvement Assn. in Baltimore. Dr. Wagner is head of the University of Maryland agronomy department.

"Midland Bermudagrass represents an entirely new idea for pasture production in Maryland. It is based on the use of a summer perennial grass overseeded with rye and fertilized with high nitrogen rates. Never before in the research program of the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station have such large beef gains been obtained from any type of pasture," Dr. Wagner said.

In grazing trials near Upper Marlboro, Midland was overseeded with rye the fall of 1956 and again in 1957. This combination produced 709 pounds of beef per acre in 1957 and 750 pounds in 1958. The highest production from any other pasture in the same test was 440 pounds of beef per acre, he reported.

Dyke orchardgrass, bluegrass, or other widely used perennial pastures in Maryland, Midland is most productive during the summer months, points out Dr. A. M. Decker, Jr., of the University of Maryland agronomy department. The variety starts growth in the spring about May 15 and continues to grow throughout the summer. It slows down in the cool weather of late September and October and becomes dormant after the first killing frost. When rye is seeded on Midland pasture in late September or early October, it provides excellent late fall and early spring grazing. . . . Utilization of the two crops can be maximized almost continuously from March until November.

Potomac Orchard Grass Seed Available

Certified seed of Potomac orchardgrass is now available from commercial seed houses for general planting in this area for pasture and hay mixtures, Joseph Newcomer, University of Maryland Extension agronomist announced. No seed will be distributed by the University of Maryland.

Particular interest has been expressed in Iowa, Illinois, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, Missouri, Tennessee and North Carolina.

Developed at USDA's Agricultural Research Center, Beltsville, Md., in cooperation with several State agricultural experiment stations, Potomac orchardgrass is a dark, green, leafy, productive variety, characterized by its ability to maintain yields and stand for long periods, and by superior persistence.

Overfed Dairy Cows Hard On Pocketbook

Many dairy farmers feed their cows more than they should, according to Dr. Robert Appleman, University of Maryland Extension dairyman. Overfeeding of dairy cows is the first step in any profitable dairy program.

As Appleman explains it, a cow's feeding needs may vary considerably from month to month. Extension feels all herds should be checked to determine overfeeding or underfeeding.

How can you determine the correct amount of feed for the dairy cow? The only really accurate way is to weigh the cows, such as Standardized DHIA or Owner-Sampler which are available to farmers through their county agricultural units.

An Owner-Sampler cow-testing program offers convincing evidence of the value of record keeping. This dairyman was feeding his cows too much feed for the amount of milk he was getting in return. In fact, the record showed that he was receiving as much as 80 percent of the total milk check in feed. Feed costs should run only about half the cost of producing milk. By feeding according to production, as shown by the records, this dairyman was able to cut the feed costs and increase his milk profits.

In addition to offering an accurate means of fixing the amount of feed your cows need, dairy records weed out unprofitable cows that should be culled and give valuable assistance in selecting high-grade cows to be bred for herd replacements.

Eight dead and two were injured in a boiler explosion on a Mississippi river boat near Helena, Ark.

"Our Growing Edge"

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

The Things We Can Control

I once heard a very wise man say that we should all decide which things in our lives we can control, and which are beyond our control. We need only concentrate then on the things about which we can really do something, and save ourselves much unnecessary work and grief.

It does us no good to worry about floods, storms, even war in other countries, for there is little we can do about these things. We cannot decide how long we will live, but we can control our life's depth and width, and we can decide how we shall use our God-given talents in the years we do live.

We cannot decide the color of our eyes, or the shape of our faces, but we can decide if we face the world with a frown or a smile.

We cannot control our height, but we can control the heights of our thinking. We can think high thoughts instead of small and petty ones.

We cannot control the weather, but we can control the moral atmosphere that surrounds us. We cannot control the other fellow's annoying habits, but we can all do something about our own.

We cannot control the functions of our body: digestion, breathing, and the circulation of the blood, but we can control overeating and dissipation. We can all breathe deeply in the fresh air, and avoid the overexertions that strain our heart.

We can control the inclination to take pain killers, sleeping potions and shots in the arm to relieve various effects. We can do something about the basic cause of our illness.

All of us necessarily meet with misunderstanding, criticism and ill-will from others. We can control just how we will take these things. They can be stepping stones for our own growth and maturity, or they can make us vindictive, mean and spiteful. Each of us decides which it will be.

It is up to us to make good on the areas of life we can control, and in so doing it will help to make the world better because of the example we set for it.

By controlling those things that we can control, you and I can make life worth more to ourselves and others.

Meeting To Discuss Medical Center Is Set For Monday

The possibilities of erecting a medical center in either Friendsville or Accident will be discussed at a meeting of citizens on Monday evening, February 16, at Friendsville.

Speaker will be Norman H. Davis, director of the medical program for the Sears-Roebuck Foundation. The proposed medical center would serve both communities.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p. m., and will be held in the Friendsville elementary school auditorium. Citizens from both communities interested in better medical facilities are invited.

Mr. Davis is considered an expert in the field of medical needs and medical facilities. He will explain what steps are necessary in building a medical center in a community and the aid that would be available from the Sears-Roebuck foundation.

Ralph Beachley, member of the local committee in charge, said that since Mr. Davis was known nationally in his particular field he hoped that all interested people from both communities would be present for the talk and the discussions that would follow. Mr. Davis already has supervised detailed medical surveys of both Accident and Friendsville within the past six months.

Tourist Trade Will Be Stressed By New Development Agency

Representatives of the tourist industry were assured by a House committee and Governor Tawes' office last Thursday that travel promotion would not suffer under a proposed new department of economic development.

A group of 30 motel and hotel operators expressed concern the new department might concentrate most of its efforts on industry promotion at the expense of the state's rising tourist trade.

The House Ways and Means committee, which has under study a bill to create the department agreed to write in language which would stress tourism as a major function of the new agency.

Lloyd L. Simpkins, executive secretary to Gov. Tawes, also told representatives calling at the governer's office that Tawes favors increasing Maryland's promotion efforts in the tourist field.

The bill was drafted at the request of the administration but with the understanding that it might require further amendment.

The travel representatives were mainly concerned over the abolishment of the present Department of Information which has been promoting tourist attractions of the state. These functions will be included under the director of the new department of economic development, which also would promote industrial development.

The travel representatives asked that sub-directorships for tourist promotion and industrial development be spelled out in the bill.

Fire Demolishes Machine Shed On Artie Dodge Farm

A machine shed on the Artie Dodge farm in the Gortner section was destroyed by fire this morning along with a quantity of machinery and around 2,000 bushels of potatoes.

The fire was caused by a kerosene heater which was in the bed of a truck stored in the shed. The truck was badly damaged but fire fighters managed to get it out of the building. They also were able to save a tractor that was stored in the building, but other machinery was destroyed.

The Oakland firemen responded and were still fighting the flames at 11 o'clock this morning. The alarm was sounded about 9 o'clock.

Landowners To Plant 850,000 Free Trees In Coming Months

County landowners are ordering trees in ever increasing numbers each year from the Department of Forest and Parks, indicating endorsement of tree planting as a sound conservation practice.

Next month landowners will begin planting approximately 850,000 seedlings to surpass last year's record and bring to five million the number of trees planted through the department's reforestation program since 1952. According to R. Thomas Thayer, Jr., assistant district forester, the program enables landowners to receive trees free of charge for conservation planting. Trees are planted by hand by the landowners or by machine depending upon the size of the area and the terrain.

Cost sharing help in planting and caring for the trees may be obtained through the offices of the County Agricultural Stabilization committee in Oakland, Mr. Thayer said. In addition to providing a return to the landowner through thinnings for Christmas trees, pulpwood and sawtimber, Thayer pointed out that tree planting is of ever greater value to the public from the standpoint of water and soil conservation, game cover and other qualities.

With more than half of this year's trees to be planted by machine Thayer said the department was interested in contacting private operators to do all or a portion of the machine planting for the county tree growers. Mechanical tree planters would be furnished on a rental basis by the Department to operators for use on their tractors. Interested persons may contact Mr. Thayer at his office in the Court House on or before March 1.

Ski Tourney Date Reset For March 7-8

The second annual Maryland State Ski Championship tournament has been rescheduled for Saturday and Sunday, March 7 and 8 by the Western Maryland Ski club.

A local snow which dropped about two and one-half inches of snow in the county last Thursday night failed to provide conditions suitable for tournament competition, according to George D. Hankins, chairman of the racing committee.

The meet was first scheduled January 31 and February 1 but was called off after warm rain and winds melted most of the snow from the Marsh Mountain ski slope at Deep Creek Lake near Mcllenry.

Recreational skiing is expected to be held this week-end as usual.

PTA Area Meetings Set For Next Week

Two area meetings have been scheduled by the county council of parents and teachers, it was announced this week by Mrs. Irva Mickey, council president.

One will be held at Northern High school on Monday, February 23, and another will be held on the following evening, Tuesday, February 24, at the Dennett Road school.

Attending this meeting will be Mrs. Fred Rull, former state president of the Maryland Council of Parents and Teachers and other representatives from the state office. They will discuss vital information in regard to all P.-T.A. organizations.

The meeting on the 24th will be the regular meeting of the Dennett Road P.-T.A., the date having been changed from Thursday, February 19.

Motor Freight Co. Back In Business

Activity At Sanders Company Began Again On Monday

Sanders Motor Freight was back in business again this week, with union differences settled and the company under new ownership, it was announced.

The company had been inactive since about January 10, interrupting a local business that employed some forty-five or fifty people in the Oakland terminal and over a hundred throughout the area, with a total payroll of over a half-million dollars annually.

The owner of the company is now Douglas T. Harmon, of Bridgewater, Va., who was partial owner previously. He is reported to have purchased the assets of Francis W. Sanders, who formerly controlled the business.

Woodrow Jackson, terminal manager at Oakland, said that freight was beginning to roll again and that operations ought to be back to normal within a week or ten days.

A satisfactory agreement was reached between Local 453, Teamsters Union, and the Sanders company, according to an announcement by C. E. Stutzman, union business agent, of Cumberland.

The union and company were in dispute for several weeks concerning coverage of tractor-trailer operators who worked under a lease arrangement. Stutzman said these men will be represented by the union and participate in the health and welfare provisions of the contract.

Stutzman said it was the same agreement which had been in force until the Sanders firm cancelled the agreement it had with the individual truck operators.

Attempt Made To Speed Mail Service

In an attempt to speed up mail service, a new system was inaugurated last Saturday which brings mail to Keyser from Oakland by automobile.

The new route is an extension of the Swanton Star route and is operated by Lloyd Turney. He leaves Oakland with mail at 5:30 a. m., and usually returns around 9 o'clock. This enables Oakland patrons to get eastbound mail on train No. 4, at Keyser, and also allows them to receive mail from the east that is placed enroute after train 23 leaves on its daily schedule.

Postoffice officials said the change was made particularly in an effort to speed up parcel post deliveries. The change delays the rural route carriers by as much as thirty minutes, but allows them to deliver some mail at least one day earlier than would have otherwise been the case.

Third Secretary of Russian Embassy To Address Local Clubs

The speaker is 38 years old and has been in America since August, 1957. During World War II, from 1940 to 1946 he was a Marine in the Soviet service. Prior to coming to the United States he was a law counselor for the people of Moscow.

Morozov is married and has a twelve year-old-son, Andrey. They reside in Washington.

Maryland "U" Head To Address Service Clubs Friday Night

Dr. Wilson Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, will be the speaker at an area meeting of service clubs, to be held Friday evening, February 13, at the William-James hotel in Oakland.

In addition to Rotarians from Oakland there will be members attending from the Friendsville and Grantsville Rotary clubs and possibly members from the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club.

The subject of Dr. Elkins' address will be "Education for Supremacy." The program is in charge of Dr. E. I. Baumgartner who will introduce the speaker.

Dr. Elkins assumed the presidency of the University in September, 1954. At Maryland his administration has been characterized by strengthening the academic standards with emphasis on good teaching performance.

A native of Texas, Dr. Elkins began his professional career at the University of Texas. He held two presidencies prior to assuming his present office. He holds membership in many honorary organizations and has two honorary degrees in law. He was a Rhodes scholar from 1933 to 1936 and while at Texas earned eight varsity letters in football, basketball and track.

Since being at Maryland he has stressed the obligation of the state to provide a quality education for all Maryland youth who demonstrate their capacity to learn.

Bill to Incorporate Hospital Is Entered

Senator Bernard I. Gonder has introduced a bill in the legislature providing for the incorporation of the Garrett County Memorial hospital and relating to the selection of its board of governors.

It is Senate Bill 255 which would make the board of governors a political and corporate body which would have perpetual succession and the right to operate the hospital as fully as if incorporated for such purpose under state law.

The proposal also provides that the three members of the board selected by the County Commissioners of the county, one from each of the three districts, shall serve for a period of two years, beginning July 1. Under current legislation the three board members named by the commissioners serve one-year terms.

The board of governors includes the three county commissioners and eight others including two county residents selected by the two Oakland banks, the president of the Town Council of Oakland, Mrs. Lorilla F. Tower; one person elected by the county medical association or the medical staff of the hospital and the three members named by the commissioners. In case of the death of Mrs. Tower or resignation or failure to act the president of the Red Cross chapter is to be named.

It was announced there are 276 paid members and that the support of the remaining parents was needed.

Moves His Offices

W. Dwight Stover, who recently took over the duties of State's Attorney, moved his offices this week from the Gonder building to the second floor of the Garrett National Bank building.

Mr. Stover now occupies the two rooms formerly occupied by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley.

Wants Postponement Of Bittinger School Closing For 1959-60

A delegation appeared before the Board of Education this week to ask for a postponement of the closing of the Bittinger school for another year. Bittinger is the only one-room school remaining in the county, and there are only five two-teacher schools.

The delegation also made a request for expenditure of funds to remodel the present building.

The board tabled the matter until George Edwards returns, for the next board meeting, at which time final action will be taken. Mr. Edwards was injured in an automobile accident recently.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said the board had previously felt that it was both educationally and economically unsound to retain the Bittinger school any longer.

There are now eleven graded schools in the county system.

Loch Lynn School Plans

Wesley Altman, Uniontown architect, in discussing preliminary plans for the Loch Lynn school, pointed out that several changes were necessary in original plans due to the grade and location of the land on which the two-room addition was to be placed.

Plans had been tentatively approved by the board which would provide two additional classrooms, a small basement assembly room, a small library room and a storage room.

Plans and specifications are to be submitted for bids as soon as completed.

Mr. Hawkins said minor changes were approved in construction plans for the Center street school with William A. Shirer, contractor. Total cost of this improvement will be $50,075.

Harry Kohne, Jr., accepted an offer of $3,750 for the sale of land adjacent to the Bloomington school. Mr. Kohne had asked $4,000. Charles Pattison sold another half lot needed to round out the Bloomington school ground boundary for $200.00.

Suspends Bus Driver

The board suspended for an indefinite period Frank Robeson as a bus driver, due to a recent accident which hospitalized several children. Mr. Robeson was charged by the State Police with reckless driving and was found guilty.

Purchase of new school buses was approved as follows: Henry

National Guard To Get Use of Tanks

As a means of increasing the defensive power and striking force of the nation's military establishment, which was first in the procession. In so doing, Lohr struck George's car, forcing it from the road; struck Mrs. Glotfelty's vehicle and then ran off the right side of the road, overturning. Neither Lohr nor a passenger, Edward Glotfelty, were injured. The other two drivers were alone.

Lohr, who was charged by Tfc Robert Henline of improper passing, was found guilty Saturday morning at a hearing before Trial Magistrate Boyd Sanders, Sr.

The Defense Department is planning a reorganization and realignment of many military units, including the Maryland National Guard.

This means the 29th division is being modernized in a pentomic division. Three of the battle groups will be in Maryland and two in Virginia. At the local area level no major changes in command are anticipated but there will be changes in unit personnel and equipment.

One battle group is assigned to Western Maryland including Oakland. There will be one company at Oakland as at present. Each tank company is to receive 17 medium tanks, known as M-48. Each weighs about 50,000 pounds and mounts a 90 mm. gun in addition to other armament.

There will be 17 tanks stationed at Oakland. The personnel of each tank company is designed to include five officers and 97 enlisted men.

Democratic Women Plan Meeting February 24

The monthly meeting of the Federation of Democratic Women's clubs of the county is set for Tuesday, February 24, 8:30 p. m., at the William-James hotel.

Leadership Changes In Local Boy Scout Troop Announced

LARRY KLEIN

Leadership changes in Oakland Boy Scout troop No. 31, were announced by the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club, sponsoring institution.

Ralph Fauber who has been scoutmaster for the past thirteen years, has resigned his position, effective as of last Thursday and has been advanced to the position of neighborhood commissioner in the Deep Creek district.

He is being succeeded by Larry Klein, now residing in Oakland. Mr. Klein, a graduate of Pennsylvania State university's department of forestry, is at present an assistant district forester for the Department of Forests and Parks. A native of Brownsville, Pa., he came to Oakland last July.

Also named as his assistants are Jerry Moyer, who is county assessor, and Jerry Walsh, an insurance adjuster. John Fitzwater, Jr., who has been assisting Mr. Fauber for the past few years, will continue as assistant.

The announcement was made Monday night as the Scouts and Explorers of troop 31 were dinner guests of the Lions club at the William-James hotel. The occasion also signified observance of Boy Scout week. Speaking briefly to the group were Harold C. Ashby, chairman of the troop committee, and George Stuck, chairman of Deep Creek Scout district.

As a part of scout week boy scouts attended the Methodist church, Explorers attended the Oak Park Church of the Brethren and the Cub scouts attended the Episcopal church on Sunday.

Route 219 Crash Involves Three Cars

Four persons escaped injury Thursday afternoon of last week in an accident involving three cars, one of which overturned.

Involved were automobiles driven by Mrs. Fred Glotfelty, Jefferson Lohr and William George. The collision occurred about 5:45 near the Fred Glotfelty farm north of Oakland as the George vehicle started to pass the two cars in front of him. As he drew abreast of the Lohr car, it attempted to pass Mrs. Glotfelty's automobile, which was first in the procession. In so doing, Lohr struck George's car, forcing it from the road; struck Mrs. Glotfelty's vehicle and then ran off the right side of the road, overturning. Neither Lohr nor a passenger, Edward Glotfelty, were injured. The other two drivers were alone.

Lohr, who was charged by Tfc Robert Henline of improper passing, was found guilty Saturday morning at a hearing before Trial Magistrate Boyd Sanders, Sr.

Shaffer, of near Aurora, who was being held on a charge of non-support of minor children, was ordered by the court to pay $20 per week for the support of the family. He entered a plea of not guilty but was adjudged guilty.

Three To Receive Eagle Badges At Honor Court Tonight

Three boys of the area, one from Mt. Lake Park and two from Oakland, will receive Eagle Scout badges this evening at a special district court of honor at the Dennett Road school. This is the highest rank attainable in scouting and has been won by only nineteen other persons in the area in the thirty-four year existence of the Oakland Scout troop.

Those who recently qualified for Eagle rank at a council board of review in Cumberland were Richard Stuck, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stuck; Maurice Brookhart, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Brookhart, both of Oakland; and Foster Riggs, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Riggs, Mt. Lake Park.

The coveted badges will be pinned on the boys by their parents in a brief ceremony that will conclude the first district court of honor ever held, in celebration of Boy Scout Week.

All three boys, in addition to passing their required 21 merit badges after becoming first class scouts, have attended the scout jamboree near Philadelphia, and have spent several weeks at the Philmont ranch in the southwest.

Tonight's program will be in charge of the district advancement committee. Several other scouts of the area will receive advancement recognition.

David Gonder, who received his Eagle award last year, will receive a bronze palm, signifying five merit badges above the number required for Eagle.

James Cuppett, Mt. Lake Troop 70, and John L. Fitzwater 111, Oakland troop 31, will receive Life Scout badges, one rank below Eagle. Robert G. Stuck and John A. Sharps, Oakland will receive Star Scout pins.

Call The Next Witness

(Luke 21:47-48. "beginning from Jerusalem you are witnesses of these things.")

A man is on trial for his life, in a Texas courtroom drama the story unfolds as witnesses appear. Hearsay, rumors, opinions are scourged as imposters. Only the story that grows out of the witnesses' experience is allowed a place in the record.

As Lent begins, the claims of Christ on life invite careful scrutiny. In a world courtroom filled with many conflicting claims, the Christian approach is again on trial. The testimony of the professional religioons worker is important but the case will be decided on the basis of all of the evidence. Hence, the witnessing of every Christian is vital. As a hungry man carrying advertising for the best eating place in town is unconvincing, so our testimony must grow out of the soil "this I have experienced" to compel attention. Will your witness be decisive in your life and the life of your friends?

We remember that Jesus staked all on the impact of a saved personality upon others. Church organizations, liturgy, committee activity—all are important but only as they are instrumental to the central business of winning friends for Christ and the Christian Church.

You are the next witness being called. You are writing a gospel with your life. More people than you know are reading your gospel and being influenced. Every person has a sphere of influence which is decisive in some other person's life—it may be his own child's. Being and doing are both important. You can see the need of using Lent as a training period for more effective living. You can refuse to be a Joseph of Arimathea—a disciple secretly for fear—choosing rather the courage of a Stephen as you live your convictions. You can participate in the program of your Church. You can face up to your civic responsibilities. You can practice friendliness daily with every person you contact. Finally, you can examine prayerfully your witness as you take a few or several minutes each day for devotions.

Remember—beginning from Jerusalem, the Christian story was carried to us by a living chain of persons. Now it is our turn. Dear reader, you are being called as the next witness. A clear, convincing, saving story of life is your opportunity. — Charles Godwin, minister, St. Paul's Methodist church.

Control Suggestions Are Made for Tetany Among Beef Cattle

The University of Maryland team investigating the beef tetany problem in Garrett County has issued tentative suggestions for the control of this disease, according to James A. McHenry, County Agent.

Research conducted by the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station has indicated that the feeding of supplemental magnesium offers the best promise for short term control. Magnesium oxide fed at the rate of 2 oz. per head daily for 60 days before calving and from calving until the pasture season should reduce, but not eliminate, tetany. Information about magnesium oxide is available from Dr. Frank Custer, Veterinarian.

Because the magnesium content of hay varies with its quality and type, it is suggested that farmers feed their best legume hay to the herd for the month during and after the calving period.

While the above suggestions should give relief this year to beef cattle producers, a permanent control of tetany can come about only by following the following long-term recommendations, it was stated:

Have soil tests made. Apply dolomitic lime if the tests indicate it is needed. Apply phosphate and potash according to the tests.

Strive for more legumes in hay and silage crops.

Make first cutting of alfalfa at full bud. Make all other cuttings of alfalfa and all cuttings of other legumes or grasses at an early bloom stage.

Avoid weather damage to hays if at all possible. Use hay conditioner and harn drier if available.

Make silage of hay crops rather than low quality hay.

Feed best hay or silage at calving time.

Arrange the breeding program to have the whole herd calve at approximately the same time rather than having calves dropped all during the year.

Research into the beef tetany problem in Garrett County is being conducted jointly by the Maryland Livestock Sanitary Service, the Animal Husbandry Department, and Agronomy Department of the University of Maryland.

Workshop Set Up For 4-H Officers

"Out from behind the Officer 8-Ball" is the theme of the 4-H Officers Workshop to be held on Saturday morning, February 14, in the County Agent's office from 10 to 12.

Parliamentary procedure, duties of officers and getting the job done through committees will be discussed. All 4-H officers and local leaders are eligible to attend this workshop.

To be selected as an officer of a 4-H club is an honor and an opportunity to help develop American citizenship, according to E. R. Lushy, Assistant County Agent. This is due to the fact that in local club meetings the 4-H'ers plan their activities, work together, sing and play together, select their own officers and leaders to help carry out their program of work. In short, it is an illustration of democracy in action, he said.

Which Industry Now Betters the Living of 3 Out of 4 Maryland Families?
...Here Are Some Surprising Facts About The Trading Stamp Industry
So far, whenever our nation's economy has needed expansion, a new industry has sprung up to help the country go ahead.
The automobile industry, employing millions, was followed closely by the development of radio and radio broadcasting to make more millions of jobs. Then came the airplane industry, air conditioning, plastics, television, frozen foods, to change our lives some more.
The trading stamp industry, while not new, belongs to this expansion group and has been one of the fastest growing of all. Today it betters the living of more than 3 out of 4 Maryland families who save trading stamps.
Obviously, an industry affecting such a large proportion of Maryland's population must bring far-reaching benefits for Maryland's economy. And it does. In 1957 the trading stamp industry bought $5,416,000 worth of products from Maryland's manufacturers. In one way or another, it provided employment for 517 Maryland people in many different industries.
The people in the trading stamp industry, its merchandise and redemption stores, its warehouses and transportation and all the activity that goes on within it are integrated economically everywhere within our state.
Thus it seems plain that the trading stamp industry along with the 136,500 Maryland women it serves has become, like other expansion industries, a living, vital segment of Maryland's economy.

Patton Scores 58 Points as Northern Wins From Oldtown

George Patton, sophomore basketball star, broke up school and county records last Friday afternoon when he scored 58 points as Northern Hega trounced Oldtown High at Accident by the score 89 to 55.

The previous high for the school was set several years ago by Darwin Robeson who scored 55 points for Northern against Confluence High. The 58 points credited to Patton is believed to be the highest in the tri-state area since the 62 points registered by Carl Hartman of Ridgeley High school in 1951 against the West Virginia School for the Deaf.

Patton slammed in 25 field goals and six of twelve free throws. It was the eighth win in 14 starts for Coach Lilburn Brown's Huskies. Patton upped his point total to 286 for the season in 14 games for an average of 20.4. Frandel McGraw was runner-up in scoring with 21 points.

Five players were ejected on personal fouls. McCurdy and Long of Northern, and Stansberry, Deffinbaugh and Kisamore of Oldtown.

Northern had 39 field goals to 18, but made only 11 out of 29 fouls. The Huskies led 45 to 31 at the half.

Police Issue 5,387 Parking Tags in '58

The police department issued 5,387 parking tickets during 1958, according to a report made to the city council last week by Henry Arnold, police chief.

The parking tickets did not cost the offenders more than ten cents each time a violation occurred. There were 136 other tickets issued for violations such as parking wrong way on street, parking on red line, parking in restricted areas, alleys or driveways, failure to pay meter, running through red lights, reckless driving and speeding.

Arnold said 200 courtesy cards were placed on cars during the year for different violations. Seven hundred thirty-eight of the parking tickets were issued to persons in 28 states while 4,619 were issued to Maryland cars covering 61 towns. The department issued 167 tags to bicycle owners.

Miss Lee Wed January 3

Miss Shirley Ann Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lee, of near Oakland, became the bride of Elmer Cosner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cosner, of Red Oak community, on Saturday, January 3.

The ceremony was performed in the Sand Flat Assembly of God church by the Rev. Ervin Steiding, pastor.

Mrs. Ervin Steiding was the bride's only attendant.

Mrs. Cosner was graduated from Southern High school in the class of 1955 and has been employed by Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit court, for the past three years.

The groom is employed by the Industrial Machine company in Baltimore. The couple now resides in Baltimore.

Sports Writer Reminisces

C. V. Burns, sports columnist for the Cumberland Daily News, was reminiscing one day last week Southern's victory over Valley was the cause for the stirring of his memory. He write:

"When Southern High school of Oakland cracked the 11-game winning streak of Valley High school on Tuesday night and handed the Black Knights their first loss of the season it was a reminder of something that happened in Barton back in the 1920's when the Braves were almost invincible on their home floor.

"One evening an unheralded quint from Oakland High school invaded Barton for what was considered a "warmup" game but it turned out to be one of the biggest upsets of the season when Oakland romped off the court with a victory.

"A lad named Henry McComas went on a scoring spree in that game and almost single-handed beat the brave.

"The same McComas is at present Superintendent of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital and right now is engineering a benefit basketball game between Rotarians and Lions for the benefit of the Heart Fund. It is scheduled for Tuesday, February 17.

Teen Corner

By DICK CASTILOW

The new arrangement at Teen Age Club seems to be suitable and satisfactory to all the members of the club. Bob Brinker kind of likes the idea too. I think that two records hops a month are just another pepper-upper for our organization.

Again the Teen Club would like to thank the non-commissioned officers for their help in getting our group off the ground and into the air.

Bob Brinker told me that he was still working on those stars to come up. There are some real great possibilities on tap.

There is a Fabian fan club being started in town. Help has been promised to get in touch with Fabian himself. All those who are really and truly interested should contact Cathy Gonder. From what I hear this is going to be a very active group.

I hear so many adults remarking upon the old songs which some of the new singers and groups are reviving. You have heard them. "My Happiness" and "Smoke gets in Your Eyes" are good examples.

Would it really help to have an instrument to predict the storms of life?

When the barometer falls it's too late to build a sea wall or to dig a cyclone cellar. Wise men prepare when the wind is calm. A leaking roof must be mended while the sun shines.

The Church does not claim to provide a barometer of life. But it preaches every Sunday the spiritual readiness which climaxed Christ's Sermon on the Mount:

"Whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man which built his house upon a rock:

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat upon that house. . . .

"And it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

God and Neighbor

Lesson for February 15, 1959

SUPPOSE the world had grown so wicked that you could not find any one who could be guaranteed to keep more than one of the Ten Commandments? And suppose you wanted to be married? Which commandment would you feel your future wife or husband simply must keep, regardless? If you can answer that question, you have answered another question: What, for you, is the most important commandment in the law of God? It is a very old question. Teachers of the Law used to debate it at length. Jesus himself was once asked the question directly: "Which commandment is the first of all?"

Dr. Foreman

My God, My Neighbor, Myself

Jesus did not answer the question by quoting a single one of the "Ten Commandments." He quoted two verses from parts of the Old Testament which to us are less familiar. First from Deuteronomy 6:4,5; and second from Levitieus 19:18. (The reader might well look these up and mark them in his Bible; for if Jesus could he said ever to have boiled down the whole Old Testament into two sentences, these are the two.) One command unites the two: LOVE. Jesus did not, of course, mean to say anything so absurd as that a simple command can produce love. The sergeant can say, One, two, three, March! The music teacher can say, One, two, three, Play! The lion tamer can say, One, two, three, Jump! But not even God says, One, two, three, Love! Human beings are not made that way, and no one knows it better than the God who made us.

What Jesus did mean is that this is what God requires of us, nothing less. We cannot fulfill his other commands till we have made an honest effort at this one first.

Jesus' selection of these two commandments shows also the mistake of taking either of them separately. There are those who do not understand what loving God means, and so try to make up for it by loving people. But how is it possible to love people, who are God's children, and at the same time ignore their heavenly Father? Also there are those who are so much impressed by the greatness of God and the littleness of man, the holiness of God and the sinful follies of man, that they give up loving human beings and lavish all their affection on God above. These need Saint John's reminder: How can a man love God, whom he has not seen, if he does not love human beings, whom he has seen? Then there are the numerous people who love only themselves, period; and by contrast the people who believe we should never love ourselves. (This overlooks the point—love thy neighbor AS thyself. If love of oneself is sinful, so is love of neighbor!) The true ideal is not any one of these with the others left out; but all these three—love (which is to say, concern for the good and the welfare) of God, our neighbors, ourselves.

How This Works

From the numberless applications of this central law of God, let us select one which is appropriate to Temperance Sunday. Here is a problem: What should be a Christian's attitude to alcoholic liquors? Suppose a man tries to answer that question on the basis of love to himself alone? Then his question will be simply: Is this going to do ME any harm? If the answer is No (if—!) then he may proceed to drink like a fish. But suppose he tries to solve his problem on the basis of love to God alone; then he may ask, Is the alcoholic content of my blood, high or low, going to hurt GOD? Well, he thinks, of course not (though he is mistaken); so he again may proceed to drink like a fish. But suppose he opens his eyes wide enough to take in his neighbor;—his children, his family, others who have weaker will-power than himself, those who look to him as an example, those who will be affected by the clearness or fuzziness of his mind as he makes decisions . . . then he will look at his drinking habits in quite a different light. No man lives on an island alone; and Christian love keeps that fact always bright in the mind.

Almost Stops Show In Okinawa Impersonation

Tommy Turney who made somewhat of a name for himself for his pantomime take-offs while in Oakland, gets even more recognition in Okinawa where he is currently serving in the armed forces.

Turney was recently presented a special letter of appreciation from his commanding officer for his "show stopping imitation of a Geisha girl," in the variety show production "Anything Goes," sponsored by an entertainment branch of the service. A quotation from an Okinawa army newspaper states: "The show was received enthusiastically at all nineteen performances at Army, Air Force and Marine installations and was especially appreciated by troops at isolated sites." The newspaper carried a photo of Turney in his Geisha costume and concluded: 'Tom's pantomime act of an Okinawa girl singing China Night was the highlight of the review put on at Futenma."

Biscayne 4-Door Sedan shows the Fisher Body beauty of Chevrolet's lowest priced series for '59.

CHEVY'S NEW HI-THRIFT 6

More miles are back in a gallon of regular-grade gas—up to 10% more—and Chevy's new Hi-Thrift 6 engine puts them there. It also gives you more "git" in the speeds you drive the most.

Here's an engine that always seems able to coax extra miles out of a tank of regular-grade gas. In fact, if you're one of those drivers who keep tab on things like gas mileage, you'll soon see for yourself that this new Hi-Thrift 6 gets up to 10% more miles a gallon.

Another thing you'll like about this 135-h.p. 6 is the extra pep it gives you for passing and climbing hills. This is due to higher torque at normal speeds.

It may be hard to believe anything that looks and moves like this '59 Chevy can be such a stickler for economy. But—whether you pick the Hi-Thrift 6 or a vim-packed V8—this is just one more reason Chevy's the car that's wanted for all its worth. Stop by your dealer's and see.

Two Oaths - - - -

There are two oaths of allegiance. Which one will our Congressmen uphold?

One to protect self-government—The Oath Congressmen take when they are sworn into office:

"I do solemnly swear that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God."

Or one to serve only the labor bosses—Reuther's COPE, the political organization of the CIO-AFL, which supported Democrat candidates in all but six Southern States, has a printed pledge for their candidates to sign. This insidious pledge was exposed by fearless newspapermen working on two Minneapolis newspapers, and one Congressman who refused to sign it also exposed this un-American COPE pledge:

"I hereby agree that if I receive the endorsement of this committee (Committee on Political Education), I pledge to actively support the program and platform formulated by the Labor movement on city, state and national issues. That I will join a caucus of all other labor-endorsed candidates which is pledged to abide by unit rule on all matters of organization or on basic labor issues. That I will clear all campaign literature through this committee and cause to have distributed only that which is approved. If it is found at any time that I have failed to meet the obligation outlined above, I agree that I forfeit this labor endorsement."

Any Congressman who signs such a pledge is destroying self-government in America and heaping upon the people "taxation without representation." Furthermore, if he carries out this pledge he is violating his oath of office to support and defend the U. S. Constitution and should be impeached.

Highlanders And Huskies To Meet Friday Evening

Friday, February twentieth on Southern's court, the fighting Southern Highlanders will meet the rambling Northern Huskies in their last scheduled clash of the season.

In their previous game the Rebels arose and won by a score of 74 to 56. The win gave Southern three of their last four games played between the two rival schools.

Last year in the first game of the season the Highlanders won by a score of 77 to 53. But in the return game Northern fought back and won by a score of 62 to 78.

But then in the County championships the South battled to win by 61 to 58. Then after winning their first game in the finals, they dropped a game to Valley to eliminate them from the tournament in Cumberland.

There will be two games. The first, between the two Junior Varsity teams, will begin at 6:45. Then the Varsity game will begin around 8:00.

The starting seven will be Leo Martin, Terry Colaw, Ron Colaw, Dick Stuck, Jerry Wine, Don Stemple and Don James.

Since this game is a highlight of the Garrett County basketball season, it is expected that a large crowd will attend.

Both schools plan pep rallies for Friday afternoon prior to the close of school.

House bill 102, sponsored by the Garrett delegation, raising the annual salaries of the Garrett County Commissioners from $2,000 to $2,200, plus $600 a year expense allowances.

The House of Delegates on Monday night passed the following:

House Bill 89, sponsored by Delegate William Walsh of Allegany county, to develop recreational areas along route 40.

The Senate Monday night passed

Senate Bill 221, by Senator Gonder, to enable unclassified state employes to take promotional exams for classified positions.

Fingerlings Are Stocked

The State Game and Inland Fish commission planned to plant some 30,000 fingerling brook trout in the county streams during the

Most of them were scheduled to be placed in tributaries of Savage River which are the last remaining native brook trout waters in the state. These streams are closed to trout fishing during the spawning season late in September and October.

New Roads Equipment To Be Painted Orange

TOP RANKING SCOUTERS—These three top ranking scouts received their Eagle award at a district court of honor last Thursday night at the Dennett Road school. They are Richard E. Stuck, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stuck, Oakland; Foster Riggs, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Riggs, Mt. Lake Park; and Maurice Brookhart, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Brookhart, Oakland. Their badges were pinned on them by their mothers in an appropriate ceremony conducted by the district advancement committee.—Photo by The Republican.

Awards Presented At Court of Honor

Some one hundred fifty boy scouts, cubs, explorers and interested parents assembled at the district court of honor, and saw three new Eagle scouts receive their badges and many other scouts receive their advancement awards.

Receiving their Eagle award were Richard E. Stuck and Maurice Brookhart, Jr., of Explorer Post 31, Oakland; and Foster Riggs, Jr., of troop No. 70, Mt. Lake Park. They received their badges from their mothers and certificates from their fathers in a ceremony prepared by the district advancement committee. The scouts also received rings from the troop committees.

John L. Fitzwater III and James Cuppett received life scout badges, while Robert G. Stuck and John A. Sharps received Star Scout badges. First, second and tenderfoot pins were awarded to eighteen other scouts, who were listed last week with the exception of James Stanton who received a second class pin. David Gonder, who became an Eagle last year, won a bronze palm for additional advancement.

John Forman, chairman of organization and extension for Deep Creek district, officially presented W. E. Hesen, president of the Rotary club, with the charter for troop 93, Oakland's youngest troop, sponsored by that organization.

Ivan Hall, of the Potomac Scout council, Cumberland, spoke on the character and ideals of Abraham Lincoln. George Stuck, district chairman, presented a gift to Wilbert Sifton, district scout executive, who has accepted an assignment with another scout council in McKeesport, Pa. Mr Sifton made a surprise presentation of a Scouters Key to George Hanst, district chairman of advancement, for services rendered in scouting over the past thirty years.

Women's Jury Bill Signed Into Law

Governor Tawes signed fifty-seven bills into law on Monday and among them was one that eliminated the last barrier to women serving on juries in Garrett and Howard Counties, and removed the use of sex as an excuse against serving.

Only Charles, St. Marys and Calvert counties are left where a female now may be excused only by reason of her sex.

Governor Tawes also signed a bill which allows administrators of estates in excess of $20,000 a commission of four percent. They are allowed up to 10 percent below $20,000.

The governor's pen also will require anyone in the future challenging another voter to do so by affidavit and on personal knowledge. This stricter requirement for challenging eligibility of a voter arose from Baltimore city politics but will be statewide in application.

Another political bill signed by the governor will reduce minority representation on the Legislative council to two. In the past it was at least four. Democratic leaders moved for the reduction on the basis of last November's election which reduced the number of Republican delegates to seven out of 123 and the senators to 3 out of 29.

Medical Assistance Plan Outlined In Meeting On Monday

Details of the community medical assistance plan offered to various communities by the Sears-Roebuck foundation were outlined at a meeting at Friendsville, Monday evening, before a large group of interested persons from the Accident and Friendsville areas. The two communities have been exploring the possibilities of erecting a medical center.

Interest in the project appeared to be high and those attending said many questions were asked and answered. Speaking at the meeting was Norman H. Davis, director of the medical program of the foundation. After explaining that the Sears-Roebuck foundation had nothing to sell or any selfish motive, but sought only to be of some assistance, Mr. Davis pointed out that each small town is actually competing with the city for services of a physician and only 7,000 medical graduates are available each year with half of the group specializing. At least 500 choose institutional work rather than private practice, leaving 3,000 possible physicians to supply the general practice needs of cities and rural areas.

He felt a building with built-in features, ready for occupancy with an option to buy or rent combined with a ready made practice, provided considerable attraction to a doctor. The community medical assistance program is one way to meet city competition, Mr. Davis said.

Mr. Davis explained that a survey conducted showed the community was spending $40,419 as a

FIREMEN THIRTY-FOUR YEARS—The Oakland Fire Company, which observed mortgage burning ceremonies Thursday evening of last week, has five charter members, all of whom were present for the occasion. Standing: Leo Helbig, Walter Dawson, Alva G. Gortner. Seated: Wilbur Davis, Grover Stemple.

Firemen Deliberately Set Blaze - -And Burn Mortgage

The president of the Oakland Fire Company deliberately set a blaze last Thursday evening and while a number of firemen were on hand not one made an effort to extinguish it.

The event took place at the Fire Hall and was occasioned by the burning of the mortgage on the building. Putting the torch to the paper was A. G. Gortner, assisted by Walter W. Dawson, a member of the Standing committee.

In recounting the history of the department's building on Third street, Mr. Gortner stated that the mortgage had been completely paid in eight years, approximately half as long as had been originally planned. The cornerstone of the present building was laid in 1950, and the structure was in use the following year. Prior to that, the company, now in its 34th year, had occupied small quarters in the town hall.

Jesse Jacobs, Frostburg, deputy state fire marshall, paid high tribute to the Oakland company and offered suggestions to the firemen concerning fire prevention and extinction.

Walter Dawson related the history of the company and made other pertinent comments.

Among others making brief remarks were Francis Fatkin, president of the Allegany-Garrett Firemen's association; Cromwell Zembower secretary, and David Kirk, editor of the group's monthly bulletin. Stuart F. Hamill, Jr. acted as master of ceremonies.

Entertainment was furnished by the Royals, local musical combo, and buffet refreshments were served.

Area Meetings Are Scheduled by PTA

Two area meetings have been scheduled by the County Council of Parents and Teachers, one for the northern end of the county and one for the southern end.

The meeting at Northern High school on Monday evening, February 23, will be for all Parent-Teacher organizations in the northern area. The meeting at the Dennett Road school on Tuesday evening, February 24, will be for organizations from the southern area.

Featured on the program will be Mrs. Fred Bull, former state president and at present chairman of the Legislative committee of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers. Orville Berwick, field representative for the Maryland State Teachers association, and other state officials will attend. Mrs. Bull will speak on "legislation."

The main purpose of the meetings is to acquaint both teachers and parents with the legislation program which was adopted at the annual state convention in Baltimore last November 6.

At the meeting at Northern the Friendsville P-T.A. will conduct a Founder's Day ceremony with music to be furnished by the Grantsville association. Refreshments will be served.

At the Dennett Road school meeting there will be discussion following Mrs Bull's remarks. The Dennett Road school band will furnish entertainment. Refreshments will be served following the business session. This meeting will start at 8:15.

Several new trucks were recently purchased by the Roads department.

Richard S. Browning, 83, of Deer Park, was fatally injured in a two-car collision on state route 135 near Deer Park on Saturday. Mr. Browning died Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland, of chest injuries suffered in the crash.

The driver of the other car, Zane Thomas Riggleman, 16, of Kitzmiller, Southern High school student, was also injured in the crash but was reported resting comfortably.

Trooper Robert Henline, of the State Police, who investigated, said the accident occurred Saturday afternoon about 5:45 o'clock. Mr. Browning, State police said, came out of a side road and collided with the machine driven by Riggleman, who was heading west on state route 135. Browning was heading south on the Broadford road which crosses the highway about one-half mile west of Deer Park, and leads to the site of the old Deer Park hotel where Mr. Browning resided.

The Riggleman youth suffered multiple cuts and bruises on the legs and face and possible head injuries when his car hit the left side of Mr. Browning's machine. Riggleman was driving an Ohio car which his father had driven in from that state for the week-end at home.

No charge were filed pending the completion of the investigation.

Is Your Name KNOX?

Knox, an old and honored surname, is principally of English, Scottish and Irish derivations. According to practically all authorities on nomenclature, it stems, regardless of its place of use, from the Gaelic "cnoc" which means "hill". It therefore was bestowed, when surnames first came into vogue, upon those whose homes were on a rise of land. It is said that the surname Knox was first used in Ireland during the 12th century, and that subsequently bearers of the name were scattered throughout the land. The coat-of-arms of the Irish branch of the Knox family bears the motto "In This Sign Conquer".

Among the high ranking officers, who served in the Continental Army during the Revolutionary War, was Major General Henry Knox (1750-1806) of the Massachusetts troops. He was one of the organizers of the Society of the Cincinnati, composed of Revolutionary officers, and was its first secretary.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has listings of David, Ezekiel, George, James, John, Nancy and Robert Knox who were residents of Maryland and heads of families at that time.

Joseph Knox was a school trustee of Altamont District, No. 1, Garrett County for the year ending May 1882.

Philander Chase Knox (1853-1921) was attorney general in the cabinets of President McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt, U. S. senator from Pennsylvania, and Secretary of State in the cabinet of President Taft.

John Hay Knox (1822-1902) was a distinguished financier and Comptroller of the U. S. Currency.

Harry Knox (1848-1923) was rear admiral, U. S. Navy.

Robert Walker Knox is assistant director, U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington, D. C.

William Edward Knox is president, Westinghouse Electric International Company, with offices in New York City.

Earl Warner Knox is dean of men, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

Medical Assistance

result of not having a doctor, indicating an economic potential to support a doctor.

Mr. Davis also explained the construction of a modern medical facility that was functional, inexpensive and could utilize local materials and labor, such as would be done in that community, should the plan he accepted there. Plans are available free through the foundation.

A third service the foundation would provide would be advice and guidance to the community in the matter of fund raising. The pledges would be considered loans, at no interest or a low interest rate. Retirement of the loans would be determined by the Executive committee, to be done as soon as the corporation would be financially able to do so. Income to repay the loans and interest would come from rent of the doctor.

He said the chances of getting a doctor were very slim unless a modern medical facility could be provided.

At the suggestion of Mr. Davis no decision was made at the meeting about building a medical center. However, he felt sentiment was favorable and another meeting is to be arranged to arrange details.

Also present at the meeting Monday in addition to Mr. Davis, were Donald Gareis, regional representative for the Sears-Roebuck Foundation; John Sargent, executive secretary, Maryland State Medical society, and some 150 people from Friendsville and Accident sections.

Six persons lost their lives by drowning when a car plunged into the water near Charleston, W. Va.

Listen Americans!

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

A few years ago a national organization made an opinion poll of newspaper editorial writers to obtain their attitudes on a number of economic questions. The writers were asked if they favored certain measures of legislation affecting economic activities within the nation. And at the end of the list of questions was this one: "Would it be advisable to adopt Socialism as an economic system for America?"

An overwhelming number of the editorial writers participating in the survey said "No" to the last question — they registered themselves as opposed to Socialism for America, but surprisingly enough, a substantial number of them favored individual legislative measures taken directly from the textbook of Socialism. In other words, they thought they were opposed to Socialism, but when Socialism's economic program was broken down into separate measures — not labeled as Socialist — they registered approval of some of its vital parts.

This opinion survey revealed two important dangers: (1) Many influential people in America do not understand the economic facts of life, and (2) The real danger of Socialism to America is its insidious, unrecognized advance. I recently heard a politician of one of the major parties accuse his opponent of "crying Socialism" about a legislative measure that later was enacted. He said his opponent now was "crying Socialism" about a newly proposed measure.

The opponent was correct; both measures are based on the economic philosophy of the Socialist economic platform as printed on page 145 of my copy of the Communist Manifesto. Their adoption by our largely Capitalistic nation doesn't alter their true identity, or their nature. In fact, in modern times, Marxist Socialist party leaders throughout the world have taught their followers to disguise Socialism — to advance it bit by bit under such labels as "liberal," "progressive," "humanitarian." These Communist and Socialist tactics emphasize the need for every American citizen to clearly understand the economic facts of life.

A new book on economics has come to my attention. It is entitled, "Common-Sense Economics." This is exactly what we need in the whole realm of economics — common sense writing and common sense appraisal. This new book was written by Gilbert M. Tucker of Albany, New York, and is published by The Stackpole Company, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania ($4.95). Gilbert Tucker is a friend of mine. I have found him to be a man of sound logic, and his book reflects a great talent for clarity as well as an entertaining sense of humor.

So far as is humanly possible, he has tried to present the economic facts of life devoid of the jargon and the seemingly endless dog-after-his-tail involvements of the classic academic economist. He has gone far toward achieving in this goal. His book is readable.

Most of the best informed tax experts are agreed that long overdue tax reform must now be considered a "must" for safeguarding our nation. They may not all accept Mr. Tucker's suggestions, but all would be stimulated and benefited by studying them.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Statehood for Hawaii

The spotlight will soon focus again on the Hawaiian Islands. Legislation to admit this strategic bastion of our defense perimeter to the Union is scheduled for early consideration by the Congress. Unquestionably, the prospects for statehood are good. It is therefore essential to view with dispassionate feeling some of the problems with which we must reckon when this Pacific island paradise becomes a state. Not the least important of these problems is the extent to which influences continue to prevail

It is a truism that the International Longshoreman's and Warehousemen's Union, the ILWU through strikes, work stoppages, slowdowns and other tactics could impair U. S. military activities and disrupt the economic stability of Hawaii. This labor organization was expelled by the CIO in 1950 because its leadership had "consistently and without a single deviation followed the sharp turns and swerves of the communist party line and (had) sacrificed the economic and social interests of its membership to that line." The leaders so-cited almost nine years ago are Harry Bridges and Jack Hall, and both are still running the ILWU show in the Islands. Thus, by reason of their oligarchic control of the union, they could wield great power in the affairs of the new state.

Understandably, the people of Hawaii—loyal and patriotic Americans—tend to minimize the significance of this potential force. A sideshow has been staged, however, to distract attention from the main communist issue. There has been a noticeable acceleration of a drive for respectability and popular acceptance of identified communists into the life and civic activities of the Islands.

Thomas Yagi, divisional ILWU Director, has become Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Maui County Community Hospital. Newton Miyagi, Secretary-Treasurer of an ILWU local, has become a member of the Board of Directors of a Hawaii Chapter of the American Red Cross. David Thompson, ILWU Education Director, was advertised recently as a distinguished guest on a workmen's compensation panel discussion instigated by the territorial government. ILWU Public Director, Robert McElrath has been most generous with his time in addressing both Democratic and Republican rallies on the subject of labor and politics. Another identified communist is now installed as an officer of a Parent-Teacher group. These are only a few examples of this drive for respectability.

In enacting Hawaiian statehood legislation, safeguards must be included to ensure that the machinery of government does not fall prey to persons of the Bridges-Hall variety of dressed-up communists.

To Hear Talks on Tractor Program

Garrett and Allegany county boys' 4-H local leaders and friends of 4-H interested in the 4-H tractor program will meet at dinner in Happy Hills Farm Restaurant near Frostburg this evening. To help develop the 1959 tractor program was the purpose of the meeting in which discussion would center around "Leaders! The Key to a Stronger 4-H Tractor Program" and "The 4-H Tractor Operators' Contest."

"Trends in the Maryland 4-H Tractor Program" was to be the subject of a discussion by Guy W. Gienger, Extension Agricultural Engineer of the University of Maryland. Sherard Wilson, State 4-H Club Agent, and C. W. Hess and L. E. Gaynor, Lubrication Engineers of the American Oil Company, Baltimore, were other speakers listed.

Farming today is done mostly with the use of tractors, so 4-H'ers are interested in how they operate and general maintenance, according to E. Rankin Lusby, Assistant County Agent. Boys participating in this project have the opportunity to learn about tractors from top to bottom including lubrication, safety, and general maintenance, he said.

4-H'ers put their experience and knowledge acquired in this project to test when they participate in the Tractor Operators' Contest held annually at the Garrett County Fair.

Southern Hi Edges Alumni Team 74-70

Southern High's Highlanders scored an uphill 74 to 70 basketball win over an alumni team at Oakland Tuesday night. The triumph was the 11th in 18 starts for Southern.

Thirteen players saw action for the varsity aggregation with all but one of them denting the scoring column. Terry Colaw was high man with 19. Carlson had 6, Bolyard 9, Savage 1, James 8, R. Colaw 6, Wine 9, B. Stemple 1, Stuck 4, Martin 4, D. Stemple 5, Duling 2.

Sanders sparked the grads with 21 points. Shiffey had 7, Kelley 13, Shaffer 1, Toby Colaw 10, Deckman 1.

The alumni led at the half 40 to 35 and still led 57 to 56 at the end of the third period.

In a preliminary contest for the benefit of the Heart Fund the Lions club and Rotary club of Oakland battled to a 36-36 tie. Due to exhaustion the final half went only for 12 minutes. Numerous junior high substitutes augmented both sides.

Defeated By Piedmont

Last Friday Southern Highlanders lost a game to Piedmont High school on the latter's court 84 to 54. Southern was no match for the fast breaking offense of the Piedmont Lions, although they succeeded in holding their own in the second half. The first half ended with Piedmont on the long end of a 47-17 count. The Highlanders couldn't seem to find the range until the second half got under way. Both sides scored 137 points in the final half. Wine led the Southern scorers.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, Clarence V. Murphy, who went to be with the Lord, February 20, 1958.

More than you can ever know;
I miss you, husband dear;
As the days and weeks come and go,
I miss you everywhere.
The Day will come—it won't be long,
I'll meet you in That Land,
We'll walk The Shining Street of Gold,
With all God's happy band.
Our happiness will be complete,
We'll sing Redemption's Story,
With all the Ransomed 'round The Throne,
To God be all The Glory.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

The Battle of the Inflation Bolge

In late 1939, Senator Taft said that the Federal budget must be balanced if national bankruptcy were to be avoided, and that it could be balanced in two years. President Roosevelt's response was to this effect, "nonsense, impossible," and he offered a handsome prize if the Senator from Ohio would show him how it could be done. Senator Taft's recommendations, of course were ignored, and the promise of a prize was forgotten.

Now, the politico-economic picture is even more confused. President Eisenhower has submitted to the Congress what purports to be a balanced budget of $77.1 billion in expected income and $77 billion in anticipated expenditures. But, the free spenders say "nonsense, impossible," and characterize this record-high peace-time budget as penny-pinching and insufficient. Already nondupliceating spending proposals introduced by this group since the start of the year would quickly raise the Federal budget to over $100 billion.

These self-styled fiscal wizards espouse an economic philosophy which is clearly reminiscent of the New-Fair Deal. They imply that the size of the budget is of no consequence as long as funds to pay the interest on the national debt can be found. The falsity of this argument is demonstrated by the fact that 10 percent, or more than $7 billion of the estimated expenditures in the next fiscal year will cover interest on the national debt. So, it should be readily apparent that as deficits increase ($13 billion more this year), interest costs rise continually, and that a time will come when it will be more difficult to meet this heavy burden.

To continue to add to the national debt is to return to the New-Fair Deal dogma of deficit financing. Inflation then becomes more malignant. Governmental economy is ridiculed. And, with the corresponding devaluation of the dollar, savings, insurance policies, fixed incomes, pensions—the top hopes and aspirations of the American people decrease in value. The alternatives are to increase taxes or reduce expenses.

If any increase in taxes is to be avoided, logic dictates that a balanced budget should have universal support. There must be a genuine desire and solid determination in equal measure on the part of the Government, the Congress and the public to achieve a balanced budget and fiscal stability. And, let no one say that a sound fiscal policy works against the more unfortunate among our people. It is the poor who will be cared for by a solvent Government. It is the poor who will suffer most when the Government is bankrupt.

THE COUNTRY-PULPIT

WEEKLY SERMON by Pastor P. F. Nieuwkoop

Engineer Sincerely Mistaken

An item in the Now magazine tells about a train scheduled to leave Milan, Italy at 7:40 p. m. for Bergamo, in northern Italy. 20 minutes later the train pulled into Rogodero, southern, Italy. Engineer was puzzled for he knew that Rogodero was not on his regular route. He conferred with the conductor and the agent and concluded that the switchman in Milan had made a mistake. The train was pulled back to Milan and sent on its way to Bergamo. If someone had reported the matter the conductor probably would have said, "Surely the engineer knows what he is doing and where he is going." Well, this one time at least he didn't know where he was going. All of this reminds us that it is possible to be sincere and mistaken at the same time. The Lord spoke of "Blind leaders leading the blind" back in his day. We have examples in the scripture like Saul of Tarsus, zealous for a wrong cause. How can we know that we are on the right track? This is one test - - is Jesus Christ the very center of your belief? "I am the way, the truth and the life, no man cometh unto the Father but by me." John 14:6.

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

More Spending, More Taxes—President Eisenhower said that at his news conference that if Congress wants to increase spending over and above his budget proposals, and thus unbalance the budget it should provide for the increased cost by increasing taxes. He added that we should not have higher taxes and he believed the people of the United States agree with him. This means, he said, that we must avoid unnecessary spending and live within our income.

Unfortunately, news stories from Washington have tended to separate the sheep from the goats. Everyone who is against the Eisenhower budget is labeled a "spender", and those who are for it are called "savers". This name-calling does not produce much economic light.

Of course, whatever is spent by the Government has to be paid by the taxpayers. A recent editorial in the Baltimore Sun draws an analogy between government spending and ordering a meal in an expensive restaurant:

"Some people think that the way to proceed is to order everything on the menu that tempts the appetite and let the cost go hang. Others, as for instance the present Administration are unable to disregard those great big figures in the right-hand column and try to keep the cost of the meal within the capacity to pay. The first method is more fun, in a way but can be needlessly expensive. The second method, though stodgy, avoids future embarrassment and is better for the digestion."

In presenting a balanced budget, the President did not slight our defense. As a matter of fact, the defense section of the budget was worked on personally by the President, one of the greatest military antheritie of all time.

Reassurance From Our Defense Chief—Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy told Congressional committees last week that our combination of nuclear delivery systems gives the United States superiority over any potential enemy. By maintaining the variety of retaliatory forces, he said, the United States will continue to have superiority.

The Nation's defense chief cited Strategic Air Command's heavy and medium bomber fleets as the backbone of our retaliatory striking power to deliver big atomic payloads. Supplementing these, he pointed out, are fighter-bomber units of the Tactical Air Force which can deliver heavy nuclear charges from their advanced positions. Aboard each of our carriers are high performance aircraft capable of flying large warheads from sea bases in forward positions. In addition, we have submarines equipped to launch missiles and we have missile bases on the European continent.

Military Construction In Maryland—This past week the Pentagon requested of Congress authorization for large-scale military construction in various States. Itemized projects in Maryland come to a total of $30,565,000. The Army will spend $3,530,000 on construction work in Maryland; the Navy, $4,562,000; the Air Force, $21,810,000; the Army Reserve, $448,000; the National Guard, $215,000.

The proposed military construction is urgently needed, and I believe Congress will not delay in giving requested authorization.

Reward For Brains—The Senate Committee on Armed Services, of which I am a member, has received for consideration a bill designed to encourage and stimulate inventive contributions to national defense. The bill (S. 898), introduced by Senator Saltonstall (R., Mass.), would authorize the Secretary of Defense to make monetary awards to persons whose contributions improve management methods and technical and scientific advances, and would apply to Government employees and private citizens.

Loans For Students—A new Government program of loans on easy terms to finance a college education now gets into operation. The U. S. Office of Education announces that it has parceled out 6 million dollars in funds to colleges and universities to loan to students. Each school sets it owns eligibility rules, but financial need and ability to make good marks are important qualifications. The Government requires that special consideration be given students who plan to study teaching, science, mathematics, engineering, or modern languages.

Air Force Academy Candidates—Major H. D. Leland, spokesman in this area for the Air Force Academy, tells me that it is not too early for young men who want to enter the Academy in June 1960 to take action in order to be considered for appointment. Young men, between the ages of 17 and 22, who are interested in a career in the Air Force, should contact Major Leland at 329 West Edmonston Drive, Rockville, Maryland.

Another Committee Assignment—I have been nominated by the Senate Minority to serve on the Joint Committee on Defense Production. As I am a member of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee and a member of the Senate Committee on Armed Services, both related to defense production, I am pleased to accept this new assignment, though of course it means more responsibility and more work.

State Of Hawaii—In a few days or weeks, news about the Statehood-for-Hawaii question will break into headlines. Legitimate reservations about Hawaii concern its distance from the mainland—more than 2,000 miles from the West Coast—and the Communist influence there. Arguments of proponents are aimed at disposing of these reservations. Statehood has been endorsed by the Pentagon as militarily desirable. A Congressional committee of inquiry reports that Communism is under as strict surveillance there as it is here. Finally, it is argued that admission of Hawaii to statehood will greatly improve our psychological position throughout the Pacific.

Farm Building Plans Available at Low Cost

Do your plans for 1959 include new farm buildings, animal shelters, or livestock handling equipment? Or do you hope to provide new living quarters for your family?

If building of any kind is on your mind for this year, R. W. Carpenter, farm building specialist, University of Maryland, has a suggestion for you that may save you time, effort and money. Working plans for most types of farm buildings, equipment and houses can be obtained through your State Extension Service. Pictures and brief descriptions of these plans are available for inspection in the offices of all county agricultural agents.

The Maryland farm building plan service has grown to the point where a total of 354 detailed plans for all types of farm buildings and structural equipment are available. Write to Ray Carpenter, extension agricultural engineer, College of Agriculture, University of Maryland, College Park.

These farm building plans, according to Carpenter, are available throughout the United States through a cooperative exchange arrangement between State Agricultural Colleges and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Plans are adapted to the climate and the farming of the region in which they are distributed and are designed to fit the most-up-to-date and efficient farm practices.

Farmhouse designs also are adapted by region. Some are expansible or can be divided inside and finished in stages as additional labor or money becomes available. Designed especially to meet the needs of farm families or families living in farming areas, the plans generally provide extra workroom space for home food preparation and preserving, special wash-up rooms for outdoor workers.

Modern 1-to-4 bedroom designs for masonry or frame construction are grouped according to basic arrangement of living, working, and sleeping quarters. Most are single-level designs, but a few split-level or two floor plans are included.

Chorus to Present Bamboo Princess

Senior Chorus members, of Southern High School, Oakland, under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Brown, will present the operetta, "The Bamboo Princess," a Chinese musical in two acts, by Henry S. Sawyer and Effa E. Preston, on March twelfth and thirteenth.

The setting of the operetta is the castle of the Baron of Tatsiem, somewhere in China, a short time before the period of the Chinese Republic.

The Baron is ready a Dragon chief of a band of robbers. Three lost American tourists come to his castle.

The outlaws are trying to capture the Bamboo King, who is really an honorable Chinese nobleman. He is lured into the Dragon's castle and is robbed of an important ruby.

The Bamboo King's beautiful daughter gets access to the castle in the disguise of a dancer. With the help of one of the bandits, she recovers the ruby. She is caught doing so.

When the Emperor arrives, the dancing girls, with the Bamboo Princess among them, are brought out. The Princess captivates the Emperor and tells him her story and begs his help.

The Dragon is brought before the Emperor and yields to his fate. The Emperor sentences him and his band to lifelong labor in the silver mines.

The Bamboo King is released and the Princess pardoned.

All ends happily with a surprise appearance of a Crown Prince.

The cast includes seventeen vocal and speaking parts.

A chorus of robbers, a corps of the Dragon's servants, dancing girls, and officers and soldiers of the Emperor's retinue complete the cast.

The cast includes Mason Callis as the Emperor, David Shafler, Messenger; Lois Swartzentruber, Yan-Laug; Brenda DeBerry, bamboo princess; and Barbara Jo Rice, Lei-Tsi. Northern High Cops Win From LaSalle

Northern High school avenged an earlier defeat at the hands of LaSalle at Cove on Tuesday night by turning back the visiting Explorers 68 to 58. LaSalle had squeaked past the Huskies 60 to 57 in a previous engagement at Cumberland.

The victory was the tenth against six losses for the Northern club.

LaSalle trailed by only two points 53 to 51, with 4:20 to go, but two field goals by Frandel McGraw, a fielder by George Patton and a pair of free throws by Gary Hetrick iced the decision for the Huskies.

Hetrick tallied 18 points for the winners and was closely followed by Patton and Dick Spear with 17 apiece. Strauss had 5, McGraw 7, Lowry 2 and B. Long 2 to complete the scoring. Substitute forward Firlie and center Mackert led the scorers for LaSalle with 15 and 14 points.

Northern outscored LaSalle from the field 25 to 23, and converted 18 of 34 attempts at the foul line.

Names Porter D.A.R. Citizen

Anita Sue Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Porter, of Oakland, has been notified that she is the winner for Garrett County in the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Contest.

Sue is an academic senior at Southern. This second marking period she had an all "A" record. She is very active in the school's Student Council serving as secretary of the organization. She is a member of the Senior Band and is president of the Future Teachers of America Club.

She was chosen on the basis of her dependability, service to others, leadership, and patriotism.

Three applicants were selected from both high schools in the county and submitted questionnaires to a committee of three impartial judges who selected Sue as the Good Citizen of Garrett County.

Sue's questionnaire will now be submitted to a second committee for final selection of Maryland's D.A.R. Good Citizen.

The State Contestant will be introduced personally at the D.A.R. State Conference in the spring and will be presented with a $100.00 E Bond.

The seniors received the 3-D letters; managers, juniors, and the sophomores received the regular type letters. The seniors are: Bill Kelly, who was captain this year; Darvin Friend, Richard Cerne, Wayne Callis, Ernest White, Eddie Sanders, Jack Gnegy and Don Stemple. The juniors are Tom Bergner, Terry Colaw, Keith Butler, Steve Malone, Bill Duling and Ken Wenger. The sophomores include Ron Colaw, Wallace Bolyard, Jim Haines, Clayton Winters, and Dick Stuck.

The awards were presented by the head coach, Mr. Richard Travis. Mr. Travis said that Southern could have one of the best teams in the area next year.

Gen. William J. Donovan, 76, who commanded "fighting 69th" regiment of Rainbow division in World War I, died February 8 at Walter Reed hospital.

Hospital Administration Is Not Political

No, the Democratic party has not taken over the administration of the Garrett County Memorial hospital.

The administration is still non-political and expects to remain so, despite the misinterpretation of a word in last week's story about a change in the organization set-up.

Members of the Board of Directors of the hospital have received numerous telephone calls about that wording in last week's story.

In last week's article the wording was used that the Senate bill would make the board of governors "a political and corporate body." Actualy the wording should have been "Body Politic." "Body politic" means a board organized for government of the hospital and has no meaning whatever about Republicans and Democrats.

One of the changes in the present set-up of the organization, noted in the bill is that if the bill was enacted it would give the present members of the board the right to approve the appointments of the three members from the political subdivisions or County Commissioner districts. At present these persons become members of the board when recommended by the Comissioners, without regard to approval.

Accident Firemen Install

Officers of the Accident Volunteer Fire company were installed at a meeting in the Accident Fire hall on Friday, February 6.

Those installed were Wilmer Mangroff, president; Sherman Frazee, vice-president; Hobart Bowser, secretary; Bruce Miller, treasurer; Orlando Hetrick, chief; Hobart Bowser, first assistant chief; Wilmer Mangroff, second assistant chief; Elmer Koib, chaplain; Charles Bowser, sergeant-at-arms; Harold Kahl, captain.

Plan State Meeting

Members of the Local Knights of Pythias Lodge and the Pythian Sisters have attended meetings during the past month that have been called by grand officers to prepare the program for the grand lodge and temple meetings to be held in Cumberland in September.

Called by Walter McKee, Cumberland, grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias lodge, the meetings have been in charge of O. T. Brotemarkle, a past grand chancellor. It will be the 52nd annual convention of both orders and will be held September 17, 18 and 19 in the Fort Cumberland hotel.

Attending from here have been Robert Hoult, district deputy, K. of P.; Mrs. Vera Mussard, grand chief, Pythian Sisters; Mrs. Margaret Graham, district deputy grand chief; Mrs. Mary Browning, grand press correspondent; Mrs. Mabel Coddington and Miss Ellen Turney, members of the grand temple arrangement committee. Another meeting is scheduled in March.

Maryland Planning 140.45 Miles Road

Two years behind its original 15-year schedule because of rising costs and other factors, Maryland plans 140.45 miles of high improvements this year, the State Roads commission announced.

The work will cost an estimated $85,816,000 and includes 36.19 miles expected to cost $31,132,000 in five Western Maryland counties—Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick and Montgomery.

This work will bring the long range program actually completed or advertised to 1,234.10 miles since it began in 1954. The figure is 38.26 miles short of the goal set. Reason for the shortage was lack of money.

The shortage of money for the program was caused by rising costs of right of way, labor and materials, redesigning some roads to meet federal standards to make them eligible for federal funds; and repeal by legislature of scheduled increases in motor vehicle license fees, according to Robert O. Bonnell, retiring commission chairman.

Of the mileage in Western Maryland 10.19 miles and $12,814,000 has been tagged for Washington county. Frederick has been allowed 9.70 miles and $3,710,000; Montgomery 7.93 and $7,401,000; Allegany 7.4 miles and $5,462,000; and Garrett 3.27 miles and $1,082,000.

None of the work in Allegany, Garrett or Frederick is included in the interstate highway system.

Who said there is no such thing as juvenile delinquency?

Look at the record! Millions of boys and girls under twenty-one in trouble with the police—dope traffic among teen-agers—organized crime by minors.

But this is not always juvenile delinquency. This is often the tragedy of ADULT DELINQUENCY. It is frequently the result of neglect, indifference, and lack of Christian training in our homes. It is the failure of parents that has led to the wreckage of many of these young lives.

Bring your child to Sunday School and Church. Give him the spiritual care that he wants and needs. Remember, Mother and Dad, we cannot always say, "juvenile delinquency." Be sure it is not your failure which may cause your child to ruin his life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

To Attend Meeting On Mental Health Problems

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner is planning to attend the annual meeting of the Maryland Association for Mental Health, to be held at Annapolis on Tuesday, February 24. A number of legislators will be present.

Governor Tawes has presented his budget in which the allotment for the mental hospital was slashed five million dollars. Both the Civic club and Junior Civic club have sent telegrams to Senator B. I. Gonder and the county delegation in an effort to get this amount restored in the budget.

Legislative action on providing adequate care and treatment for mental patients will be one of the principal topics for discussion. Recently the association officially adopted a legislative platform which endorsed the Lerner report and its recommendations for improvement in the state mental hospitals.

Trouble and Faith

Lesson for February 22, 1959

IT IS A thousand pities, but it is a fact, that the Christian church, which ought to be united by the Bible, has become split over it. Not split by it, but over it, in varying and discordant interpretations of what the Bible means. No passage in all Scripture has been the subject of more debates and differences than this 13th chapter of Mark, along with the parallel chapters, Matthew 24 and Luke 21. These are the chapters that report what Jesus said as he looked down the vista of time to the "end of the age". (That is a more literal translation of the Greek expression sometimes translated "end of the world.") Many Christians, despairing of getting any unanimous explanation of these difficult sayings, have just given up the whole business as a waste of time. Yet these chapters are not a mere puzzle.

Dr. Foreman

Faith Expects Troubles

Let us stick to one general helpful truth which meets us here, namely the relation of trouble and faith. First of all, as Jesus looks down the years, he does not see the light growing brighter and brighter. At least, he does not see the future with the eye of the unadulterated optimist. He uses some frightening language—wars, earthquakes, famines, "abomination of desolation," tribulation, and darkness at noon as at midnight. Jesus gave no backing to the idea that if you have faith enough "all your troubles will be bubbles" as the song says. Some troubles are very solid, they can smash a man and his hopes. No matter what goodness there may be in the world, no matter how good God is, there are going to be troubles ahead. People who give up their faith in God because they run into a squall-line of trouble-clouds, which they can not refer fly over, under or around, cannot have read those sayings of Jesus very carefully.

If Jesus had seen only the times of darkness he would have been a pessimist. If we follow his lead we shall by faith see not only troubles as a certainty (though what troubles, and when, only God knows), but also we shall see beyond all troubles. Most important, we shall see God on his throne. There is a famous story of Martin Luther, whose wife once appeared at the table in deep mourning. Martin was astonished. "Who's dead?" he asked. "God must be dead," she answered. "At any rate you have been going around for the last week loafing and talking as if He were dead." Martin Luther got the point. God is not dead . . . yet how many Christians we see today who, looking ahead, see only the trouble, and not the God of love and wisdom without whom not a sparrow falls. Beyond the troubles too we see Christ coming again. It is not true to Christian faith to think of the future as stretching out endlessly, a never-ceasing battle without victory, between God and evil. All that Christ lived and died for will come to pass. "Through many tribulations we must enter the kingdom," Paul said (Acts 14:22).

Faith Outlives Trouble

Jesus did not play down, discount or underestimate what the men and women who follow him may be called upon to undergo. There are many troubles before the End-time troubles, as he pointed out. He used expressions like "the beginning of the sufferings . . . the end is not yet . . . ." Even in an ordinary Christian's ordinary life, the life of one who dies centuries before the "end of the age," there will come troubles which will be absolutely crushing apart from the help of God. But the point of these appalling chapters on the End is that even though heavens (the universe) and earth pass away, God's people —the men and women of faith—shall not pass away. Look around you. Wherever you are. Are you afraid that these things you see may be swept away? So they will, so God's word assures us. Whether swiftly or by slow degrees as water works the solid granite, all things of this world will be destroyed to decay and disappear. But not all things invisible are destined to decay and destruction. But not all things invisible! You, the real and invisible You, will outlive all destructions. But how? In terror, calling for the rocks to cover you or in fearless faith?

Sermonette By Area Ministers

EVERYDAY RELIGION

Matthew 3:8, "Bring forth therefore fruits meet for repentance:"

John the Baptist preached fearlessly to the Pharisees and Sadducees about the need to practice in daily life that which would match any ritual they might go through, or any profession of repentance that they should make. He went on to warn them not to trust in their racial or family stock. He also warned them that the time of testing was near, and that all empty professions would be judged!

In the Sermon on the Mount, the Lord Jesus taught that they were blessed who were meek, those who were merciful to their fellows, and also the peacemakers among men. He said: "whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:" He warned the Pharisees that they had "omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment (justice), mercy, and faith:" (Matthew 23:23)

The Apostle James, in his epistle of practical Christianity, stressed the need of work to prove the reality of faith, in these words: "But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only."

There are many teachings in the Old Testament which show God's concern for the daily acts of His people to be in harmony with the great spiritual truths He had revealed to them. The Prophet Micah preached that their gifts and sacrifices could not "buy off" the Lord, but that He required them "to do justly, and to love mercy."

May many, in our communities, and in this generation, demonstrate daily by fruitful works the sincerity of their repentance, and experience in their hearts of true religion.

"Our Growing Edge"

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

Enjoy Life!

The title of this column is a fitting one for a great deal of our thinking today. Tremendous amount of energy, thought and money are being expended to have us believe various products, types of thinking and modes of recreation will do this for us. Next to our [illegible] from the cradle to the grave" security which seems to [illegible] large number of our people, the [illegible] comes next in importance.

In his column, "Strength for the day," Earl L. Douglass has written these words, in which I am in hearty agreement:

"Many people talk a great deal about the necessity of having color in their lives. Life without spice, adventure, a little sin and the striving after selfish ends is—they claim—a drab affair indeed. Getting up and going to the office, store or factory; rising at dawn to go out and milk the cows; counting out somebody else's money at a bank or putting groceries into a basket for a churlish housewife; cooking in somebody's kitchen, or standing the badgering of a tyrannical boss—these things appear unendurable. We need color in life, we say. Life itself simply lived is a drab affair. Given a bit of alcohol, a bit of flirtation and philandering, a good profane onslaught with verbal ammunition against the people we don't like and the relaxation that will set at rest our tangled and tingling nerves, will ensue.

Brother, you have this thing called life figured out most incorrectly. The thing which bring most joy in life is living life to the full. God has made life in such a way that nothing gives us so much satisfaction as confronting the duties, assuming the responsibilities, fighting the battles, bearing the burdens which come in the way of daily life.

What you need in order to make life happy is not color. What you need is the will to live life to its full as God intends every child of His should do."

MISS ELAINE SILBER

A very familiar and friendly voice is often heard over the public address system during homeroom devotions. This is the voice of the president of the Jr.-Sr. Bible Study Club, Miss Elaine Silber.

The 17 year old young lady has a great variety of interests. She enjoys helping other people, driving motor vehicles, working with crafts, reading good books, and dancing. I have an idea the mailman who delivers her family mail delivers many letters to her because letter writing is her hobby.

Elaine is enrolled in the stenographic curriculum and her subjects include senior chorus, shorthand II, office practice, problems of democracy, English, and bookkeeping.

Elaine is a farm girl whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. Willis Silber. She has one sister, Kay.

She has participated in school operettas and is a past member of the National Junior Honor Society.

Elaine is one of America's active teen-agers in her church work. She is a member of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church where she participates in the choir, and serves as secretary and treasurer in the Luther League. Elaine also belongs to the Mountain Top Youth Fellowship District.

The 5'2" brownette's desire after graduation is to become a dependable stenographer and in some way be a social worker.

THE DESTRUCTION OF THE AMALEKITES

(This story is based on Exodus 17, and Deuteronomy 25:17-19)

HELLO BOYS AND GIRLS! Have you ever seen an Amalekite, or do you know of anyone who has? Of course not. And yet such a nation did exist at one time, and it was a very powerful nation at that, but it has completely vanished from the earth, so that for many centuries there has not been a single Amalekite left. In today's story we will learn what it was that led to that nation's utter destruction.

When the Israelites came out of Egypt and wandered through the wilderness, the Amalekites, a fierce and warlike tribe, who inhabited the desert, attacked the faint and the weak ones among them from the rear. Don't you think that that was a cruel and cowardly thing to do?

Something had to be done about it, and it had to be done quickly. So Moses dispatched a band of Israelitish soldiers under Joshua's command to war against the Amalekites, while he went up to the top of a hill, holding in his hand the same rod with which he had performed so many wonders. With him were Aaron his brother, and a man by the name of Hur.

That day once again demonstrated that prayer and faith are mightier than the sword. While Moses' hands were raised in prayer to God on top of that hill, it was observed that the Israelites were victorious over the Amalekites, but just as soon as Moses became weary and dropped his hands, the Amalekites prevailed. Seeing how the victory alternated from side to side, Aaron and Hur held up Moses' hands continually until the Amalekites were completely routed by the Israelites.

The Lord did not forget the cowardly treachery of the wicked Amalekites, for He said unto Moses;

"Remember what Amalek did unto thee by the way, when ye came forth out of Egypt; How he met thee by the way, and smote the hindmost of thee, even all that were feeble behind thee, when thou wast faint and weary, and he feared not God...Thou shalt blot out the remembrance of Amalek from under heaven; thou shalt not forget it."

Their total destruction was completed by David centuries later, and so effectually, that there is not a single Amalekite left anywhere on the earth. So you see, boys and girls, how tenderly God cares for and loves His children, and that no act of cruelty done to them passes unnoticed by Him. Don't you think that such a God deserves our wholehearted love and devotion?

Camp Escapees Are Back In Custody

Three escapees from the State Forestry camp for Boys at New Germany were all back in custody on Monday.

One youth surrendered to Cumberland police while the second was picked up by Cpl. Bosley and Trooper Foreman as he sat in a restaurant along U. S. route 40, a few miles west of Cumberland.

The third youth was apprehended after a wild automobile chase with speeds up to 100 miles per hour. Trooper Snyder arrested the third youth Saturday after chasing him through the mountains between Hancock and Frederick. When Snyder attempted to flag him down the youth stepped on the gas and raced toward Frederick. As he entered Frederick the youth turned into West Patrick street, heading the wrong way and crashed into a confectionery where the car overturned.

Good Judgment - - - -

We believe the legislators are being wise and using good judgment in standing firm against the introduction of any liquor legislation in the General Assembly. That issue was voted on in November, 1956, and soundly defeated. At that time a statute calling for a dispensary system in the county for the legal sale of liquor was beaten by almost a two to one majority, 2,179 in favor compared to 4,253 against.

These taxpayers have not changed their minds. Those who voted against the legal sale of liquor for moral or other reasons, are still of the same opinion. A large majority of citizens in this county do not want liquor.

We are still of the opinion that there are no real economic benefits from a tax on legal liquor. For every dollar of tax revenue derived from the sale of liquor, taxpayers would have to pay double or triple to take care of liquor-caused court costs, jail costs, hospitalization, increased welfare work and other items.

It is difficult to put money value on the saving of human resources, self respect and morals. We can't measure in taxes the violent deaths that result from drunken driving.

We readily agree that the Promotion Council has done much good in the county. But when it tries to tie in legal liquor sales as an aid in lightening the tax burden on schools and the hospital, it isn't using good reasoning, in our estimation. There certainly is no strain in repaying the hospital and school bond issue. The gas tax receipts and money from various incentive funds make only a minimum outlay necessary for these two items from the annual levy.

We want to commend our legislators for resisting this pressure. One has only to look at the figures of the 1956 election to realize that the liquor question actually is a dead issue. Let's give it a decent burial and turn our minds to improving our community and its moral tone.

The early advantage of the element of surprise is now dissipated and legislators will find many who will support them in their decision not to introduce any liquor legislation.

Governor Selects Local Appointees

Governor J. Millard Tawes yesterday announced appointments of a number of magistrates, and supervisors of election for Garrett county commonly known as his "green bag" appointments.

All magistrates are Democrats as are two of the members of the board of election supervisors.

He named as Democrats Robert Maroney, Oakland; Leslie H. Sharpless, Kitzmiller, John W. Hohman, Friendsville; Edward Crowe, Jr., Avilton, for the Grantsville court.

Karol O. Rush, Friendsville, was named substitute magistrate. Jerome B. Emory, Bittinger, was named justice of the peace at large for the county.

Albert Shatter, Kitzmiller, and George Meese, route 40, east of Grantsville, were the Democrats named to the Garrett county Board of Election Supervisors. Tom Hetz, Avilton, was the Republican appointed to the board. Substitutes appointed were Fitzhugh L. Burrell, Kitzmiller, Democrat; and Allen S. Pangh, Deer Park Republican.

The Republican State Central committee several weeks ago, had sent in the names of four recommendations to each position.

Bee Winners Named At Parochial School

Richard Gnegy, Kathryn Gonder and Sue Tibbs, all eighth grade students at St. Peter's Parochial school, were declared winners at a Spelling Bee held last Wednesday evening. They will participate in a general Western Maryland Parochial contest on April 26 in Cumberland.

Parents and friends of the school witnessed the event in which four seventh grade and four eighth grade students participated. Entered in the contest also were Mary Kay Alvarez, Carol Lee Filsinger, Kathryn Mance, Jean Martin, grade seven; and Marie Gonder, grade eight.

The Bee closed on the 96th word. The Rev. Fr. Gerald LaPorta, assistant pastor, served as moderator, and Thomas Thayer and Mrs. Porter DeWitt, assisted.

Weatherman For 56 Years

Chief of the Weather Bureau department of commerce, announced this week that the bureau now has 21 cooperative observers who have taken weather observations daily for more than 50 years. Among them was Ralph E. Weber, of Oakland, who was taken records for fifty-six years.

Mr. Weber has been observer at Oakland since September, 1903, and has the second longest period of service of any present Maryland observer. Mr. Weber read the lowest surface temperature ever recorded south of the Mason-Dixon Line, 40 degrees below zero, on January 13, 1912.

PUSHING FOUR-H CLUBS—Tom Magruder, left, is shown helping plan for exhibits which will mark the celebration of national 4-H club week in the county. Magruder is president of the County 4-H council and plans to place exhibits at Southern High School, Northern High School and Bruce High School in Westernport. Magruder is a member of the Chicasaw 4-H club and resides in the lower end of the county. He is a student at Bruce High. Beside him is his brother, Bill, also a member of the Chicasaw club.

Bill Would Allow Hiring Industrial Engineer Locally

A bill scheduled for introduction in the General Assembly this week would authorize but not compel the County Commissioners to employ an industrial engineer to publicize the merits of the county and to assist in the economic development of the area.

The bill would specify that any person so appointed must have a wide and varied experience in such work. It would allow for salary and expenses not to exceed $25,000 annually.

The bill also will authorize the appointment by the County Commissioners of a five member industrial development committee from different geographical locations in the county, who would serve without compensation and whose duty it would be to assist the industrial engineer in an advisory capacity in the overall program of economic development.

Leslie Savage, chairman of the county delegation, said the measure would be a joint one, sponsored by both the Senate and House. He said there had been much talk in recent years of the need for an industrial engineer who would devote his full time to trying to bring industry to the county. He stressed the fact that this was not a compulsory measure but would give the Commissioners the right to make such an appointment if they determined such was the correct thing to do.

Cites Changes

He cited two apparent errors in reporting other legislative action. He said the women's jury bill made it optional for women to serve in Garrett, Calvert, St. Mary's and Charles counties. In other counties it is compulsory, the same as for a male citizen.

Mr. Savage also stated that a bill in regard to the county commissioners did nothing to raise the salary of the County Commissioners. The bill was to allow expenses for County Commissioners up to $600. There was no change in the salary status as the Commissioners at present receive $2,200.

The Rev. William Fox Accepts Pastorate At Lutheran Church

The Rev. William E. Fox, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Holy Comforter in Baltimore for the past several years, has accepted a call to become pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical Lutheran church, Oakland, effective the first of April.

Mr. Fox was a former pastor at Middletown and prior to entering the ministry was a parishioner of the Rev. Ralph C. Robinson, a former resident of Oakland, at present secretary of the Central Penn Lutheran Synod, located at Harrisburg, Pa.

Mr. Fox and members of his family have vacationed in and near Oakland for a number of years and already know many members of the congregation.

He plans to move to Oakland with his family the week of April 5 and will conduct his first service on Sunday, April 12.

St. Mark's church has been without a pastor since May 1, 1958, when the Rev. Charles Carlson accepted a call to become student director of the Lutheran Student Foundation of Western Pennsylvania, at Pittsburgh. Services have been conducted since that time by student ministers from the Gettysburg Theological seminary.

The Rev. Charles G. Aurand, retired minister, now residing in Gettysburg, will be in Oakland for communion services on Holy Thursday, March 26, and for two services on Easter Sunday, March 29.

Seeks Bids

Two bridges will be repainted and one will receive a new highway surface, according to an invitation to bid appearing in this week's issue of The Republican.

The State Roads commission is asking for proposals for repainting metal bridges, one over Deep Creek Lake, U. S. route 219, and one over Casselman river, U. S. route 40, at Grantsville. It also seeks a bid for replacing the roadway with bituminous concrete, on the 219 bridge over Deep Creek Lake.

Bids will be opened on March 17.

To Address Rotary Ladies' Nite Program

Dr. R. G. Steinmeyer, professor of government and politics at the University of Maryland, will be the speaker at the Ladies' Night program of the Oakland Rotary club, to be held Friday evening, February 27, at the William-James hotel. About 125 persons are expected to be present.

Dr. Steinmeyer will speak on his impressions of the far East and will be based on his personal observations gathered in 1957 when he served as guest professor in the University of Maryland Far East program for service men in Japan, Korea, and Okinawa. In addition to his teaching he lectured to various business and professional groups in Japan under the sponsorship of the United States information service.

His visit to Oakland will mark his third appearance in this area. He received his doctorate at American university, Washington, and since that time has been associated with the department of government and politics at the University. He specializes in international relations and comparative government studies. At present he also is a member of the University senate. He has traveled extensively in Europe studying the social, political and economic problems of post war western Europe.

Miller Sentenced On Arson Charge

Several Others Are Sentenced In Circuit Court Yesterday

Virgil Raymond Miller was sentenced yesterday by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley to six months in the county jail after having been found guilty on a charge of arson in a trial before the court on February 19. Miller had pleaded not guilty.

Miller was charged with burning the home of Mrs. Vernie F. Gregory, in the Red Oak section on December 12. Miller has been in the county jail since December 13, and the time spent in jail will count as part of his sentence.

Sentenced to 18 Months

Judge Fraley also passed sentence on several other cases yesterday.

John Brown Arrison, on a charge of false pretense, that of passing a number of bad checks, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to serve eighteen months in the Maryland House of Correction.

Arrison was arrested on November 14, after being caught passing checks totaling almost $150 at the William-James hotel, Faulkner's Restaurant, Englander's Pharmacy, and Browning's Store. Arrison had told S. R. Pagenhardt, state's attorney at the time that he was in the county to assist in building a radar station.

A search of records in Maryland revealed at that time that the man had been released from the House of Correction in July.

Sentenced for Larceny

In two other cases Russell Edward Biggs was charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods. He pleaded guilty to the first count of the indictments in each instance and was sentenced to serve two years in the Maryland House of Correction for each offense, the terms to run consecutively. However Judge Fraley suspended the sentences and placed the man under the supervision of the probation officer, David Steele. In one instance Biggs stole a chain saw from Howard E. Cosner. In the other case he had stolen an electric iron, television set, deep fat fryer, bed clothing and other articles from Howard and Cecily Biggs.

Orders Girls to School

In two other cases Judge Fraley sat as juvenile judge and ordered two young girls to either attend school at Northern High school regularly or face being sent away to a reformatory. The girls promised to attend school.

In still another case in the juvenile court Howard Broadwater and Thomas Richard Wilhelm entered pleas of guilty to the charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors and were placed on probation for a period of two years.

Bill Passes House

The House of Delegates on Monday night passed House Bill 305, sponsored by Elza E. Bray, to liberalize the county's gambling laws.

Garrett county at present authorizes bingo to raise funds for church, charitable, fraternal and volunteer fire units.

His bill would allow such groups to use raffles and carnival paddle wheels as fund raisers and include any non-profit organization which wishes to make money for charitable, athletic or educational purposes.

Will Induct Five

Five young men of the county were listed for induction into the armed forces on Tuesday, March 10, when they will be sent to the induction station at Fairmont, W. Va.

They were listed as William C. Bowman, Mellenry; Warren F. Miller, Grantsville, Joseph C. Wiley, Grantsville; Roger C. Rush, Grantsville; and Willard R. Wilt, Jennings.

Spring in the Air

Even with near zero weather on several occasions this week there are definite signs of spring in the air.

Three below zero was registered last Friday morning and nine above zero the following morning. Sunday was moderate and fair. Sleet and rain fell Monday with snow falling Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday mornings were cold with slightly above zero readings, and moderation during the day.

Conduct Initial Services In New Church Edifice

Rev. James Addair, pastor of the Loch Lynn Church of God, conducted his first services in his new church building in Loch Lynn Heights on Sunday morning. There is still some work to be done to the interior and the landscaping is yet to be done, but the building is now in use after several months of construction work.

He announced a week of prayer services each night this week at 7:30, and a revival service will then begin on Sunday night, March 1.

Escape Plan of Two Youths Is Thwarted

A planned escape was thwarted Tuesday by Maryland State police as Bruce Close, the county's deputy Sheriff was transporting two prisoners to the Maryland Reformatory in Hagerstown.

Close and his wife were hauling two youths to the institution when it was learned they had a section of pipe in their possession and were planning to escape.

The youths, John Allen and William Clatterbuck, both of Baltimore, were sentenced to two years by Judge Neil C. Fraley in the Circuit court on a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. The pair had been in the state forestry camp at New Germany and were accused of stealing the automobile of David C. Humbertson, Accident, a counselor at the camp.

Sheriff James Frantz said that about 15 minutes after his deputy and prisoners left Oakland at 7 a. m., one of the men confined at the Oakland jail informed him of the escape plans. He told Frantz that the youths had a lead pipe and were planning on overpowering the deputy to make an escape.

Frantz notified the State Police and roadblocks were established at Frostburg, Cumberland, Hancock and Hagerstown. Available state police were assigned to U. S. route 40. The prisoners were both handcuffed.

Shortly after 9 a. m., Trooper Harry Garcia stopped the deputy sheriff's car about 20 miles east of Cumberland. The youths were searched and a seven or eight inch section of pipe was found in Allen's clothing. Close said he had searched the youths' quarters and persons the night before without success. He said the youths had made no attempt to use the weapon.

After relieving them of the pipe and checking for other possible weapons the trip to Hagerstown was concluded.

Over 350 Attend PTA Area Meetings

Over 350 persons were in attendance at the two area PTA meetings held Monday and Tuesday evenings at Northern High school, near Accident, and Dennett Road school near Oakland.

Featured on both programs were Mrs. Fred Bull, former state president of the council of parents and teachers; and at present chairman of the legislative committee of the Maryland Congress; and Orville Berwick, field representative for the Maryland State Teachers association.

Purpose of the two meetings was to acquaint teachers and parents with legislation which was adopted at the annual state convention in Baltimore last November. This concerned the reduction of the size of pupils in classrooms for better teaching and the salary adjustment which called for an increase of $400 for teachers throughout the state.

Approximately 230 persons attended the meeting at Northern, and over 150 at the Dennett Road school.

$400 Is Taken From Aurora High Safe

A rash of breaking and enterings in Preston county was climaxed Sunday evening with the discovery of a burglary at Aurora High school where approximately $400 was taken from the school safe.

Principal Russell Feather discovered the burglary while making a check at the school. The burglars gained entry through a gymnasium window and then forced the door to the principal's office. The combination knob to the safe was broken and the door pried open.

No arrests have been made as yet.

Legislators Reported Cool To Proposal For Legalized Liquor

Promotion Council Wants County Stores And By The Drink In Some Hotels And Restaurants With Heavy Investment

A proposal to legalize the sale of liquor in Garrett county was presented to the county's legislators in Annapolis last week, but chances appeared it would meet with no more success than any number of such moves in the past.

The group, numbering between 20 and 25 persons, was composed of most officers and directors of the Deep Creek Lake Promotion Council; Fred Glotfelty and Elra Garletts, county commissioners, and a number of local businessmen.

The Promotion Council based its plan on a resolution approved recently by the officers and directors. It provides that liquor be dispensed through county stores, and permitted by the drink in hotels and restaurants "with an investment of at least $150,000 at current values."

The resolution suggests that any profits from the sale of liquor be allocated as follows: Amortization of school debt, 75 percent; amortization of hospital debt, 12½ percent; promotion fund for recreation and industry, 12½ percent.

Contacted at his home over the week-end, State Senator Bernard I. Gonder acknowledged that the group had met with him and presented the proposal. He said he could only repeat what he had contended during the recent campaign, that in his opinion, since the voters had so recently defeated a similar measure, liquor was a "dead issue".

The election will be held on Monday, March 9. Terms of Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, Carroll E. Miller and Eugene Flinn expire. Holdover members are Henry W. McComas, John Wolf and Robert E. Maroney. Maroney has received an appointment as magistrate which may cause him to submit his resignation.

It was indicated that Baumgartner would be a candidate for re-election and possibly others, but there were no additional persons filing. Mrs. Robert Stanton was expected to file for re-election as treasurer.

Altamont — The Village

by
W. W. Price

(Reprinted from The Glades Star)

Altamont was never more than a busy village. It depended upon farm produce and lumber products for shipping. Some livestock was shipped from Beckman siding. The railroad was constructed over the mountain in the year 1850-51. The little mountain town occupied about fifty acres of land on Military Lot Number 1168.

The most eastern corner of the town site was on land now owned by Mr. J. G. Woods and Mr Steuart Brown. This is 126 feet south of the center of Highway 135 near the eastern end of the concrete bridge across Altamont Cut. The boundaries of the town extended south from this point about 1500 feet, then generally west with the lines of Mr. Woods and Mr George Comp to a point common with the property of Mr. Finch. From the western corner the line would return across Little Yough river there onto a rivulet, the railroad near the present farm crossing and to a corner about halfway between the farmhouse on the property of Mr. William H. Schmidt (now occupied by Mr. Hoffmaster) and Highway 135. From this point on Mr. Schmidt's land, the line of the village ran well project toward Backbone Mountain, over Altamont Cut, and to the place of beginning.

The houses and buildings of the village were built on both sides of the railroad. But beyond the eastern limits of the village there was a house in the woods occupied by a Mr. Sol Turner. Mr. Turner was thought to be somewhat of a hermit. At least, he remained out of such limelight as briefly surrounded the affair of the transient Irish worker and a Garrett County man.

The Irish worker was said to have stolen a part of the horse gear, or harness, used by the Garrett Countan with his team in excavating the cut for the railroad. The men fought. They went to earth on the Donaldson Fill overlooking Altamont Cut on a part of the present Jesse G. Woods property. The Garrett man jerked out his revolver and shot the Irish worker through the head.

In the presence of murder, the Garrett County man, we are told, went ahead with his work. The unfortunate transient worker was buried in an unmarked grave. Such things were not unusual along the railroad.

A colored family, the Pegues, lived at Altamont at one time. Mr. Pegue was a fine fiddle player. He played for square dances at Altamont Grove. This was a spot in a grove of trees in which a plank platform had been constructed. It stood near the northeast end of Altamont Cut. Many people came on trains, on foot and on horse to this picnic grove at Altamont to dance and enjoy themselves.

The small building shown in the picture just ahead of the steam Mallet engine is Altamont station. The building once served as the Oakland passenger station. After the year 1884, when the present Oakland station was built, the small structure was hauled to Altamont and set down where it appears. This served as a waiting room and a telegraph office for the operators handling trains there. It is boarded up today and used as a miscellaneous storehouse. At one time and for many years, Altamont was served by at least four passenger trains daily. There is no passenger service today.

There was a general store building, owned by Mr. Blackburn and also kept at one time by Mr. Ed Cole, located at the west end of Altamont Cut on the north side. The public road came down the hillside and passed the west end of this building. There was a saloon in the basement level of this building. Its doors were suggestive of Gothic design used in churches, and ironically, opened to the public for completely ecclesiastic purposes.

A Mr. Bonnet and his family lived in the rear part of the Blackburn store building. Mr. Bonnet kept a croquet course lined up for playing behind the store. The main floor of this building was used as a store and at one time around the turn of the century, the building housed track laborers and construction gangs.

I could find no information as to what attention was given the Blackburn Store by the rebel cavalrymen of Captain F. H. McDonald commanding the squadron of the Eleventh Virginia. These Confederate soldiers came over the mountain in 1863 from Kitzmiller. They destroyed some railroad property. In the June issue of this magazine, for 1911, Captain Hoge records the coming of Colonel Lomax to Altamont and the capturing of a B&O engine and cars.

Beyond the blacksmith store building were other houses remembered by Jesse Woods as Slager's boarding house, a house occupied by Evan Matthews, and the Pat Brady saloon. This saloon was near the dug well still in use near the William Schmidt house. The William Schmidt house is one of the later houses of Altamont, as is the present house owned and occupied by Mr. Russel Shank and family.

Jack Rhodeheaver had a shoe-shop on the northside of the railroad and it was used as a voting place by the people of the Altamont community and town. Mr. Rhodeheaver was a busy man for railroaders are hard on shoes.

Near the present farm crossing west of Altamont tower, there was once a postoffice. Altamont postoffice was in charge of Mr. Wheeler. It was served by the railroad and by carrier between Altamont, Wilson and Kitzmiller over the mountain. The postmaster lived in a house nearby. The postoffice was discontinued about 1900. Mr. Bert Paugh is remembered as having carried mail at Altamont.

Another shoe shop in Altamont was run by Mr. McCrobie. It was not far from the lumberyard and the small lumberyard office in the western end of town.

On the south side of the railroad there were houses owned and occupied by Harvey, Saucer, Keren, Cassidy and Kline.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Woods live in the house built by Ben Harvey. This house faces a lane leading in from the highway near the east end of the overhead bridge. The Saucer family owned the property when it was purchased by the grandparents of Mr. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin G. Spiker.

Mr. Spiker was a blacksmith and a gunsmith. His shop stood across the public road almost in front of his house. His work was very important to the community. The work of artisans in metal was vital to all early American communities. It was a time when hand-made articles and hand-repaired articles determained the welfare of many a family. One of the rifles made by Mr. Spiker is in the collection of Ed O'Donnell at Loch Lynn, Md. Mr. O'Donnell explained to me that the furniture of this rifle was purchased already manufactured.

What Mr. O'Donnell mentioned the "furniture" of the Spiker rifle to me, I looked blank; he explained that the lock and mechanism, the brass trigger-guard and double triggers, the patchbox of brass inlaid in the full-length maple stock, and the butt plate, were considered "furniture" by the gunsmith. The business part of the weapon, its barrell, received the concentrated efforts of the gunsmith. The fine craftsmanship of the gunsmith always showed up in the barrel. This Spiker rifle is excellent testimony to the careful workmanship of its maker. The gun is a .37 caliber and weighs 8 pounds.

On the south side of the Cut, facing the road, stood the small log house owned and occupied by Bridget Kerens . . . Aunt Biddy . . . as she was locally known. She was a lady of very independent mind and if it suited her, she served liquid refreshment by the glass. There was one of the head-springs of the Little Yough on her lot. We understand that Aunt Bidd and her neighbor, Mrs. Saucer, got into a free-for-all at the spring one day. Aunt Biddy won the last round. The well at the Jesse Woods home is said to have been dug as a result of this fracas.

Another headspring of the Little Yough is just beside the Kerens lot. It is on the property of Mr. George Comp. Mr. Comp and his family live in the house nearby that is known as the Cassidy house. This house, so Mr. Comp told me, is nearly a hundred years old. It is said to have been one of the first houses built on a B&O Relief Department loan. Mr. Cassidy, for whom the house was built, fell from an engine in the old wye and lost his life. James Cassidy was a telegrapher for the railroad.

The site of another village house in on Mr. Comp's property. This is in the cornor of his field just below the railroad embankment. The family who lived in that house was named Kline. We do not know when this house was torn down.

The old railroad wye is gone, but its site can still be seen as an excavation in the corner of Mr. Elwood Lee's field. Near this spot stood a company house occupied by Mr. Carroll. This house was purchased by Mr. Henry Schmidt about 1900 for the sum of ten or twelve dollars. It still stands near the Schmidt house and is painted "railroad red". It was used by Mr. Schmidt as a stable and toolhouse.

There was no church or school building within the village of Altamont. The "plank" schoolhouse was used for school and religious services. This building stood along the road between Altamont and Wilson. It is recalled that Methodist circuit preachers often came to Altamont community and held revival services in this building.

There was a railroad cistern-reservoir constructed just east of the present highway bridge on the south bank of Altamont Cut. This was a sunken cistern of brickwork and roofed over, circular in design, and of about 50 feet diameter and something like 25 feet in depth. This reservoir held about 6000 gallons of water to supply the steam locomotives from penstocks standing between the tracks. Today, fine blackberry vines grow from the abandoned site. The reservoir was not used much after 1920.

A pioneer house of this community stands along the railroad track about halfway between Wilson and Swanton. This is the John Beckman house. It is of log construction and has been standing and occupied over one hundred years. Mr. John Beckman came to America from Germany and became a naturalized citizen. He bought his first tract of land from a Mr. Wilson in 1841 at the site of the present farm. We would judge the house to have been finished by 1843. The house gives one the impression of a homestead that has witnessed much American history go up and down the railroad. Five generations of Beckmans have occupied this house.

Is Your Name GRIFFITH?

Griffith, an old and honored surname, is principally of Welsh and Irish origins. In the former category it is said that it is obtained from the Welsh "gruffyd" meaning "strong in faith."

In its Irish aspect, Griffith is the equivalent of Griffin and is derived from the gaelic "griovha" which signifies "griffin-like." It was bestowed, when surnames first came into vogue, upon those having the courageous qualities attributed to that fanciful creature, half lion and half eagle, which was known in mythology as a "griffin". The name was established in the 10th century, and the coat-of-arms of the Irish branch of the Griffith family bears the motto "Wish Nothing Base."

Philemon Griffith (1756-1838) and Samuel Griffith (1752-1833) served respectively as major and captain of Maryland troops during the Revolutionary War. Another patriot was Henry Griffith (1720-1794), a member of the Colonial Assembly and a delegate to the convention, held in 1775, that formed the Association Of The Freemen of Maryland.

As additional evidence that members of the Griffith family were among the early settlers of this country, it should be noted that the first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has forty-five listings of persons by the name of Griffith who were residents of Maryland and heads of families at that time.

W. W. Griffith was a school teacher in Accident District, Garrett County, during the year ending May 15, 1881.

Griffith Jenkins Griffith (1850-1919), a native of South Wales, came to the United States when a boy of fifteen years. Lived in New York City for a short period, and then moved to California where he acquired extensive mining interests. He donated more than 3000 acres of land to the City of Los Angeles to be used as a public park.

David Wark Griffith (1880-1948) was a distinguished motion picture producer.

Ivor Griffith is president, Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science.

Keenan Leslie Griffith is general manager of sales, Bethlehem Steel Company.

Motorists Get Information On Judgment Fund Law

Maryland motorists are to receive with their application for 1959 registration an official statement in leaflet form explaining the principal points in the state's unsatisfied claim and judgment fund law.

The leaflet points out that the only insurance applicable under the law is automobile liability and property damage insurance. Filled-out registration forms last year showed that more than 937 percent of the state's motorists carried automobile liability and property damage insurance.

A similar tour is held each year during National 4-H Club Week as part of the citizenship program in older youth work. Any Garrett County 4-H'er interested in attending should contact the 4-H Agents in the County Extension Office.

Opposes Legislation On Liquor Question

Mt. Lake Park, Md.,
February 23, 1959.

Mr. Leslie Savage, chairman of legislative committee from Garrett County.
Dear Mr. Savage and fellow Legislators.

We understand that you are being high pressured by the wet element to enact a law to legalize the sale of liquor, hard liquor in our county. We also understand that you are resisting. We thank you for your courage and stability. We believe you are wise in doing so. We believe that the traffic is morally, politically and socially wrong.

Where the traffic is in it has been found time and again that it degrades both the dealer and his patrons. It brings poverty, degradation and sorrow to the home. It also brings corruption and dishonesty to politics and government.

It is economically unsound and misleading. It has been shown that it increases crime and enforcement costs from two to six times the revenue obtained from it. We also know that the rate of traffic casualties and deaths are enormously increased. Property damage and loss mounts on the highways. These costs must be made up by increased taxes. The taxpayer would have to be the goat. Taxes are already the limit.

We think it would be political suicide for those who would put over such legislation. Our referendum on the matter proved how the people feel. They have not changed their minds. The same voters are closely watching the record.

Again we wish to thank you for standing firm as to your duty and promises to support the referendum and the people's wishes.

I am respectfully yours for good legislation and for a sane and sober people.

Sincerely,
J. TIMOTHY MOON

Mr. and Mrs. John Forman and family were in Westminster and Baltimore over the week-end attending the state band concert in the former and visiting relatives in the latter. Their son, Thomas Forman, was one of two selected from this county to be members of the All-State band. James Callis was the other one chosen.

Dave Beck, ex-president of Teamsters' Union, was found guilty of tax evasion.

Commissioner Duties Outlined at Meeting

Duties and responsibilities of the county commissioners were outlined to members of the Democratic Women's club Tuesday evening by two members of the board and their attorney.

Present at the dinner meeting at the Williams-James hotel were Ira Garletts and Fred Glotfelty, commissioners; Stuart F. Hamill, jr., attorney, and approximately 45 members of the club and guests. The third commissioner, Carl Schell, was unable to attend.

Mr. Garletts said the two Democratic and one Republican member of the board were working in "perfect harmony" to further the county's interests and saw no friction in the board's function due to split party affiliation. This is the first time in a number of years that the board has not been composed entirely of Republicans.

Mr. Hamill later explained the recently enacted act which permits women to serve on juries, and added that this further increases the commissioners' problems in that it would be necessary to provide additional toilet facilities in the courthouse for which there is no additional space.

Mrs. Louise Seggie Accident, accompanied her children, Susan and George in a program of singing during which concluded the dinner.

Large Group Hears Secretary to Soviets

Vladimir F. Morozov, third secretary to the Russian embassy in Washington, had an overflow audience at a meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club on Monday evening, but hearers were no nearer an understanding of the Russian mind at the conclusion of the session.

The club had invited members of the Oakland Rotary club and a number took advantage of the opportunity. Members of the AAUW, also gathered in the dining room at the conclusion of the meal, for the prepared talk by the Russian.

According to several who attended, the question and answer period which followed his address did not add any enlightenment to United States-Soviet relations.

Mr. Morozov, who is a law consolor and served in the Soviet Marines during World War II spent the night here and met a number of people at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy William Hinebaugh before the dinner where discussion was free and quite friendly.

The American Way

Two Men

By DR. ALFRED P. HAAKE

EDITOR'S NOTE: Alfred P. Haake Ph. D., is a noted economist, public relations consultant author and lecturer.

Charles F. Kettering died on November 25, 1958 at the age of 82, leaving behind him a rich legacy of progress in the American Way of Life.

At his 75th birthday celebration by the citizens of Dayton, Ohio, he was characterized by Frank Potts as—"... symbol of progress and the American Way of Life—creator of ideas and builder of industries and employment—inspirer of men to nobler thoughts and greater accomplishments—foe of ignorance and discouragement—friend of learning and optimistic resolve—among the great men of all time." A true appraisal of a fruitful life!

In understanding a man it helps to see what he was. It may help no less to see what he was not. Such a contrast makes vivid and significant the picture of two of the most interesting characters of our time, each typifying a kind of leadership utterly different from that of the other.

Charles F. Kettering and Walter P. Reuther were both born in humble circumstance. One on a farm in an environment of sturdy self-reliance with definitely assigned responsibilities and a high regard for moral integrity and hard work. The other 31 years later, in an atmosphere intensely serious, politically self-conscious and class conscious, "under a roof where the sect was Lutheran and the creed was the gospel according to Karl Marx."

Kettering, the industrious farm lad, searching out the secrets of nature and mechanics to lighten the budren of living. Reuther, son of an immigrant brewery truck driver, saturated in three generation of Marxist teachings, with the hatreds, enthusiasms and ambitions that only militant socialism bloody class struggle can engender.

Despite the fantastic success that rewarded his efforts, Kettering, to the end of his days, remained humble in his search for truth and understanding of Deity. Reuther became the ruthless conqueror and arrogant architect of devices and programs, many of them denounced as "phony" by other labor leaders, to fashion and control the destiny of man.

Both dedicated men! Kettering to the timeless quest for truth and understanding, enabling men to do more and better things for themselves. Reuther to an ideology that lifts the creature above the Creator and is indifferent to the morals of the means used.

Kettering believed in God reverent and free from intellectual arrogance. Comforting a friend on the loss of her mother, he wrote: "... surely, such lovely, good women as your mother and mine have found a deeper happiness than we could ever provide for them here."

Reuther can embellish his talks with the cant of brotherhood and humanistic values, even as his lieutenants destroy property and life elsewhere, but he worships power rather than God. Asked during a socialistic meeting whether he believed in religion and God or in science as a religion, he replied: "We do not believe in God, but that man is God."

Kettering, hard-working, indomitable optimist, struggled to pierce the secrets of nature and reveal the gifts God gave man to use. In addition to his many inventions, he endowed hospitals, schools, established foundations to search out needed facts and truths, including efforts to stamp out dreaded diseases such as cancer; and himself spent uncounted hours in carrying on as well as directing research for the betterment of man.

Reuther hard-working and hard-fighting, self-trained in the school of labor violence and disregard for laws that protect life and property rights, the clever Lenin-inspired and ruthless strategist, does not hesitate to man-handle facts and fog understanding in his quest for power over men.

Kettering believed in the "uncommon man" who has always led mankind to higher levels of being under the incentive of individual responsibility and wealth. Reuther would level all mankind to mass-mediocrity under the tyranny of all powerful government. Kettering labored incessantly to solve the problems of greater production; Reuther merely takes from one to give to another while adding nothing to the total, and quarrels over the distributing of a handkerchief of prosperity already created, while Kettering would provide a table-cloth of new prosperity for all to share.

Highlanders End Season With Victory

Southern Highlanders wound up their regular season on Tuesday night with an 82 to 60 victory over the Petersburg Vikings on the local court. They ended with a 4-2 record in the Potomac Valley conference and an overall mark of 12 victories against eight defeats.

Guard Don Stemple was the big factor in Southern's rout-making with 11 field goals and five out of nine fouls for 33 points. Ron Colaw got 12, Wine 10, Martin 6, Terry Colaw 4, Bill Stemple 2, Belyard 6 and Jennings 8 to complete the scoring. Three of Southern's players were not in uniform. Carlson, Duling and Stuck the latter was ill.

Alt led the Petersburg scoring with 20 points. Nelson had 18 while Koontz had 8, Taylor 3 and Root 2.

The Highlanders led 37 to 24 in field goals and had 12 of 24 foul shots compared to 12 of 25 for Petersburg.

Legislators Cool

said Monday that this group had approached the legislators with the view of doing anything possible to attract additional revenue to the county, and legalized liquor was one of the possibilities. He added that if new revenue is not found, it will be necessary to increase the real property tax, which has been around $2.00 per $100 assessment for many years.

A portion of the Promotion Council resolution follows:

"It is common knowledge that alcoholic beverages are being brought in from West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Allegany County, consumed in Garrett county. It is easy to obtain alcoholic beverages if it is here, it is being consumed, but we do not get the taxes from it.

"The Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, Inc., is endeavoring a change in the Maryland Law to provide sale of packaged alcoholic beverages in Garrett County through County owned and operated depositaries. Also, to encourage additional capital investment in Recreational facilities, we endorse a change in the law to provide for over-the-counter sale of alcoholic beverages by the drink in hotels and or with restaurants with an investment of at least $150,000 at current values.

"At present there is no place in Garrett County which would qualify, but this would offer incentive to investors to make this large scale investment. We firmly believe that these steps should be taken. The first gets the tax from what is already here, the second removes a major obstacle in the way of sizeable economic investment in our county and also helps to broaden our tax base, thereby increasing our tax return."

Some of the activities of the Promotion council were outlined in the resolution. It claimed success in publicizing the county and the lake, had extended the recreational season from three to six months by promoting autumn glory time and winter sports, had provided service to business and lake property owners through operation of the information booth, had encouraged investment of local and outside capital for improvement of existing recreational facilities.

The resolution also calls attention to the contention that an increase in real estate taxes is inevitable under present circumstances.

Mrs. Claire Booth Luce was named ambassador to Brazil.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Playing Into Their Hands

Last week in LIFE magazine, Senator Humphrey described his extensively-advertised Moscow visit and quoted Khrushchev as appraising U. S. chiorts to counter Russian parries in these words: "... you walked right into it. You were stupid you were fools!" Though the Soviet Premier used the past tense, his thought could be applied as well to the present. On the political, propaganda and psychological fronts, the Communists have the initiative and the free world seemingly drifts without a positive course of direction. As Khrushchev suggests, we appear to run, not walk, from one propaganda trap to another.

Senator Humphrey can, with understandable pride, point to his unprecedented interview with Khrushchev. But, in reality he was used as a means to convey propaganda which the Kremlin wants the entire world to hear - just as the American people are being used today in terms of the visit of Anastas Mikoyan, the Deputy Soviet Premier. Both episodes are the result of a cunning plot to set an atmosphere in which to launch another disarming offensive. With adroitness and unexcelled timing the Russians are assiduously working to create the illusion that they are men of good will, men of peace - that the Soviet Union has been "democratized."

Mikoyan's travels in this country are characterized "unofficial." Yet there can be little question that his every action, gesture and word has been for an "official" purpose. What that purpose might be is open to conjecture. But, this much is clear - he hopes to break down traditional barriers to trade between the U. S. and Russia, and in the doing to ensnare unwitting businessmen and unenlightened citizens. And, he seeks to condition the public mind to the acceptance of a face-to-face meeting between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev, preferably on American soil.

For a quick understanding of Mikoyan's duplicity and treachery, this recent statement by AFL-CIO President, George Meany, is deserving of special emphasis: "Nothing that Stalin ever did could be more reprehensible in the use of force than what was done in Hungary in November, 1956. It is significant that the Russians used an old-time Stalinist (Mikoyan) as the conveyor of the message of truce under which the Hungarians were lured from their fight, and their leaders under a flag of truce were taken away to be subsequently murdered."

It is therefore alarming to note that the Baltimore Sun chose to carry this banner headline in one of its editions: "Mikoyan Interrupting U. S. Tour to See Dulles Today." If such prominence is to be given Soviet propaganda would it not have been more appropriate to use these words: "Dulles Interrupts Illness Recuperation to See Mikoyan"?

Army chief of staff said U. S. had all strength necessary to resist force in Berlin "if we are willing to mobilize and do so in time."

Macmillan of Britain asked Khrushchev to help [illegible] sions of world.

WEEKLY SERMON

Tornadoes Awful Power

The sucking action of a tornado is so powerful that it can lift trains right off the track. It can bounce trucks around like rubber balls! The winds in the center of the tornado are estimated to be 300 miles per hour and can drive splinters into boards and straws into trees. The frequency of tornadoes in this part of the country should cause people to make preparation to preserve their lives and the lives of their loved ones. There is one company in Detroit that manufactures steel enclosures to be installed in basements for protection. However there is a much greater storm from which we should seek protection also, that is the storm of God's judgment against sin and sinners. This judgment will not only bring physical death, it will bring permanent separation from God in the life to come. This is no joke. Thousands upon thousands are already experiencing what it means to be lost. The Lord Jesus drew back the curtain and described it for us in Luke 16:19-31. This is not called a parable, and if it were, the details are horribly real and cannot be minimized. The good news of the Gospel tells us of protection given to those who repent and surrender themselves to the Lord Jesus. Read John, Chapter 3.

Rifle Leaders Are Victorious Sunday

Oakland shooters and scores in the prone, sitting, kneeling and standing positions included: for Sentries, C. E. Miller Sr., 100, 49, 48, 92, 287; for the Scouts, G. L. Perter, 100, 49, 48, 92, 289; E. E. Michael 100, 46, 48, 91, 285; E. Helbig, 99, 47, 50, 87, 283; for Pioneers, C. E. Miller, Jr., 99, 50, 46, 87, 282. C. Calhoan also fired for the Sentries.

I Will Share

Yes friends, I will share my God with you, on HIS terms.

To the readers of the "Plain Truth," and listeners to the "World Tomorrow" program; and to those of you who have read Exodus 31:12-17, and understand that FOREVER means and would like to have the sign or mark of God, also to all that know God.

And hereby we do know that we know Him, if we keep His commandments.

He that saith I know Him, and keepeth not His commandments, is a liar and the truth is not in Him. I John 2:3-4). Read also James 2:10-11.

I am having this published so that all of us in a thirty or forty mile radius that know God, or are willing to come to the knowledge of Him, through our Savior, may have an opportunity to come together, to worship Him as He commands, if there is enough of us to do so.

If interested please write me, giving directions to you, and I will try to contact you.

But if I John 2:3-4 offends you, and you don't love God, I John 5:3, please do not write me.

If any one is interested in coming to the knowledge of God, you need help, so may I suggest you send for the "Plain Truth" magazine, and two booklets "1975 in Prophecy" and the "United States in Prophecy." These are Free as he TRUTH must be. (Matt. 10:7-8).

Send your request to Herbert W. Armstrong, Box 111, Pasadena, Calif.

NEW ROADS COMMISSION CHAIRMAN TAKES OATH

housing units plus re-allowance of 16,000 unused authorizations, a total of 51,000 units. The measure involved direct Federal loans of 300 million dollars to veterans where financing is not available; loans totaling 400 million dollars for college housing; and 125 million dollars in loans for college dormitories and class rooms. Some of the Senators hold that the Housing Bill goes too far, others that it does not go far enough.

Riverdale, Maryland, Army Reserve Project—The Secretary of the Army tells me that bids will be solicited this week for construction of the U. S. Army Reserve construction at Riverdale, Maryland. The project is a 5-unit Army Reserve Center and a 5-bay maintenance shop, to provide required facilities for training Reserve members.

Aircraft Work For Private Shops—I have introduced a bill to guarantee to private industry 60 percent of the government's aircraft maintenance workload. Some of the military services have diverted to government shops work which should have gone to private industry plants, and this has hurt the industry. I have felt that we should protect the aircraft industry and, for that matter, any industry which is an integral part of the tax producing machine on which the functioning of our structure of government depends.

Board of Visitors, Naval Academy—Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts and I were honored last week by being nominated by the Senate Minority to the Board of Visitors of the U. S. Naval Academy.

Security Reports Rapidly Outdated—Our Senate Committee on Armed Services continues its work on defense measures. Incidentally, the famous Gaither Report on military security, which advocated a much higher level of expenditures for the military than that proposed by the White House, was never made public. Weapons are developed so fast in the Space Age that a report such as that which the Gaither group submitted is rapidly outdated. A case in point: one of the most expensive items advocated in the Gaither Report was a large-scale shelter construction program, this was opposed by the Pentagon on the grounds that, due to developments in the weapons field, the shelter program would not protect more than a small fraction of the population.

Space Age Offers New Business—The Space Age offers new opportunities for business and industry. Today, defense industries are shifting gears to make transitions to Space Age challenges. The production of rockets, missiles, and other hardware for space exploration, for both military and scientific purposes, will open new opportunities for prime and sub-contracting. A major task is to make sure that small business in Maryland and elsewhere gets its fair share of a new defense and other contracts.

Is The Older Worker Superior?—Maryland's Department of Employment Security, affiliated with the U. S. Employment Service, has mailed to several thousand Maryland employers a pamphlet concerning the employment of older workers. The Employment Service rejects scrapping an argument for older worker hiring and presses home the argument that it is good business to hire workers on the basis of their ability, re-

WEEKLY SERMON

CARELESSNESS IS DANGEROUS!

Surely we do not give very much serious thought about some very important matters. This carelessness was demonstrated when a donkey's name was placed on a ballot and people voted for the donkey. Boston Curtis, the donkey, won the election for commiteeman! In the west someone circulated a petition for the Mayor to be hung from the nearest telephone pole. Many people signed it without reading it. Now we realize that such carelessness can be dangerous in politics, but how much more dangerous is such carelessness in matters of religion. Few people are aware that Satan has as many Churches as Christ. They are foolish enough to believe that "all preachers and Churches are alike." They have been lulled into repeating, "we are all headed for the same place so what difference does it make?" Oh, if I could but warn people to check what you hear by an honest handling of the Word of God. The Bible clearly indicates that the end of the age would be a time of great deception. Satan and his hosts and ministers are deceivers. They do not advertise this, but parade themselves as ministers of righteousness. Do not be careless about spiritual things - - your very soul's destiny depends upon being right.

Something Special About Abe Lincoln—As this is the time of year we celebrate Lincoln's birthday, we will be hearing a lot about him. Let's skip the usual things, the things we've heard too often, the things that would set him apart. For the moment, let's forget the speech at Gettysburg, forget the official things, and look at the really important thing about Abraham Lincoln. He came out of nowhere special, his folks were nobody special. Abe was a smart boy, but not too smart. He told funny stories. He was kind. He'd never try to hurt you, or cheat you, or fool you. Young Abe worked at odd jobs and read law books at night. Eventually he found his way into local politics. And it was then that people began to know there was something special about Abe Lincoln.

Abe had a way of growing without changing. So it seemed perfectly natural to find him prancing around the White House in his slippers, putting his feet on a chair when he had a deep one to think about.

Abe Lincoln always did what most people would have done, said what they wanted and thought what they would have thought when they stopped to think about it. He was everybody. Just a fifth taller. To me that is the important thing about Lincoln.

Housing—The Senate took up the Housing Bill the past week. The measure was approved last Monday by the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, of which I am a member. As reported it called for Federal appropriations of $2,025,000,000 over the next six years and permitted a one-half per cent pump in GI mortgage rates. It also authorized construction of 35,000 new public

Ethel Seibert Is Named Tomorrow's Homemaker

Ethel ("Nikki") Seibert has been named Northern's High's 1959 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

A daughter of Mrs. Ethel Seibert, Accident, Ethel will be presented a heart shaped pin, which represents the slogan, "Home is Where the Heart is," at the awards assembly in the spring.

Her examination papers will be entered in competition with those of other schools' winners in the state to name the state Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

"Nikki" is president of the senior class, secretary of Northern's chapter of the Future Nurses of Maryland, and past vice-president of her sophomore class. She was the county spelling bee champion when she was in the ninth grade.

Ethel is a candidate for an academic diploma and maintains a very busy schedule. These classes include personal typing, physics, Latin II, English, problems of democracy, and home economics.

At the present time her examination papers are being prepared along with other school winners in Maryland and a State Homemaker of Tomorrow will soon be announced. The State winner will be awarded a $1,500 college scholarship and an expense-paid educational tour of the nation's capital, Mount Vernon, Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City. The state winner's school will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

A $500 scholarship will be awarded to the state second place.

To the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will go a $5,000 college scholarship.

Ethel, along with most of the senior girls at Northern, took the test on December 2. The program, sponsored by General Mills, is designed to further the dignity and prestige of the American home and to stimulate interest in the art of homemaking. It also helps emphasize the outstanding contributions to the American home being made by high school teachers.

Shirley Frazee Wins First Prize In Bee

Shirley Frazee spelled "nonsance" to win the first Jr. High spelling bee February 18th conducted at Northern in the presence of the student body.

Keith Yoder was second with Linda Savage placing third. First, second, and third place received a gold, silver, and bronze medal respectively. Each constant received a certificate of recognition in spelling.

Students participating were Keith Yoder, Linda Dell, Nancy Matthews, Franc[illegible] Silbert, seventh grade; Linda Savage, Inez Broadwater, Shirley Fra[illegible], Baby Orendorf, eighth grade; Robert Edwards, Maretta Hershberger, Joanne Rattinger and Delbert Broadwater, ninth grade.

The quartet club and Nancy Miller provided the musical entertainment before the bee.

The judges were Mr. Garletts, Mrs. Matthews and Miss Chrisman. The pronouncer was Mr. Johnson. Miss Thacker presented the awards.

Mr. Wilson Is Appointed

Mr. Robert E. Wilson, a new teacher at Northern High School, Cove is filling the vacancy of Mrs. Kolb who was transferred to Accident to teach in the elementary school January 31.

He is teaching core and arts and crafts and is 23 years old and is married. He graduated from Valley High School in 1951, attended Potomac State College, and graduated from Frostburg State Teachers College in January, 1959. He has a B.S. degree in education.

Teen Corner

By DICK CASTELOW

There were many teary long faces at Teen Age Club last week. Why? Well, its kind of like this, we all expected Bob Brinker to be there to spin the platters but he wasn't. This was a real disappointment. I don't think that the fellow who was there was appreciated at all. I can see the point. He somehow lacks the friendliness that Bob Brinker has. Ah, well it's all in the game.

Teen Club being closed this month (March) all except for the 6th is going to be mighty boring.

Listen to Tri-Hi Times with Jack Canfield every Saturday on WKYR Keyser. This show is on from 3:05 til 4:00. All the news from the area high schools is on and a record or two. This week yours truly will be interviewed and the Rovales record will be played.

Many have asked me about our record. Well, it will be released this Saturday. Played over many DJ shows and on sale at the local record store.

There is an album out that I really like, in fact, I saved nickels until I could buy it. That is The Platters new album of old songs. The title is "REMEMBER WHEN". this LP is one of the best that I have every heard. "Smoke Gets in Yours Eyes" was one of the ones recorded for this LP. It sounded so good that it came out by itself and sold over a million copies. Well I love the Platters anyway. They show more originality than any group today.

The Fabian Fan Club is really coming on. The regional president, Kathy Gonder tells me that there are over three hundred members. Upon asking Kathy about joining requirements she said, "You just gotta like Fabian." She also extended an invitation to anyone anywhere who would like to join to contact her.

Listen to "Teen Corner" discussed this week on Tri Hi Times.

MARRIED

Rafferty-Weimer—The marriage of Miss Rita Ann Weimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Weimer, of Avilton, to Charles Edward Rafferty, son of Mr and Mrs. Charles P. Rafferty, Frostburg, took place December 27, in St. Ann's Catholic church, Avilton. Rev. Fidelis McMamus officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with chrysanthemums and greenery. Peter Schumacher played the traditional wedding marches.

The wedding party included Miss Louise Weimer, maid of honor, Miss Donna Weimer, and Miss Norene Rafferty, bridemaids, and Catherine and Joyce Weimer, as flowers girls. William Weimer was best man. James Weimer and John Rafferty were ushers and Russell Jeffries was ring bearer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of lace and ruffled net over satin, styled with Sabrina neckline scalloped around the edge with seed pearls, and long tapered sleeves. Her fingertip veil fell from a headdress of Chantilly lace attached in a double petal crown and she carried a prayer book topped with an orchid with satin streamers.

A reception followed in the church hall. Mrs. Doris Weimer served the cake and Miss Hilda Jane Rafferty and Miss Ruby Miller presided at the punch bowls. Miss Louise Weimer was in charge of the guest book.

The bride, a graduate of Northern High school, is employed at the Grantsville Shirt company. The groom, a graduate of Beall High school, is employed by the Kelly-Springfield Tire company. They are residing in Grantsville.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Is this lighthouse built on sand? Seemingly so! All you can see at its base is sand.

Actually this towering structure is built on rock. Underneath these dunes of sand is a rocky ledge, firm and enduring. The sand may be carried away by sea or wind, but this lighthouse will stand secure. There's a rock, a firm foundation, underneath!

Some people look at the Church and see only sand. They see the shifting sands—of custom—and fashion—and passing personalities pile up and wash away around the Church. "Why is it still standing?" they ask—for they see only sand.

The Church would have fallen long ago were it built on anything so fickle as fashion, so casual as custom, so impermanent as mere people. The Church is built on rock, firm and enduring. It will stand secure for all ages, shedding light and imparting strength to all who are guided by it. It stands on the "Rock of Ages," the divine personality of Jesus Christ and His message of hope for all mankind.

The Great Refusal

Lesson for March 1, 1959

A DOUBLE meaning can be found in some of Jesus' parables. A triple meaning, if you include the simple literal words of the stories. For instance, take the parable which in old-fashioned English is called the parable of the Wicked Husbandmen. In more modern English it would be the story of the Wicked Tenant Farmers. The first and simple meaning is just the story. Like so many that Jesus told, this one both sounds as if it might have actually happened, and as if it were too fantastic ever to happen. It is the story of a farm owner who tried to collect from his tenants. But they beat up all his agents, one after another. Finally the owner sent his son. But this only stirred the tenants to murder. If we kill the man's only son, they said to each other, then the vineyard will be ours. So they killed him.

Dr. Foreman

Shadow of Calvary

Jesus ended his blunt, ugly tale with a question. What will the owner do next? His hearers knew. The least the tenants could expect would be to lose their places. But more likely the owner would destroy them. Their murder would come back on their own heads.

So much for the story itself. But it was more than a story; that is, there was a meaning under its surface. It is on record that the leading citizen to whom Jesus told this tale of brutality and madness, immediately made plans to arrest him. They saw that Jesus was speaking about them. This was no simple rural Who-done-it. It was a sword-thrust, a stern prophecy, and they did not like it, nor him. These men, you might say, where parable-experts, parabolists (sic) themselves. They saw in a flash what the Man from Galilee was driving at. The owner of the vineyard was God; the tenant farmers were themselves. The vineyard was the Kingdom of God, with all its powers and privileges. God had entrusted the Jewish people, and especially their leaders and teachers, these chief priests and scribes among them, with his truth, his laws, the knowledge of his will. But instead of blessing the earth with these his gifts, they had tried selfishly to keep them for their very own. They had mistreated God's messengers the prophets. Now God's son was in their presence . . . but murder was in their minds.

One of the most chilling things Jesus ever said was his last word to these men who were plotting his death. "The Kingdom of God will be taken away from you," he said. That was a shocker. Every Jew grew up believing that his people had the exclusive right to the Kingdom and to the favor of God. Gentiles were no better than dogs. But here Jesus pronounces sentence on their failure. Not "—may be taken away," but "—will be taken away." By rejecting him they proved themselves unworthy. But then what? Who would be the Bearers of the Kingdom? It will be given, Jesus said, "to a nation producing the fruits of it." What nation? Rome, the British Empire, the United States? One thing is clear: No race and no nation have any exclusive rights to the Kingdom: no exclusive right to be the Headquarters of God?

The Tragic Pattern

But with this last word of Jesus a third depth of meaning in this parable comes to light. Jesus was not only predicting his own death at the hands of those who should have made him most welcome; and not only predicting the passing of the Kingdom of God out into the world. He was suggesting a tragic pattern which has been repeated over and over again in history. Those wicked tenants are not merely certain priests in long-ago Jerusalem, they are the Refusers of God everywhere and at all times. God gives to man so much, and demands (comparatively) so little; like the owner in the parable. But man, confronted by God, makes over and over again the Great Refusal. Man wants the earth for himself, he does not want to share it even with the Creator. But men who refuse God are in reality not destroying him; they are destroying themselves.

Tractor Maintenance Workshop Planned

The 4-H Tractor Maintenance Program was started in 1944 with the purpose to give boys the opportunity to "Learn By Doing" said Mr. Guy Grenger Extension Agriculture Engineer, at a dinner meeting on February 19 of Garrett and Allegany 4-H'ers and interested tractor dealers.

Better tractor care results in longer tractor life, more power and lower operating costs, according to Mr Sherard Wilson, Maryland State 4-H Club Agent. He said that this is because a 4-H'er learns how to do many small but important tractor maintenance jobs and, therefore, will get greater production from farm power units and cut down on costly breakdowns.

Those attending this meeting included: Gary Frantz, Grantsville; Roger Peltzel and Dale Glotfelty of Bittner; Mason Glotfelty, Ford Tractor representative, Oakland; Ralph Miller, Allis Chalmer representative of Springs, Pa.; Paul S. Stull, Oakland; and E. Rankin Lusby, Asst. County Agent.

American Oil Company, who sponsors the 4-H Tractor Program by providing record books and awards, was represented by Mr. Charles Hess.

Awards in the form of 4-H tie clips were presented to Paul Stull and Dale Glotfelty for serving as a 4-H leader for four or more years.

Fourteen farm accidents—one in Garrett, involving the use of tractors have been reported in Maryland from the first of September to January 1. This was pointed out by Mr. Grenger in a flannelgraph display to show the need for further tractor work in the field of safety.

Plans are being developed to have tractor maintenance workshops in various communities throughout the county if there is enough interest. Any person who is interested in participating in such an activity is requested to contact E. Rankin Lusby at De-4-2525.

Is It True What They Say?—Some of our citizens are asking: "Is the truth about Russia somewhere about midway between what they say and what we say?" The answer to that question is an emphatic "No!"

Available evidence bears out the postulate that virtually all reports and statistics from the Soviets are exaggerated. An example of their propaganda is found in a statistical table just published by the Kremlin—for Western consumption and for the Russian public—which attempts to prove that in 1965 every Russian will consume twice as many calories per day as he does now. The natural question is: Are the Russians half-starved now? If they are eating enough now, would not the consumption of twice as many calories cause the populace to die of overeating.

In a new 10-page commentary, our State Department has challenged Russian statistics aimed at supporting extravagant claims of economic gains. The Department says that the people of the Free World who do not have the time to distill the figures and statistical boasts, issuing from the Kremlin, should "remember that Soviet statistics are not always what they seem, and that many of the boasts are quickly forgotten after their initial head-line seeking impact."

On the other hand, it is a well-known fact that we Americans lean over backwards to keep our reports in line with the facts. It sometimes seems that we are afraid to put our best foot forward. We can believe confidently and without reservation in the reports of our State Department.

Indian Head Million-Dollar Contract—The Navy has just awarded a 1-million-dollar contract for architectural and engineering services at the U. S. Naval Propellant Plant at Indian Head, Maryland. The contract calls for the preparation of designs and specifications for structures and equipment which will provide facilities for pilot line assembly and loading of double-base propellant motors (for possible use in the Polaris ballistic missiles). This motor is being developed at the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Cumberland, Maryland, which is operated for the Navy's Bureau of Ordnance by the Hercules Powder Company. The total cost of the new program at Indian Head, including equipment, is expected to be approximately 8 million dollars.

Some of the propellant ingredients required by the Cumberland laboratory are now being produced at Indian Head.

Lincoln Day Dinners—Nearly all of our Republican county organizations in Maryand celebrated the 150th birthday of Abraham Lincoln this year with the usual Lincoln Day dinner meetings. The list of speakers for Maryland included: Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn; Republican Leader of the U. S. House of Representatives Charles Halleck; U. S. Senator Andrew Schoeppel of Kansas, Chairman of the Minority Committee on Committees and former Chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee; U. S. Senator Kenneth Keating of New York, who though a Republican, gained his seat in the Senate in the recent Democratic landslide and other nationally prominent Republicans.

Lithuanian Independence Day—Monday of this past week was the 41st anniversary of the independence of the gallant little nation of Lithuania, free for only 22 years and then swallowed up by the U. S. S. R., and, in recognition, I inserted a statement in the Congressional Record about Lithuania's rightful place in the family of free nations, and about her inspiring resistance and unconquered spirit. We can never rest until freedom is restored to all people now living in Communist captivity.

Area Redevelopment Hearings—A subcommittee of our Senate Committee on Banking and Currency has scheduled hearings the latter part of this week on the Area Redevelopment Bill which I co-sponsored.

Character of Population Changing—As the population keeps expanding, the character of the population is changing year by year, a new Census Bureau report tells us. For what it is worth, here are two outstanding changes since 1950:

Color: The nonwhite population has been growing faster than the white population. In eight years, the number of nonwhites jumped from 15.8 million to 19.3 million, a gain of 22 per cent. The white population in the same period increased from 135.3 million, a gain of about 11 per cent.

Sex: Women outnumbered men by an increasing margin. There were about 500,000 more women than men in 1950. Now, there are 1,700,000 more women than men.

Weather—Two items of interest this past week concern weather:

1. The successful launching of a "weather satellite", to circle the earth approximately every two hours, sending back weather data.

2. The testimony of National Science Foundation Associate Director Robert Brode before a Congressional committee to the effect that weather control on a vast scale—if possible at all—would be extremely difficult and would not be achieved in the near future.

WHEN MOUNT SINAI WAS ON FIRE

(This story is based on Exodus 19 and 20)

HELLO BOYS AND GIRLS! Do you remember what it was like last winter when because of the heavy snow storm, thousands of homes were suddenly deprived of electricity and all the conveniences and gadgets that are dependent upon it? It helped us to realize as perhaps never before what a blessing to the world electricity is. And yet, if you break one of its laws, this same electricity can really hurt you, or even kill you.

This, boys and girls, helps to illustrate the truth about a greater and far more exalted law; namely, the Law of God, or the Ten Commandments. It brings untold blessings to us if we obey it, and much needless sorrow, misery, and even death when we disobey it. In fact, the only reason why there is so much trouble in the world today, is because folks everywhere, both big and little, are breaking that holy and perfect Law, by lying, disobeying their parents, stealing, killing, etc., etc.

Did you know that the laws governing the more civilized nations, ours included, are based on this same Ten Commandment Law? In fact, we can tell the character of a country by the kind of laws it has, can we not? And so, as we study the Ten Commandments we can tell what kind of a God we are worshipping; for He not only spoke these Commandments, but actually wrote them with his own finger upon two tables of stone.

To impress upon us the great importance of these Ten Commandments, God proclaimed them amidst the most dramatic and awful grandeur. Moses was commanded to "set bounds" round about the mount, for no one was even to touch the mount. And we read that "mount Sinai was altogether on a smoke, because the Lord descended upon it in fire: and the smoke thereof ascended as the smoke of a furnace, and the whole mount quaked greatly."

"There were thunders and lightnings, and a thick cloud upon the mount, (Sinai) and the voice of the trumpet" (coming from the cloud was) "exceeding loud; so that all the people...in the camp trembled." Then the thunder and lightning, and the voice of the trumpet ceased, and God's voice, loud and clear, was heard as He spoke the Ten Commandments. Yes, God Himself talked with men from heaven. The rest of the Bible was given us through holy men of old, the prophets, but the Ten Commandments, which are so important to the happiness and welfare of all of us, God did not intrust to any one. Do you know these Commandments from memory? We all should, and repeat them often, asking the Lord to help us to keep them, for without His help we cannot be pure, upright, honest, and noble in character. Therefore, "Ask, and ye shall receive."

What do we mean by

Ford "DOUBLE VALUE"?

1. It can mean the beginning of a whole new way of life . . . in a car especially built for people!

Everywhere, the 59 Ford is recognized as the World's Most Beautifully Proportioned Car. Yet many people are just now discovering that Ford is beautifully proportioned inside as well as out.

2. All of your passengers—including the "man in the middle" get a full-cushioned ride, full head room, full leg room.

Every seat has full-depth springing and cushioning in a Ford. And all seats are high enough so you and all your passengers sit normally, ride comfortably!

3. You and everyone who rides with you can keep hats on . . . can enter and leave with ease.

Ford door openings are extra wide. And front doors stay open when you want them to, thanks to Ford's exclusive 2-stage door checks.

4. You get a full-sized roof which shades all passengers from the sun. You get a full-sized, easy-to-reach trunk, too!

Everyone has a roof over his head in a Ford. And there's no need to stand on tiptoe to load Ford's trunk!

5. It can mean tremendous savings—right from the start. Because Ford is built for savings, too!

Check the price tag, you'll see! Ford is priced lowest of the most popular three. And the low Ford price is just the beginning of Ford savings.

6. You can expect to save as much as $1 on every tank of gas . . . go more miles between oil changes!

Whether you choose a Six or Thunderbird V-8, both standard Ford engines thrive on "regular" gas—saving you up to a dollar a tankful. And with Ford's standard full-flow oil filtration, you save on oil changes, too!

7. You can forget about waxing the Diamond Lustre Finish. It'll never need it!

While many cars offer finishes which need waxing frequently, Ford's brand-new Diamond Lustre brings you a true no-wax finish.

8. And you can expect Ford's new aluminized muffler to last twice as long!

Why not get the full Ford savings story this week. Once you do—and hear our double-value deal—we bet you, too, will want to join the big swing to the 59 Ford.

So start getting double the value today in
